HERO'S WELCOME FOR COOPER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper, beaming with joy and drawling out thanks, received a tumultuous hero's welcome in the nation's capital today. President John F. Kennedy said he proved that "man is still the most extraordinary computer of all."

In a day of great personal triumph for the 36-year-old Oklahoman, who was the youngest and last of the original astronauts to fly, Cooper was honored by the chief executive, congress and the pepole for his spectacular 22.9-orbit trip around earth.

"Thank y'all very much," he drawled to Kennedy after being presented with a space medal in the White House rose garden.

"You can't imagine what an honor it is to be here," he told senators and representatives who jammed like sardines into the House chamber to hear him speak and then gave him a three-minute ovation.

It was a day of glory that he shared with his wife and two daughters, his mother and six of the astronauts who blazed America's path into space. The seventh, John H. Glenn Jr., was in Japan, but President Kennedy said he is "with us in spirit."

Cooper, in his address to Congress, also told something of the faith that helped sustain him during his lonely flight in space.

He said he named his space craft Faith 7 because of his belief in God, his loyalty to his organization and his confidence in the entire space team.

He went on to say that he was "not much of a preacher" but that he took

Belvedere Annex Pros, Cons Aired

Planners Want To Know How Much Plan To Cost

By CORENA GREEN

It was the Belvedere Planning Commission's turn last night to have a go at the proposal to annex part of Tiburon to Belvedere.

By the end of the meeting, after many pro and con speeches and some interesting developments, the commission decided it was without sufficient facts to make a recommendation to the Belvedere City Council.

"Do we know the cost of servicing this area?" asked Chairman E. K. Allison.

"To a certain extent," replied City Mgr. Britton Rey.

"That doesn't mean anything to me," said Commissioner Leslie Graham.

Commissioners Graham and George V. Banning were appointed to meet with council representatives to learn the answers to these questions: What will it cost Belvedere to annex the area? What extra services will be required? What is the revenue expected to accrue to Belvedere?

REPORT DUE

The committee will report at an adjourned commission meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the Belvedere Community Hall.

Allison pressed Fred G. Zelinsky why he had placed the boundary line where it was. Zelinsky said he originally had not included so much but on recommendation of City Atty. William H. MacKay and Rey, the area was expanded.

Allison was unsatisfied with Zelinsky's explanation.

Charles Tijerina, who has a piece of property in the proposed area and is opposing the annexation, said he and Fred Mantegani would offer the rest of their property for annexation at the next meeting. "And the rest of the hill if you wish," added Mantegani.

WILL TAKE THOUGHT

"Will you accept?" Tijerina asked of city council members present.

"That will take thought," Councilman Sally Mathews answered.

"You haven't given much thought to the present plan. There is nothing else we can do but request annexation. The minute you annex this area our fire rate will go up and we can't afford it," Tijerino declared.

"We have put the Tiburon Peninsula in trouble with respect to their incorporation. It is to our advantage for Tiburon to develop properly," said Banning.

EXPECTS BUSINESS

Zelinsky claimed Safeway Stores expect to do one and one-half million dollars business the first year and two and one-half the second. He predicted the full development of the area proposed for annexation, including 30 stores, an apartment and perhaps a motel, would bring in eventually 10 million.

Herbert H. Scheier, spectator, reminded the commission that not a penny would be realized by the city from food sold. He also noted that owners of property to be annexed are not liable for prior indebtedness of a city unless the writ-

Russ Propose U.S. Remove A-Weapons

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Russia has proposed to the United States that nuclear weapons be removed from "the entire Mediterranean Sea," officials disclosed today.

The proposal was contained in a note delivered by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin to Undersecretary of State George W. Ball yesterday.

Officials said it called for a nuclear-free Mediterranean, a proposal Russia apparently has not made in such terms before.

The move appeared directed almost entirely at the deployment of U. S. nuclear powered Polaris missile-firing submarines in the Mediterranean.

The United States announced earlier this year that it was withdrawing Jupiter missiles from Italy and Turkey and replacing them with three missile firing submarines on Mediterranean duty.

New Third Street Light Poles Proposed

NEW LOOK IN POLE LINES—This is artist's conception of how Third Street in San Rafael from Union Street to Embarcadero would look with new pole design proposed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Something new in pole lines was proposed last night for the portion of San Rafael's Third Street now being widened.

George Henderson, San Rafael manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., proposed that in lieu of placing lines underground, his firm would install steel poles that look like electroliers — and in fact would carry street lights. Three overhead wires would be strung on these poles, which would be in the center island of the street. Service connections would go underground.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. is prepared to put its Third Street cables underground down the divider strip.

Henderson's proposal resulted from two meetings of utility company representatives with city public works department officials. PG&E objected that complete underground installation would cost $80,000 for the two blocks. Two more meetings will be needed to iron out details, he said.

One detail that arose last night was the question of what happens to the city's fire alarm lines, now strung from the utility poles. Henderson said they could not be placed on the steel poles. Donald Stephenson of Pacific Telephone said they might be placed in a telephone duct, but "this possibly would cause us quite a problem."

The council approved the PG&E idea, if details can be worked out satisfactorily. Henderson said the new poles had been designed for new subdivisions, and this would be their first use in a major established street.

"We're ready to go ahead any time," he said.

Two More Quit County Schools —Resignations Now 27 For Year

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Two more persons have quit their jobs with the Marin County Schools office, and a third is threatening to go.

Resignations from the office disclosed during the past two weeks now number 11.

Further charges of "passing the buck," ineptitude and general confusion among the schools office administration were made yesterday by 16 other employees who left their jobs with the office within the past year, bringing the total departures to 27.

The latest resignation came from Harold J. Simpson, a guidance consultant with the pupil personnel services department. Simpson declined comment on the reasons for his resignation, saying he will write them to Supt. Virgil S. Hollis later this week.

Mrs. Bernice Hallenbarther, secretary in the instructional materials center, also has resigned. Her resignation is the third in the four-employee department. Others who left are Charles J. Vento, director, and Margaret Anne Travis, also a secretary.

Mrs. Hallenbarter declined to comment on her resignation. Friends, however, said she had planned to leave for some time and her departure was probably not connected with the mass exit.

Some of those who quit in past months were more willing to talk.

"When I quit, the administrators handed me a letter of resignation all typed out and asked me to sign it," said Royal E. Druba, who worked from 1960 to January, 1962, as supervisor of transportation and maintenance.

"George Emmons (director of business services) told me I'd never get another job in the county if I didn't cooperate. I told them I was a retired Army officer and didn't need their job or their recommendation.

"I refused to sign their let-

Gov. Brown Signs Into Law Package Welfare Measure

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown swiftly signed into law today a welfare package bill which will push California's welfare spending over the one billion-dollar mark.

Given final passage only yesterday, the measure was rushed to the governor for his signature to make the state eligible for an additional $60,000 a day in federal aid.

Brown called it "the most important single piece of welfare legislation which has been adopted durng my administration."

The bill will eventually boost welfare expenditures by some 128 million dollars a year. At the outset, it wll cost the state 28 million dollars—but counties will save 21.3 million dollars.

Highlights of the provisions:

Bring in federal funds, to be matched by the counties, to pay medical expenses of qualified persons over 65 for the first 30 days of their illness. Aid is now delayed until the 31st day.

Extend aid to needy children of unemployed fathers. Brown said studies showed jobless fathers would leave their families as a last resort so the youngsters could qualify for assistance.

Widen the definition of disability in the aid to the totally disabled and provide rehabilitation service for these people.

Allow aid in emergency cases. At present, the governor noted that even hardship cases must wait until all the paperwork has been done.

Sponsors To Push For Motorist Tax Increase

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sponsors got the go-ahead today to push for early passage of legislation boosting California's motorist taxes by 70 million dollars a year.

The Senate-approved bill sailed through the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee yesterday after it accepted amendments that could raise another 30 million dollars for rapid transit.

The measure calls for an increase in the gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon, a step-up in vehicle registration fees from $8 to $9 and a 19 per cent jump in truck weight fees.

The revenues are earmarked for improvement of city streets and county roads. But cities and counties can use their share for rapid transit — or counties could increase the motor vehicle in-lieu tax by one-half of 1 per cent for that purpose.

The governor originally opposed the bill, saying he was pledged to no new taxes this year.

The bill goes next to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, then to the House floor. If, as expected, the Assembly passes it, Collier has predicted the Senate will accept the new terms.

Powers May Quit Mercury Team

HOUSTON (UPI)—Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers, reported to be on the way out of the project Mercury team, was expected to arrive here today instead of going to Washington with space hero L. Gordon Cooper.

Powers

Powers would not confirm or deny a story in a Houston newspaper yesterday that said he intends to resign. He said he might make an announcement by Friday.

Powers said from Cape Canaveral yesterday that he did not intend to go to Washington or to take part in any of the festivities arranged for Cooper.

The newspaper story from Cape Canaveral quoted high officials as saying that Powers intends to announce his resignation soon.

U.S.-Russ A-Energy Pact Extended

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union signed a memorandum today extending for two years their agreement to exchange information and specialists on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The agreement was signed by Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, and Andronik Petrosyants, chairman of the Soviet State Committee for Utilization of Atomic Energy.

Jet Airliner Sets More Records

The Air Force Boeing 707 flew the 5,004 miles in 9 hours 53 minutes and 52 seconds.

Revolt In Turkey Is Crushed

Aydemir

Radio Ankara announced the proclamation of martial law in three cities —Ankara, Istanbul and Izmir.

The revolt, headed by ex-Col. Talat Aydemir, lasted less than 12 hours. Among forces backing him were cadets of the war college, Turkey's West Point.

Radio Ankara announced Aydemir and 10 other top insurgents were arrested. They are expected to be tried shortly.

Seven persons were reported killed and 23 wounded during fighting in the capital. Most of them fell when government forces attacked cadets who defied an ultimatum to return to their barracks and surrender.

Everest Climber Had No Oxygen

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—James W. Whittaker, first American to conquer Mount Everest, had to struggle down from the world's highest peak for three and a half hours without oxygen, he disclosed yesterday.

Whittaker

Whittaker, 32, of Redmond, Wash., was accompanied by Nepalese Sherpa guide Nowang Gombu on the successful summit assault May 1.

Details of the climb were made known in Whittaker's first personal radio transmission to Katmandu.

The broadcast also brought word that a five-man team attempting to scale the unexplored west ridge of Mount Everest would be "very, very lucky" to reach the summit but another team was proceeding on schedule by the relatively familiar South Col route.

Africa Nations Strive For Unity

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI)—Hopes revived today that the 31 nations of Africa might lay the groundwork for a single, unifying organization at their summit meeting beginning here tomorrow.

The African countries now are generally divided into two groupings, the "Casablanca powers" and the "Monrovia group." Each has introduced a draft charter for an African organization at preliminary meetings here.

But last night Senegalese foreign minister Doudou Thiam, spokesman for the 31 foreign ministers, said they had agreed to present an Ethiopian draft to the summit as the main basis for discussion.

New Israel President Elected

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Russian-born Zalman Shazar, one of the pioneering early settlers to what now is Israel, today was elected the nation's third president.

The 73-year-old Shazar, a writer, scholar, and former government official, succeeded his lifelong friend, the late Izhak Ben-Zvi, who died last month. Israel's first president was the late Chaim Weizmann.

The knesset or parliament elects Israel's presidents, who have largely ceremonial duties. Political power is exercised by the premier, now David Ben Gurion.

Russ Killed In Cuba

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI)—Cuban refugee sources said last night anti-Castro raiders killed two Russian soldiers and wounded six in a clash near the Nicaro nickel mines in Cuba.

A spokesman for the refugee "Student Revolutionary Directorate" said four Castroite militiamen also were killed and seven wounded by the raiders. Twelve anti-Castroites captured in the clash are believed to have been executed, the spokesman said.

Segregation Problem

The legion's executive committee faced the task of finding a new site for the convention, which had been set for Sept. 6-12.

Gov. Wallace Eying Presidency?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was described today as knowing that in Gov. George Wallace of Alabama he is dealing with a man who hopes to take the South away from him in 1964.

A close associate said the president is aware that Wallace hopes to hold himself out as a martyr to Southern segregationists by a dramatic stand against segregation at the University of Alabama.

This could come either at the university branch in Huntsville in June or on the Tuscaloosa campus next September. In either setting, those who know him well say they expect the governor to carry out his repeated pledge personally to block the doorway against admission of a Negro student.

It apparently would fit the governor's political purpose if he were arrested by U. S. marshals. But the assumption is that news pictures showing U. S. officials jostling him aside would do about as well.

According to one of those present, Kennedy got the governor's personal pledge in a brief helicopter confrontation last Saturday that local and state civilian authorities would maintain law and order in Birmingham.

Saying that nothing could please him more, the president replied that he would not use federal troops dispatched to military reservations in Alabama unless there were fresh and uncontrolled racial disturbances.

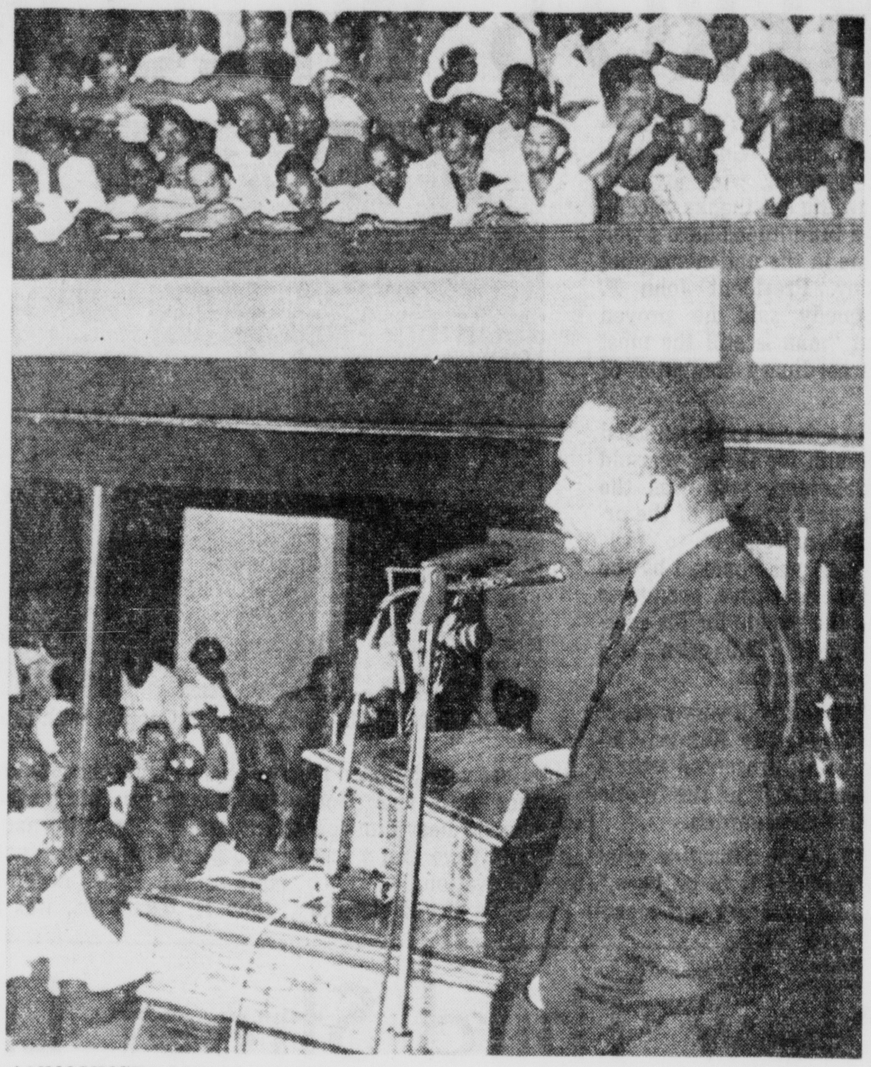
But the president made it plain he would use federal force if necessary to maintain the rights of Negroes to peaceably assembly and petition.

Nothing was said about the prospective forthcoming university showdown.

But national Democratic officials are convinced this action will be the forerunner of an effort by the governor to keep Kennedy's name off the 1964 party ballot in Alabama—and as many other Dixie states as will go along with the idea.

In Alabama the Democratic state committee, which the governor controls, could designate a slate of electors pledged to Wallace, as officially uninstructed, to carry the party emblem on the November ballot. Kennedy electors presumably could be put on the ballot too, without the Democratic party designation.

In conference he has held with some Southern senators, Wallace has outlined plans to run for president. He has expressed the belief that he could sweep the South and throw a close election into the House of Representatives.



ANNOUNCES LEGAL FIGHT—Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., tells a Negro mass meeting in Birmingham, Ala., last night that legal means will be used to fight a school board order expelling or suspending more than 1,000 Negro students who demonstrated against segregation. (AP Wirephoto)

Negroes To Fight In Court Against Order Of Expulsion

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Negro leaders say they will go to federal court in efforts to void a Birmingham school board order to expel or suspend more than 1,000 Negro pupils who demonstrated against segregation.

The school board's action yesterday was not unexpected, and Negro leaders said they planned to fight the move only by legal means.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said on his return from Atlanta, "We will not call for a mass walkout or boycott of the schools, nor will we call for a renewal of demonstrations at this point."

After a meeting with other integration leaders, King said, "We will not seek to correct an unwise act by moving hastily into another unwise act."

The decision by the Negro leaders saved a shaky biracial agreement which had been threatened by the school board's handling of the dispute.

"We know there are certain forces in Birmingham trying to sabotage this agreement," King said.

He called the board's action "a tragic move, immoral . . . a dastardly act."

In a letter to school principals, Supt. Theo Wright ordered immediate expulsion of pupil participants over 16 and suspension of those under 16. It affects 1,081 pupils arrested in protest marches over the past several weeks.

A school board spokesman said the action was in keeping with the board's policy on truancy.

On another front, Commissioner-Mayor Arthur Hanes called a Superem Court decision outlawing city and state interference in sit-in demonstrations "an accommodation for those arrested here."

"It seems to me that any person in business does not now have that old traditional right to refuse service to anyone he desires," Hanes said. "It seems that all bars are lowered."

There were these other developments:

University of Alabama trustees asked U.S. District Judge H. Hobart Grooms to delay admittance of Negroes to the university at Tuscaloosa until racial unrest in the state has improved.

A Negro voter registration drive at Selma, Ala., about 100 miles southwest of Birmingham, failed to produce hoped-for masses of Negroes, but a campaign leader said the turnout of about 38 still was encouraging.

Principal Hiring Is Due Novato School Trustees

Hiring of principals for the Novato High School and Hill Junior High School will come before the Novato Unified School District board at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

Robert McKeay, principal of the high school since its beginning, and Robert Patterson, principal of Mill Junior High School, have resigned to take other assignments.

Dr. Edward Anderson of Booz, Allen and Hamilton will report on progress of a study of organization Novato Unified, San Jose and Dixie Elementary, and San Rafael Elementary and High School districts.

The board will open bids on remodeling the high school and discuss salary schedules for administrative and non-teaching personnel.

U.S., MART REACH ACCORD ON TARIFF

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and the Common Market countries reached a compromise in tariff talks today, pulling the GATT ministerial conference back from the brink of failure.

The Common Market accepted the American principle that tariffs must be cut "across the board," or evenly on all products, informed sources said.

In turn, the Americans agreed that distortion of trade caused by high tariffs which still remain after cuts may be examined.

Final details of the compromise still were being worked out. But a resolution embodying the two views was expected to be voted in a plenary session of the general agreement on tariffs and trade (GATT).

An American spokesman said "we are more optimistic than at any time since the negotiations began."

As the Europeans met for what promised to be their final discussion, spokesman Maurice Brasseur, the Belgian foreign trade minister, said "we have almost reached agreement."

Here's Chance To Dial In Behind The Scenes

Marin County telephone users will see what's behind their dial telephone system and get a preview of communications in the future at a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. open house in San Rafael tomorrow, Thursday and Friday evenings.

J. D. La Noue, PT&T district manager, announced the public is invited to tour the firm's new three-million-dollar central office at 220 Shaver Street, from 4 to 10 p.m. each of the three days.

Visitors will look behind the scenes at the new long distance dialing equipment center that serves all of Marin County. The facility, which went into service last fall, hooked Belvedere, Bolinas-Stinson Beach, Ignacio, Inverness, Nicasio, and Point Reyes into the nationwide "direct distance dialing" network. It also provided dial "1" for long-distance calls.

Highlighting the open house will be a huge scientific trailer, loaded with communications marvels of the past, present and future. Conducting tours through the exhibit on wheels will be two PT&T employees, Valerie Valentino and Peggy Mayer.

The trailer contains a variety of displays tracing the evolution of the telephone, starting with replicas of sets used by Alexander Graham Bell to Telstar, the Bell System's communications satellite.

Other exhibits show push-button telephones, and phonovision, which transmits a picture as well as the sound. There is also a demonstration of the optical maser, an experimental method of carrying all kinds of communications by means of a light beam.

Maritime Day Essay Winners Are Announced

Leslie Celeste Leonardi of Marin Catholic High School and Mark DeSmet of Tamalpais High School have won sea trips as regional first prize winners in the National Maritime Day essay contest.

Miss Leonardi is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Leonardi, 355 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael. DeSmet is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeSmet, 75 Rancho Drive, Mill Valley.

The type of trip they won will be announced tomorrow at a luncheon in San Francisco.

Sue Binford of Novato High School received honorable mention, an achievement certificate and a pen and pencil set.

The contest was sponsored by the Propeller Club of the United States as part of the observance of National Maritime Day tomorrow.

Miss Leonardi and DeSmet, along with eight other regional winners from Northern California, were honored at a luncheon today aboard the S. S. Golden Bear in San Francisco and given a tour of the bay. Tonight they will attend a dinner at the Hunter's Point Officers' Club and the Giants-Phillies baseball game at Candlestick Park.

All students wrote on the subject "American Ships in the Expanded Trade Program."

Dixie Role In Unification Due Discussion

Dixie School District's role in possible unification plans for North Marin school districts will be discussed tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Mary E. Silveira School by Edward Anderson of the consulting firm Booz, Allen and Hamilton.

The firm is studying unification proposals for the Dixie, San Jose, Novato and San Rafael school districts and the Marin County Committee on School District Organization. Anderson will report on the study's progress to date, with specific information on Dixie.

District Supt. Dennie B. Willis said other matters to be considered at the board's meeting include reports on testing and speech programs, appointment of summer school teachers, and a salary schedule for principals.

The median age of the United States population at the time of the 1960 census was 29.5 years.

time over the Indian Ocean during his 17th orbit to tape record a prayer in which he which he thanked God "for letting me be in this position" and "seeing these stars You have created."

He said he also asked God to help Americans work with one another to make his and future space flights a success and "to be with all our families."

Starting just before noon and going on into the afternoon, the Major was honored and feted by the great and the small. Police estimated that 250,000 persons lined Pennsylvania Avenue to watch him parade to capitol hill.

Kennedy, at the White House, paid tribute to Cooper and the original seven astronauts as "a very distinguished group of Americans.

He said that "in this rather settled society, (they) demonstrated that there are great frontiers still to be crossed, and in flying through space have carried with them the wishes, the prayers, the hopes and the pride of 180 million of their fellow countrymen."

Cooper, the recipient of the praise, accepted his honors modestly. But in the 20-minute drive to the capitol his face broke out in an almost continuous grin as he waved to the thousands and reacted to the youngsters dashing out of the lines to touch him.

As a man who has conquered space, he did not seem overawed by the assemblage of military leaders, supreme court justices and congressmen who greeted him with a three-minute ovation at the House.

On his return to Honolulu from the carrier Kearsarge after his landing from space, he told his audience, he flew over the battleship Arizona which was sunk by the Japanese in the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor.

"I thought of the many thousands of American military men who have fought and died, are still fighting and dying, and will in the future fight and die that we may have a free country," he said.

Novato High Seniors To Hamilton Base

Approximately 60 Novato High School seniors toured Hamilton Air Force Base this afternoon.

The tour was sponsored by the military affairs and education committees of the Novato Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Novato High School and Hamilton Air Force Base.

Tam Fire Unit

Tamalpais Fire Protection District commissioners last night discussed the 1963-64 preliminary budget but took no action, Chairman John G. Donhoff said today. They adjourned to May 27 to discuss the budget further.

Pumper Bids Opened

Bids on a new pumper were opened at last night's meeting of the Tiburon Fire Protection District commission. Acceptance of a bid was postponed until the June 3 meeting to permit checking of the specifications.

Two More Aides Quit County School Posts

ter and wrote my own. This was later covered up by Mr. Hollis and Mr. (Edward R.) Credell. I was hoping the school board would have some comments, but I heard nothing." Credell is assistant superintendent.

Druba, now a real estate salesman with Garl-Rosenberg Realty in Novato, said he quit because "we had about 15 disorganized bosses. One would tell you to do something, then the other would. There was a complete lack of cooperation. It was take it or leave it. I left."

Mrs. Jean Moffit, who was assistant secretary in the division of administrative services for about five months, said: "I was handed a blank copy of a merit rating sheet and told to check off my ratings as they read them to me. Then I had to sign.

"The next day I realized what I'd done and went into retract it because it wasn't true, but they said they didn't want me to stay. I did everything to please, and I was never tardy. But they said I was not punctual. No one had said anything to me about my work before they gave me that sheet."

Mrs. Moffitt held for a number of years a job as secretary to the managing editor of the Omaha (Neb.) World Herald.

Mrs. Edward B. Hayden, who was secretary with the administrative staff from August, 1960, to March, 1961, said: "I was told by people on the staff to stop beating my brains out by working so hard. The waste and discouragement of initiative were fantastic. I finally resigned, offering some standard excuse as pressures of home. I don't think the administrators should pass the buck all the way down to the garbage can as they did."

One employee, who refused the use of her name, was described as "too slow" by Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent. She said, however: "There was a backlog of work a year old on the desk of Edwin L. Blackmore, one of my bosses. I was appalled. I just couldn't believe it. I'm very conscientious, but they couldn't have cared less."

Other ex-employees requested anonymity. At least two of the 27 retired; one left because she was pregnant; another is on leave of absence; several left the area. The remainder indicated dissatisfaction with their jobs had caused their resignations. Of the administrators, Kupfer and Vents were the only ones not mentioned in the complaints.

"There no question there has been misunderstanding with the special education teachers," he said. "I'm at a loss to explain some of these things. It's a blow. I've dropped some of my outside duties so I can be closer to this. I'm going to get out and know the staff. That's what I think I'm best at."

Hollis was elected superintendent by a 5,000-vote margin in 1958. He was re-elected last year without opposition.

College Due $225,590 Under Plan

Marin Junior College District would receive $225,590 under a proposal due to be introduced this week in the State Senate to distribute funds for junior college construction approved in last November's election.

The proposal is to be introduced by Sen. Walter Stiern (D-Bakersfield) as an amendment to his SB 1515, which is the administration bill for allocation of the funds.

Under the proposal, College of Marin qualifies for funds in two categories.

It would receive more money, $142,990, under the category of colleges which should continue to grow.

Total allocation oft he 20 million dollars authorized by voters shows $8,867,000 going to the first category and $11,138,900 to the second.

2 Slightly Hurt As Car Hit From Behind

Two women were slightly bruised yesterday when their northbound car was hit from behind as it turned left off Shoreline Highway into Tennessee Valley Road in Tamalpais Valley at 8:25 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Fatrol reported.

Donalee Fey, a teacher, and her passenger, Rochelle Vachrach, both 25 of San Francisco, were to see their doctors. The Fey car was hit by one driven by Rev. Lars F. Williamson, 26, of 370 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, said CHP Officer John Allison.

The first air conditioned private home in the United States was located in Minneapolis, where the system was installed in 1915 by Willis Carrier, inventor of air conditioning.

Point Reyes Man Robbed Of $50; Suspects In Jail

A 42 year-old Point Reyes man was robbed of $50 in cash early today on a lonely stretch of road on Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito, shoved down a hill, and his car stolen.

Two suspects in the robbery of Leonard W. M. Bowman were caught shortly afterwards by sheriff's deputies and placed in county jail by Sausalito police, charged with robbery and car theft.

They are Airman 3c James W. Allison, 20, stationed at Travis Air Force Base, and Navy PO2 Charles D. Swords, 21, stationed aboard the Paul Revere in San Francisco.

Bowman told officer Herbert Smith of Sausalito police that he was en route from San Francisco to Point Reyes station at 4:55 a.m. He picked up the two service men in San Francisco, and asked the airman to drive.

After crossing Golden Gate Bridge, he said, Allison turned the car, a 1962 blue Comet sedan, off the highway and up to the ridge.

The service men immediately demanded Bowman's money, the victim said. "I tried to talk them out of it," he added, but then gave them what he had—between $40 and $50. The pair discussed stealing his ring and watch but decided against this when the Navy man said such items can be traced, Bowman said.

After the robbery, Bowman related, he was "shoved down a small hill into some bushes." The men got in his car and drove off.

Bowman walked down the hill, found his car on the highway near Spencer Avenue with keys in it, and drove southbound. He found the men walking toward San Francisco.

He drove back to Sausalito police station and reported the robbery to Smith, who called for assistance. Sheriff's deputies Ernest Nielsen and Boyd Burnham responded.

Burnham picked up the two men about 50 yards north of Waldo tunnel.

BANK

the disappearance of the bonds have learned that two men, whose identities were not disclosed, deposited several treasury certificates of large denomination-including one of more than one million dollars value—in the Swiss bank.

The newspaper said the State Department is seeking to have the Swiss government lift its customary banking secrecy to establish whether the certificates on deposit are part of those missing from the Federal Reserve Bank vault.

Spokesmen for both the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board said in Washington they were unaware of any new developments concerning the disappearance of the certificates.

Each of the 12 missing certificates, as well as the interest coupons, bore a number making it possible to identify each certificate.

The reserve board spokesman said that at this time the disappearance of the certificates involves no financial loss to anyone.

He explained that the California bank which had bought the certificates had received new ones.

Should any of the missing certificates be presented by a bank for payment, he said they would be honored, but added the presentation would trigger an immediate investigation. The certificates matured May 15 and are no longer drawing interest.

It was disclosed in Washington yesterday that a report on the disappearance of the securities is scheduled for consideration this week by the House Banking Committee. Sources said the report is critical of bank procedures.

Bankers Group Elects Officers

'Hot Rodder' Pleads Guilty

Jeffrey Michael Paganini, 18, of San Rafael, who terrorized residents of Canal Street by "hot-rodding" up and down the street last January, pleaded guilty yesterday to a misdemeanor hit-run charge.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court, set June 10 as the time to sentence Paganini.

Michael Lee Kennedy, 19, who was a passenger in Paganini's car at the time, pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace. He was sentenced last month to a weekend in jail and two year's supervised probation.

Meeting Postponed

Last night's scheduled meeting of the Corte Madera Sanitary District board was postponed to 7:30 p.m. tomorrow because of failure to obtain a quorum.

ANNEX

ten consent of two-thirds of them is obtained.

The question of who initiated the proceedings was discussed. Zelinsky said he had requested Belvedere to annex his property and had been approached by local Belvedere residents to do so.

Mantegani reminded the commission that Belvedere's fire budget was $16,000 and the Tiburon Fire Protection District is $101,000. "If you take the area you will have to give protection. That's a lot of sales tax," he remarked.

Tiburon Land Eyed By Corte Madera

The proposed City of Tiburon, its downtown threatened by Belvedere annexation moves, may lose some of its area also to Corte Madera.

What Corte Madera is eyeing, however, is mostly under water.

The Corte Madera Town Council last night instructed Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow to prepare plans for annexation of land under the Bay, due east of the preent Corte Madera line, and to request the Tiburon Incorporation Committee to trim down the area proposed for Marin's 11th city.

Brandow said the proposed limits of the City of Tiburon "come almost as far north as San Quentin Prison and as far east as Red Rock."

Petaluma Water Accord On Agenda

An addition to the Petaluma water agreement will be considered by the board of the North Marin County Water District at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in its administration office.

The North Marin District and the City of Petaluma have an agreement on division of water service between the two areas from the North Marin County aqueduct to the Russian River.

Chee Grocery Store Request Due Council

Yee Tock (Willie) Chee, owner of Marin Fruit and Grocery of Sausalito, will ask the city council at tonight's 8 o'clock meeting to approve a variance from offstreet parking and a use permit to convert an apartment at 561 and 563 Bridgeway for retail fruit and grocery sales.

Also to be heard is a request for a use permit and variance for Ardilla Land Co. to build 180 apartment units in the Rodeo Avenue area.

Golf Clubs Stolen

David F. McTaggart of 397 Riviera Drive, San Rafael, reported to San Raafel police today the theft of golf clubs, a wrist watch and a cashmere sweater from his car parked in his driveway sometime Saturday night. He valued the three items at $585.

OBITUARIES

Eugenia Whitehead Dies At 75

Mrs. Eugenia Coulter Whitehead, 75, a retired deputy collector for Internal Revenue, was found dead today in her trailer at Palm Lane Trailer Court, Novato.

Assistant Coroner William Bradley said Mrs. Whitehead had a heart murmur and had been under a doctor's care for some time. Death appeared to be from natural causes.

She is survived by a nephew, James A. Coulter Jr. of 10 Washington Street, Novato, and a foster brother, Albert McNamara, of San Rafael, who works for the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Redwood Chapel in Novato.

Mrs. Whitehead was a native of Kentfield. Her late husband, Harry C. Whitehead, worked for Associated Oil Co.

Neighbors saw her alive about 10 p.m. Sunday. Since then, friends had called her and received no answer. This morning, friends went to the trailer and found her lying dead on the floor.

BLANCHE STONE

Mrs. Blanche C. Stone, a resident of Marin County for 22 years, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Stone, a native of Ohio, had lived in San Francisco before moving to Marin. Her husband, the late Floyd B. Stone, died several years ago. She lived most recently at 360 Vista Grande, Greenbrae.

She leaves a sister, Mrs. Olive Mervyn of Greenbrae, and a brother, Milton S. York of Willoughby, Ohio.

Private family services will be held tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. The family prefers memorial gifts to the Marin County Heart Assn.

Boys Leaped At Highway, Girl Testifies

A Mill Valley girl, who was passenger in a car which struck two youths near Marin City on New Year's Eve, testified this morning that the two boys seemed to run out or leap out toward the highway just before the mishap.

Miss Penny Heide, 16, of 58 Catalpa Street, Mill Valley, so testified before a jury in Marin Superior Court before Judge Joseph G. Wilson. At the time of the accident, she was Mrs. Penny Coolidge. She was later divorced, and resumed her maiden name.

Miss Heide was riding with William Arthur Acree, 20, of 209 Cardinal Road, Mill Valley, when the car struck and killed Robert T. McMullen, 19, of Kentfield. McMullen's companion, William R. Costello Jr., 19, of Larkspur survived.

Another defense witness, a bus driver, also testified that she saw two youths pushing each other and engaging in "horseplay" on the highway just before the fatal accident. Mildred Stahl of 36 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera, told the jury she has been a Greyhound bus driver for 19 years. She said she saw two young men pushing each other on the traveled portion and she had to swerve to avoid them.

William O. Weissich is defending Acree.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety contends that the two youths were walking off the paved portion of the highway when struck.

This afternoon, the judge, jury and court attaches were to visit the scene of the accident for a first-hand view.

Council Interested In Parking Lot, Dour About Meters

The San Rafael City Council heard with interest last night a proposal for a leased parking lot for all-day parkers, and had dour second thoughts about the plan to try out a parking meter gadget that allegedly would beat the meter-cheaters.

The parking lot proposal came from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. via City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen and Fred F. Enemark, chamber of commerce president.

They reported willingness of PG&E to lease to the city for three years a portion of its property running from Third to Second streets, where former gas installations have been removed, at approximately the cost of taxes. Andersen estimated that expenditure of $12,000 would turn it into a parking lot with spaces for 175 cars.

Enemark said the chamber's executive board and its property owners and tenants' council had both approved the proposal. Property owners would guarantee the city against loss on the lease, he said. He suggested the portion facing Third Street be metered for four-hour parking, that facing Second Street be for all-day parking with rentals by day or month.

Mayor John F. McInnis pointed out the city must meter any parking lots within the downtown parking district. Andersen said the border of the district runs through the PG&E property about midway.

The council authorized the city manager to negotiate for the lot.

Two merchants, Francis E. Fogarty of J. C. Penney Co. and William Costello of Macy's, objected to the plan to put 15 "anti-cheaters" meters along Fourth Street in front of their stores. They said they are willing the meters should be tried, but asked they be scattered.

Councilmen agreed to this, and, in so doing, disclosed that the enthusiasm for the "anti-cheater" devices developed two weeks ago by Paul Michelsen and Patrick Cavanaugh of Traffic Control, Inc., had largely evaporated.

Mayor John F. McInnis, who was absent from the May 6 meeting at which the council voted for a 30-day trial of the 15 meters, said he had never favored the devices, which would lock against further coins after the meter pointer reached the one-hour (or two-hour) mark.

"The gadget isn't going to tag a single car," declared McInnis. "If our meter maids aren't policing, we ought to criticize the police department."

Councilmen L. H. Bud Baar and Charles W. Aby, who were lukewarm about the gadgets earlier, both agreed. Even Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ready May 6 to try 700 meters for six months, expressed doubts.

Asst. Police Chief Joseph Brusatori took issue with the Traffic Control, Inc., claim that checks of license plates showed from 19 to 27 per cent "sleeper" cars in downtown parking spaces. Brusatori said he and Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa made their own check of license plates last Friday, and found only seven "sleepers" on Fourth Street between E Street and Tamalpais Avenue, of which two had been ticketed.

McInnis said he had checked with Hayward, which tried the "anti-cheater" meters two years ago, and found reaction there had been "very unfortunate" and the devices had been abandoned after a short trial.

The council heard that some progress is being made toward purchase of the remaining properties for a new city hall site, and made a little progress toward selling the present one.

On recommendation of City Manager Andersen, the council turned down an offer by Mrs. Marie Robinson to sell one parcel at a price Andersen said was $20,000 above the city's appraisal, but left the way open for further negotiation. Andersen said he might be nearer agreement with the attorney for Dr. Leo L. Stanley, owner of the other parcel wanted for the new city hall.

Roy A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal, received permission to have attorney A. E. Bagshaw work in his behalf with the city attorney "when details are worked out" for sale of the present city hall site. Brown seeks the property for expansion of the Independent-Journal plant, and has proposed that the portion fronting A Street be leased back to the city for 10 years for a parking lot. Another proposal has been to sell the entire property to the downtown parking district. (Bagshaw was city attorney until succeeded last month by David Menary Jr.)

The council instructed the city manager to set up a meeting as soon as possible of the council with Edward Welsh of Ebasco Services and the group of architects engaged to design the new city hall, to iron out details of the architects' contract.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Granted Ghilotti Brothers one-month extensions on the Chula Vista Assessment District street work and Third Street widening project.

2. Appointed Gordon H. Dohemann as city representative on a three-man arbitration board to determine the amount to be paid by Gasoline Marketeers, Inc., on renewal of its five-year lease on city-owned Francisco Boulevard property. The company now pays $125 per month. City Manager Andersen said he thought the rent should be $400.

3. Authorized Andersen to offer Standard Oil Co. month-to-month rent at $400 of land it leases from the city on Francisco Boulevard. The lease expires Aug. 1 and does not contain an automatic renewal clause. The firm now pays $300 per month.

4. Canceled the contract with Data Processing, Inc. of Los Angeles for servicing Marin Bay and East San Rafael assessment district bonds. City Treasurer Angelina J. Soldavini said the company's handling of the bonds has increased rather than decreased the work load in her office.

5. Authorized Public Works Director Norris Rawles to proceed with plans for widening Third Street beyond Embarcadero, holding in abeyance the portion between Union and Mary streets to await action by the State Division of Highways on a connection between Second and Third streets through the Montecito Shopping Center.

6. Passed to print an amendment to the building code requiring safety glass or a divider strip in exterior sliding glass doors.

7. Approved the final map of Oak Woodlands Unit 1-B with a proviso that use permits and excavation permits be sought for any excavating work.

8. Approved the final map of Glenwood Unit 6.

9. Held over to June 3 resolutions setting in motion the Northgate Industrial Park Assessment District. Councilmen objected that the engineer's report had not been presented for study before the meeting.

10. Approved City Manager Andersen's idea for planned community rezoning of the city corporation yard and surrounding properties along the San Rafael Canal, to create a marina.

11. Agreed to consider purchase of a site for a fourth firehouse near Bellam Boulevard in the 1963-64 budget. Councilman Baar estimated cost at $19,000.

12. Instructed the city manager to inform College of Marin that the city's election date is fixed by charter. The college board had written urging that it be changed to conform with school elections, which fall eight days later.

13. Approved expenditure of $671 as the city's share of fencing a portion of ditch along the Davidson School grounds, although Councilmen Baar and Jensen said Public Works Director Rawles had acted without council authorization.

14. Ordered a call for bids on remodeling the No. 2 firehouse be prepared for the June 3 meeting.

15. Endorsed a suggestion by Councilman Harry S. Barbier that police and fire vehicles turn on headlights when answering daytime calls, as a safety measure.

16. Approved a claim by Gilbert B. Schmitt for $98 for damage to his car, hit by a police car backing out near the main firehouse on Fifth Avenue.

Birth Control Called Part Of County's Job

Birth control service should be a part of local public health departments, Dr. Alan Guttmacher, president of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, told a group of public health doctors and nurses meeting at the Civic Center yesterday.

"You don't have separate clinics for polio or other immunization," he said. "Why should people have to go to a separate clinic for family planning service."

Other speakers during the program included Mrs. Miriam Garwood, field consultant for the western region of the parenthood federation. She said her new assignment to the West will result in expansion of birth control services offered locally.

2 Men Walk Out On Dinner Bill

Two men ran up a $21 bill in dinner and drinks at Marin Joe's restaurant near Corte madera, walked out without paying cashier Sybie Gearhart reported to the sheriff at 1:55 a.m. today.

She said the men showed her several credit cards, then asked if they could sign for the dinner. When she refused, the men became belligerent and walked out. Both appeared intoxicated, Mrs. Gearhart said.

They drove away toward Corte Madera in a 1963 Cadillac. The cashier said the car appeared to have no license plates.

Clothes Dryer Theft

Joseph D. McGuinness, manager of the Salvation Army Thrift Shop at 910 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, reported to San Rafael police yesterday the theft of a Kenmore clothes dryer, valued at $100, from the rear of the shop Sunday night.

Chicken feathers now are being tanned in a permanent curly down that rivals duck and goose feathers for pillows.

Airman Driving Baby To Hospital In Accident, Wife, Daughter Hurt

An Air Force medic started to take his baby to the hospital but left his wife and 3-year-old daughter there instead—victims of an auto accident.

Theodore A. LaCosta, 30, of Petaluma, a medic with the 78th Hospital Unit at Hamilton Air Force Base, headed for the base hospital Sunday night to have a pebble removed from the nose of his infant daughter. His wife, Betty, 24, and daughter, Carrie, 3, went along.

About one mile south of Lamont Avenue, Novato, on Highway 101, LaCoste's car hit the rear of an auto driven by Louis Castelli, 66, San Francisco insurance man.

Mrs. LaCoste was held overnight at the base hospital for treatment of shock and other injuries. Carrie got first aid. Mrs. Annie Castelli, 48, was to see her own doctor for minor hurts. The baby and Castelli emerged uninjured, as did LaCoste—but he drew a California Highway Patrol citation for reckless driving.

A three-car crash on Highway 101 north of Novato Creek Bridge brought minor injury to two women, also Sunday night.

Involved were southbound cars of Adolph Bagnesi, 69, Eve Hargood, 36, and Ernest C. Hallacher, 47, all of San Francisco. Miss Hargood and Hallacher were stopped for a traffic light when Bagneshi drove into the Harwood car, knocking it against Hallacher's, the highway patrol said. Miss Hargood was treated at Novato Hospital for cuts on lip and both knees, and a passenger with her, Marion Zimmer, 28, of San Fancisco, for right eye and left leg injuries.

A motorcycle and a Volkswagen panel truck tangled on Doherty Drive in Larkspur yesterday, injuring Victor Gengler, 15, high school student of 28 Marinero Circle, Belvedere, the cyclist. Betsy Horr, 39, of San Francisco, the motorist, was unhurt.

Gengler was treated at Marin General Hospital for face and leg cuts.

Another motorcyclist was also on the injury list—Kenneth R. Broadhead, 20, of 1445 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. He was riding south on Highway 101 near Diablo Avenue, Novato, Sunday night when the front fork of his cycle came undone the highway patrol reported. The bike threw him and he wound up getting first aid at Novato Hospital.

Three persons suffered minor injuries when a southbound car driven by Wincent Damazya, 50, of San Francisco, hit the rear of a station wagon driven by Lawrence N. Weaver, 65, of Stockton, at the Entrada Drive signal on Highway 101 in Ignacio, reported the highway patrol.

Injured in the crash at 8:05 p.m. Sunday were Weaver; Mrs. Marie Damazya, 49, and her son, Siegmund, 9. They were to see their own doctors. The highway patrol cited Damazya for speeding.

Alsace L. Herman, 35, a passenger with Frank R. Kaufman, 46, of San Francisco, was slightly injured when Kaufman's car was sideswiped Sunday on the Richardson Bay Bridge by one driven by Gordon N. Marks, 67, of San Francisco, the highway patrol reported. She was to see her own doctor.

Ring Stolen

Cmdr. Robert William Dart, of San Francisco told the San Rafael police yesterday that someone reached into his room through the open window at the Bermuda Palms, 737 Francisco Boulevard, and took a $250 man's wedding ring and two bottles of whisky from a table while he and his wife were asleep Saturday night.

More Speed Patrols Asked Along Canal

More speed patrols are needed on the San Rafael Canal if the city is not to have a tragedy there, L. E. Weisenburg Jr. told the San Rafael City Council last night.

The canal is now patrolled on Saturdays and Sundays by Officer Harold Duffy in a police boat.

That's not enough, said Weisenburg.

He declared, "The past two weeks of boating activity convinced me that we are in a sorry state as far as policing and future of the canal."

Besides the dangers from speeding boats, the canal is rapidly silting up, Weisenburg contended. It was dredged last year by the Army Engineers.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen suggested the sheriff's marine patrol might help in patrolling the canal if requested.

Councilman L. H. Bud Baar said it was a police matter, and at his suggestion, it was referred to the police department.

Unemployed Beautician Found Dead

William Bradley, assistant county coroner, said Cleo Davis Light had been suffering from delerium tremens. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Mrs. Light was found by San Anselmo postman Adelbert Harry Richards lying in bed when he returned to the room at 5 p.m. yesterday.

She was separated from her husband, Andrew James Light of Vallejo, Bradley said. Mrs. Light was a native of Knoxville, Tenn.

Church 'Outsider' Is Called Puzzling

DES MOINES, Lowa (AP)—The man who shuns religion was analyzed by some church experts today—and classified as a puzzling character of varied motives and traits.

He may be openly hostile to faith, or indifferent; he may be a "troubled idealist," a self-styled "rugged individualist" or even a regular member of the church who doesn't really believe its message, the report said.

Prepared by an evangelism commission and presented to the United Presbyterian General Assembly, it urged the church to break out of its "smug isolation" and pay more attention to the world of "the outsider."

Yet "it is not easy to understand the identity of the outsider," the report conceded.

The commission, headed by the Rev. Dr. Robert Beach Cunningham, of New York, recommended steps for expanding the church's ministry beyond the parish to focus it increasingly on "the outsider."

On another matter yesterday, the representatives of three and one-quarter million Presbyterians set up a special task force, backed by a $500,000 budget to translate the church's pronouncements on racial justice into action.

"The time is here to demonstrate the obedience we profess," the denomination declared.

Its new Commission on Religion and Race was authorized to act on various fronts, in cooperation with interfaith and inter-church groups, to combat racial discrimination.

3 Future Engineers In Exhibit

Three Marin County students have been invited to exhibit their experimental projects in the Future Engineer Show at the San Francisco Cow Palace Aug. 20-23.

Those invited are:

Lonnie Masouredis, son of Dr. and Mrs. Serafeim P. Masouredis of 9 De Anza Way, Los Ranchitos, an eighth grader at Santa Venetia School, whose exhibit displays the effect of pressure on gas discharge.

Brian H. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Nelson of 2323 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, an eighth grader at Reed School, who will exhibit his digital computer.

Bill Blankenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Blankenburg, 131 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, a seventh grader at Fairfax Central School, who will exhibit his proximity detector.

The show will be at the Western Electronic Show and Convention, sponsored by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and the Western Electronic Manufacturers Assn.

The students will be competing for scholarships ranging up to $1,000.

Police Science Class Planned At College

A proposed two-year police science program to start at College of Marin in September was announced today by Frank T. Jacobs, head of the State Division of Applied and Technical Education.

The course, awaiting final trustee approval and naming of a teacher, would qualify students in two years for jobs with law enforcement agencie or for advance study at a four-year state college.

Attendant Found Dead In Cage, Lion Is Shot

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — The body of an attendant, mangled by two lions, was found today in a cage at Ross Park Zoo. Police had to shoot one lion.

Police said the lions apparently had killed the attendant, Guy E. Carey, 43, although there was a possibility he suffered a fatal stroke. Carey had been cleaning the cage.

A relief attendant, Ralph Landis, found the lions standing over the body when he arrived at 5:30 a.m.

Police said all the doors in the four-part cage were closed, which seemed unusual. Normally, both lions would have been put in one section and barred in, while the attendant cleaned the rest of the cage. He was found in the section with both lions.

The hose he had been using was still running in another section.

Police turned the hose on the lions to try to force them away from the body. The female lion went into another section, but the male, Timba, resisted and the police shot him in the head 12 times.

Timba had been a troublemaker. He had escaped from the cage a couple of times and once wrecked an office on the grounds. Each time he was caught on the grounds.

Carey, married and a father, worked at the zoo only one day a week. He arrived for work at 10 p.m. last night and was last seen at 11 p.m.

Kol Shofar Plans Confirmation Service

Congregation Kol Shofar will hold its first confirmation service during Sabbath eve services at 8 p.m. Friday at the Marin Jewish Community Center, San Rafael. Rabbi David B. Coren's sermon will be on "Our Responsibility to God," and the theme of the confirmation will be "Ethics of the Fathers."

On May 30, the second day of Shavuot, the congregation will hold Yizkor memorial services.

RESUSCITATOR CALLS BANNED

Resuscitator calls outside town limits by the Corte Madera volunteer fire department were banned by the town council last night—but it will seek state assurance that might give it latitude in the matter.

The council voted to limit firemen to answering calls within town limits after Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson reported state workmen's compensation officials will not pay for injury or death of an employee working beyond his jurisdiction.

The council instructed Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow to seek an immediate conference with fund officials to learn whether provision can be made for what Nelson termed "an honest mistake" by a fireman going outside his territory.

Brandow had told firemen he believed previous council decisions permitted resuscitator calls in county territory.

Four Nuisances Being Removed Or Abated

Four town nuisances have been removed or are being abated, the Corte Madera Town Council learned happily last night.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow reported Karp Development Co. had begun to remove debris left behind near the Madera Village Motel after the town had prepared to have it cleaned up at Karp's expense. The matter was continued to May 20 for another progress report.

Brandow reported Mrs. E. G. Barnett had cleaned up a portion of Chapman and Tamalpais drives and Ralph E. Tobener had removed debris and lumber from Lakeside and Cheyenne Way. He said William P. Murray had hired a firm to remove the old Circle Drive-In and a defunct automatic laundry from Casa Buena Drive.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Introduced an ordinance forbidding more than one living-sleeping unit for each 1,500 square feet of lot in any future hotel or motel.
2. Introduced an ordinance providing board of design review for all future pole or stilt houses standing 18 feet above ground.
3. Introduced an ordinance providing that on application for a permitted use, the planning commission, after a public hearing, may recommende the use subject to a public hearing and decision by the council.
4. Authorized Brandow to write property owners at 62, 66 and 100 Walnut Avenue, in an "unincorporated island," requesting them to seek annexation to the town.
5. Budgeted $2,010 more for the police, including $1,000 for putting Police Clerk Ann Donovan on full time, $400 for training of a patrolman, and $300 for investigations; and $7,000 more for the park and recreation commission for unexpected expense for park turfing.
6. After one hour of discussion with Vernon Number, part owner of 85 acres of marshland east of Highway 101, made further changes in a proposed grading-drainage ordinance and continued it.
7. Reappointed Merritt J. Wieder to the park and recreation commission and postponed naming a successor to Planning Commissioner Felix Pioli, who said he could not serve again following expiration of his term May 1.
8. Approved a request by T. E. Kuhlmann to realign four lots on upper Summit Drive into two one-half-acre lots.
9. Heard Brandow report he will include plans for an office for the Corte Madera Sanitary District in the renovation of town hall and forward plans to the district board.

Councilman Albert E. Kogler was absent.

Burglar Steals, Sets Home Afire

A burglar stole a freshly baked cake and about $30 in coins, then started a small fire in the bedroom of a Santa Venetia home yesterday.

Joseph Reynes of 127 Birch Way told Deputy Sheriff William Johansen he got home about 6 o'clock last night and found the screen had been removed from the children's bedroom and the window cranked open.

Bedspread and pillow in the master bedroom had been scorched.

Reynes said someone has been prowling through his house every day since last Wednesday. However, he did not call the sheriff earlier because nothing of value was missing.

Cohen Back On Job

Still shaky after a more than two-week bout with the mumps, Supt. Milton S. Cohen returned to work at Larkspur School District headquarters yesterday. He had been confined since May 1.

Marin City To Get More 'Pole Houses'

Thirty-six more "pole houses" will be built in Marin City, construction to begin in about 90 days. They will have design changes including larger balconies, more window area, and hip roofs and will average $2,000 higher than the first pole houses.

The 36 will be the last of 95 relocation houses. The first caused a furor last September when many Marin City residents voiced disapproval of the houses built on telephone poles.

Barrett Construction Co. of San Francisco, builders, explained prices and design yesterday to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency commission and about 30 Marin City residents. The commission took the matter under consideration until June 3 pending a survey of all relocation families and their ability to buy houses.

"The time has come for us to quit payment on the construction loans" (on present pole houses), John H. Tolan, Barrett representative, told the commission. He said he is getting offers from people outside Marin City to buy the homes. He recommended that the cost of each house be raised about $1,000.

The commission voted 5-0 that if the present pole houses are not saleable to eligible Marin City people, Barrett may sell them to the outside market at a price to be arranged later. The agency is required to first offer the single family houses to relocatees within Marin City.

Prices of the new houses will be: Three-bedroom, one bath houses, $19,300; two-story, three bedroom houses, $19,500; four-bedroom houses, $21,000; three bedroom "luxury" houses, with two baths and large bedrooms, $21,000.

3 Terra Linda High Girls Are Honored

Three Terra Linda High School girls have received special honorary certificates for "outstanding service" to the school during this school year.

Awarded certificates by the Associated Girl Students at a meeting and swim party at the school Sunday were Judy Roberts, senior, for outstanding general service; Betsy Sargent, senior, for sports activity, and Linda Stirling, junior, for social activity.

Ross School Unit Expects Tax Cut

Ross School District trustees expect an 8-cent tax cut in the 1963-64 budget, but don't know exactly what the budget will total.

Trustees last night considered a tentative budget not including the 1963-64 salary schedules.

"We won't know the exact budget until those are included," said Supt. Donald Leister.

The current tax rate is $2.37 per $100 valuation. Estimate is that the upcoming tax rate would be about $2.29, Leister said.

Trustees discussed the teacher salary schedule, ranging from $5,000 to $9,130, but took no action.

The board also postponed granting of a permit to the Marin Art and Garden Fair for use of the school grounds for parking.

"They are considering leasing because the parking has been tearing up the turf, and the leasing funds could be used for repairs," Leister reported.

Mrs. Linda Kazasian, fifth grade teacher who resigned and then changed her plans, was reinstated.

Leister announced that kindergarten registration will be conducted tomorrow from 1 to 3:30 p.m. in Room 12. Children must have been born on or before Dec. 2, 1958, to qualify. Parents must present birth certificates.

Novato Rec Unit To Look Over Possible Park Site

Members of the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission will inspect the five-acre Louis Nave property at 1524 Hill Road before deciding whether to recommend its purchase for a city park.

That was the decision of the commission last night after Mrs. Lawrason Driscoll, president of the Novato Garden Club, presented the club's proposal for the purchase. The club has a 60-day option to buy the property for $150,000. Mrs. Driscoll last week invited the city council to inspect the site. She was referred to the parks and recreation commission.

Gladys Snyder, state recreation specialist, told of cultural programs being carried on by the Oakland Recreation Department.

"Originally recreation was aimed at sports to prevent boys from committing crimes. Recreation is now aimed at including cultural activities," she said.

Edmund Mahany, city recreation director, reported he had received 82 applications for 16 summer jobs.

Sanitary Board Will Open Bids

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors last night adjourned to June 11 to open bids for sale of $212,000 in bonds for the Hawthorne Terrace Assessment District.

The board agreed to proceed with annexation to the district of about 12 acres of filled land along the shoreline of Harbor Point, now the site of the Harbor Point Clubhouse. Request was from Milland Co., Mill Valley.

It took under consideration an annexation request from Alcan-Marin Ltd. for a 288-unit apartment development to be built at the southern top of Enchanted Knolls, secretary Samuel A. Fletcher said.

Probe Asked On Zoning Violations

Need for a special investigator to check up on zoning violations in Marin was suggested yesterday to the Marin County Planning Commission.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told the commission he was considering hiring an extra planning staff member to work full time on enforcement of county planning ordinances.

"We are way behind in our enforcement and follow-up of regulations," said Dobbs. "Even with help from the district attorney's office, it is necessary for a planner to do the groundwork on inspections to see if conditions set by the planning commission are being respected."

"Enforcement is really important," agreed Chairman William F. Upton. "If you're going to have rules, you have to abide by them."

Dobbs said there are many examples throughout the county where zoning, use permits and special conditions set by the commission are not being followed.

Corte Madera To Share Costs

The Corte Madera Town Council, after a confused argument with developer Jack Estes, reversed itself last night and agreed to share costs of improving Sausalito Street near a proposed 28-residence subdivision.

It instructed Estes to prepare a petition to form an assessment district for the tract in Madera Park on the hill south of Tamalpais Drive.

In agreeing to share costs with Estes and developer George Roemer, the council rescinded a decision of April 1. It then had rejected a proposal by Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow that the town pay 25 per cent of the costs.

Hub Tract Approved, Three Others Held Up

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night approved one request for apartment zoning and held up decision on three others.

Approved was the request of William H. Pollard to rezone from duplex to apartments property at 200 Redhill Avenue.

Denied were requests of Wilfred A. DeCook and James Stragnola to build separate apartments on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard opposite Madrona Avenue. Both applicants were asked to resubmit requests for a planned development which could be controlled by the planning commission.

The request of Alfred F. Colombo for apartments on Sycamore Avenue in the Bella Vista Tract was to be readvertised for rezoning from single family to apartments.

The San Anselmo Planners Also:

1. Approved four out of five requests for variances for H. H. Huyssoon for a large commercial building to be built at 630 and 634 San Anselmo Avenue but denied his request to subdivide a lot in the Bush Tract because it did not conform to the slope policy.
2. Closer conformity to the slope policy was also asked of William R. Davis, whose application to subdivide two lots in the Rosenthal Tract was denied.
3. Advised Watkin and Sibbald that request for a use permit to construct a professional building at 6 Bridge Avenue was not necessary.
4. Put over until the applicant, Erna M. Falk, is present, a request for subdivision of property at 17 Arroyo Avenue.
5. Approved the request by A. R. Forristal to subdivide portions of Lots 108 and 109 on the Short Ranch.
6. Approved an application by David M. Lewis to subdivide property on Southview Terrace adjacent to Hilldale Park Units 1 and 2.
7. Put over to May 27 an application to form Indian Rock Subdivision out of Short Ranch Subdivision No. 2.
8. Advised Jack Sweeney to revise plans for subdivision of a parcel in Hawthorne Hills and present new plans at the June 17 meeting.

Corte Madera Meet Set On Town Plan

The Corte Madera Planning Commission will hold an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in town hall to discuss latest changes in the revised town plan, Chairman C. W. Thomas said today.

The commission will discuss decisions made last Thursday by the town council on the plan as drawn by Livingston and Blayney and on commission recommendations. The commission approved the plan with changes last month. The council is to adopt the final version June 3.

Children's Shop Clerk Faces Petty Theft Charges Only

A trusted clerk of a San Rafael children's shop, suspected by her employer of tapping the till for about $10,000 in the past two and one-half years, faces a petty theft charge and nothing more.

"It was a matter of proof," said Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, explaining why a grand theft charge was not lodged against Mrs. Margaret McKay, 62, employed at Henrietta's Children's Shop on Fourth Street. "Because of the bookkeeping methods used at the store, it is not possible to prove more than petty theft."

Mrs. McKay, a widow who lives at 108 Treanor Street, San Rafael, appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court yesterday. With her was attorney D. K. MacDonald Jr., who said he knows Mrs. McKay.

"I know she is without funds to retain counsel," said MacDonald. "I would be happy to be appointed her counsel."

Judge Haley appointed MacDonald to defend Mrs. McKay and continued the case until next Monday, when Mrs. McKay will plead to the petty theft charge.

Mrs. McKay is free on her own recognizance. She has lived in San Raafel for about 35 years and worked at the children's shop for seven years.

San Rafael Police Officer Richard Camper said Mrs. McKay took the money by ringing up "no sale" on the cash register for sales she made to customers.

Tape Recorder Stolen

McCarthy Supports Fair Housing

A delegation representing 12 Marin County organizations visited State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) in Sacramento yesterday urging him to support fair housing legislation.

Senator McCarthy said he would support fair housing legislation which would achieve the objectives sought by the delegation, reported Maxweel Hull, chairman of the Marin Committee for Fair Play in Housing and leader of the delegation.

The senator also said he would not tolerate discrimination on the part of realty brokers or salesmen handling homes in the McCarthy-developed Loch Lomand subdivision in San Rafael, Hull reported.

The senator also told the group he felt the legislation will produce an effective fair housing bill.

Big Tax Bite

NEW YORK (UPI)—State and local taxes reached almost 39 billion dollars during 1961 or an average of about $211 per person, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. The national average jumped 57 per cent between 1953 and 1961.

Planners Ask Probe Of Sign Ordinances

Investigation of violations of Marin County sign ordinances and a comparison of county law with proposed state laws was requested yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The commission approved three new signs, all located near highways, but decided it is time to check up on past violations, as requested last month by the board of supervisors.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs asked the commission whether it would want to endorse pending state legislation for stricter control of highway billboard advertising.

"I think we should see first if any conflict in the state legislation and our own existing law," said Chairman William F. Upton.

The California Roadside Council had asked endorsement of Senate Bill 1123, which would limit signs on the rights of way of all state roads.

Principal Planner Sidney Shaw recommended denial of a 32-square-foot sign for the proposed San Geronimo Country Club at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and San Geronimo-Nicasio Road. He called it a form of "free-standing, roadside advertising."

The commission, however, unanimously approved the sign for one year.

A 105-square-foot sign on top of the Bekins Van and Storage Co. at 25 Bellam Boulevard in South San Rafael and a "Flying A" service station sign at Fourth and A streets in Point Reyes Station were also approved.

But the commission agreed that regulations for all signs in the county should be studied in relation to any possible new state laws.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Granted architectural supervision for minor additions to a dog kennel, operated by John H. Schluter at 230 Shoreline Highway, in Tamalpais Valley.
2. Continued until June 3 a request by W. R. DeCurtoni to divide two parcels in seven building sites, each having 6,400 square feet instead of 7,500 square feet required. The property is located on Calle Del Arroyo in Stinson Beach.
3. Approved grading plans for San Ramon Unit 4, to include planting for erosion control.
4. Continued until June 6 approval of San Marin Unit 6, a 36-acre subdivision by the Greenborough Corporation, west of Novato.
5. Approved an eight-acre subdivision, Gallinas Village 8A, on Vendola Drive and North San Pedro Road, on condition that developer International Investment Co. widen North San Pedro Road in the area.
6. Approved tentative map for a nine-lot subdivision, Portola Estates Unit 2 on four acres on Carmel Court.

Thieves Siphon Gas From School Buses

Thieves have been siphoning gasoline from school buses parked at the Marin Civic Center parking lot in Santa Venetia for the past several weeks, transportation superintendent Glenn Glass reported yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff George Reuss said the vehicles are station wagons used as buses by the county superintendent of schools. The sloppy thieves usually leave the gas caps off, and spill considerable amounts of gasoline on the ground.

Living costs represent 80 per cent of the present budget at public colleges and about 65 per cent in private ones.

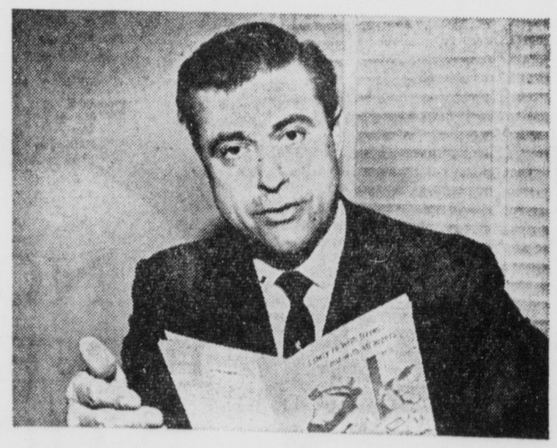
Offered FREE to Marin families as a public service by the Independent-Journal

How can children "play safe" in dealing with strangers? How can you, as a parent, protect them from the often unseen offenses of child molestation?

This booklet, "Safety Is With Friends... Not With Strangers," tells children in a simple, authoritative way... what to do when accosted by "strangers." Endorsed by Law Enforcement Agencies, it gives each child simple rules to follow. Illustrated situations make it easy for children to understand and to remember.

Designed and printed by the Independent-Journal, the booklet is a practical aid to parents in guiding children away from danger... and freeing parents, too, of anxiety and concern. If you would like a copy, kindly call in person at any I-J office.



Read what Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos says:

I wholeheartedly endorse this booklet which is designed to help protect our children. It is authoritative, clear, concise. It is simply written, that children may understand it...and carries a message about a subject which all too little is publicized. This is a constructive effort in the public interest. Above all, this booklet can help children "play safe" with strangers...and stay safe, with friends.

Santa Venetia Unit Will Elect Officers

A demonstartion of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation will be given by representatives of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Hub School Board To Discuss Bond Issue Tonight

What might be called "pre-preliminary" discussion of a bond issue will be part of a San Anselmo School District board meeting at 8 p.m. today in the faculty room of Isabel Cook School.

Supt. Stephen Parodi will report on classroom requirements through 1968 which will show the need of "two or three' additional classrooms in the district per year.

Parodi said the board "has talked about bonds" to finance construction on the Sunny Hills site.

Also on the agenda is discussion of classroom organization for the next school year which might require double sessions at Wade Thomas School, according to Parodi. A report will be given by Mrs. Vaughn Hill, chairman, and Nelson King, member of the parents foreign language study group.

Bret Harte Drainage Plan Gets Breath Of Life

A proposal from Northwestern Pacific Railroad breathed a little new life last night into the dying Bret Harte Drainage Assessment District.

The San Rafael City Council again continued its public hearing on the district, this time to June 17.

Carl Rickards, Bret Harte property owner, and Herbert A. Cole of Northwestern Pacific outlined the railroad's proposal.

It is to cure a bottleneck behind the Geister Brothers property on DuBois Street by replacing an existing culvert with a trestle of greater capacity. NWP is willing to pay half the cost, estimated at a total of $10,000, if the money could be recaptured in the form of assessment reduction if and when the assessment district is formed.

Mayor John F. McInnis commented the proposed improvement "dovetails precisely" with engineer Daniel P. Coleman's proposal for assessment district work. He also read a leter from attorney Edwin Ness saying the recapture from assessments would be legal.

Melvin Geister, however, contended the $10,000 outlay might make the million-dollar assessment district unecessary.

Left unanswered was the question of who pays the other $5,000 of the cost.

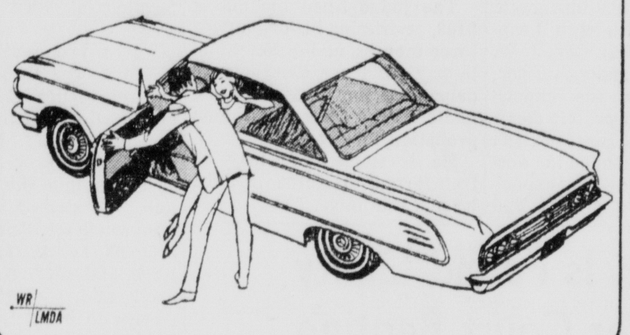
Schools Session

The agumented Marin County Committee on School Districts Organization will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo, to discuss proposed unification of school districts within Tamalpais Union High School District.

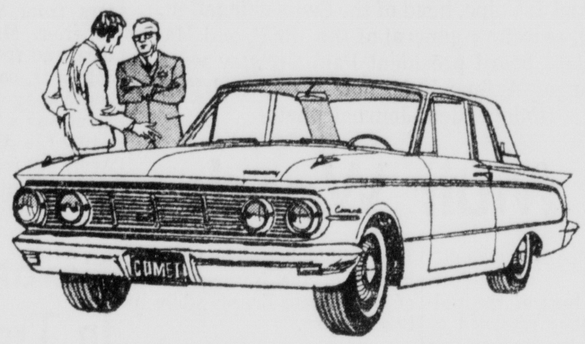
Comet S-22 Sportster

This new excitement from Comet is an economical way to beat the sportscars at their own game. Ask for V-8 version, complete with four-on-the-floor, bigger wheels and larger brakes. This "fastback" will do you proud... in any crowd!



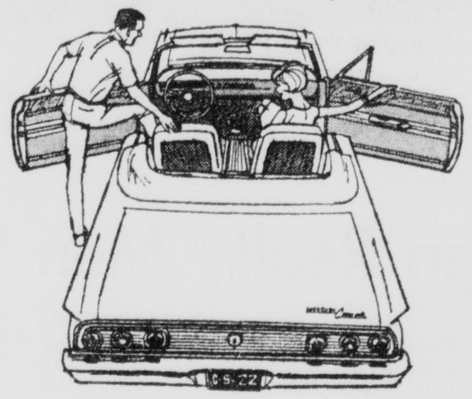
Comet 2-Door

Who said you can't buy a really low-priced car these days? This is it. Nothing fancy. Yet there's plenty of style... and the usual number of hubcaps, visors, ashtrays and cylinders. Plus heater-defroster. A second car, anyone?



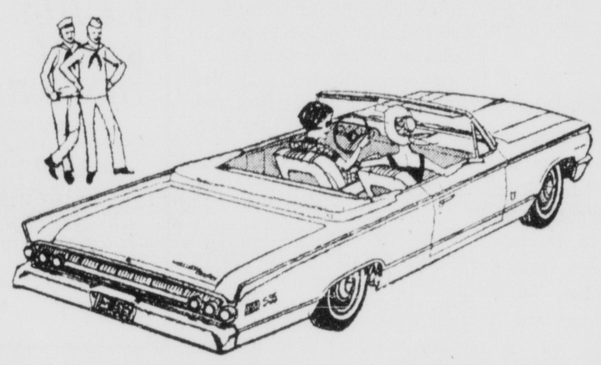
Comet Convertible

Here's the convertible for people who never thought they could afford such a "luxury". And, you get the added value of Comet's resale record: It's like money in the bank!



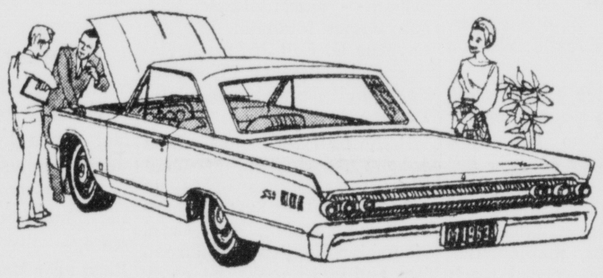
Mercury S-55 Convertible

Here is something to see. And drive. If you don't mind being the center of attention, that is. The S-55's sports-bred interior is very swish (in a masculine, leather-y sort of way). With the top down, every mile is like a vacation.



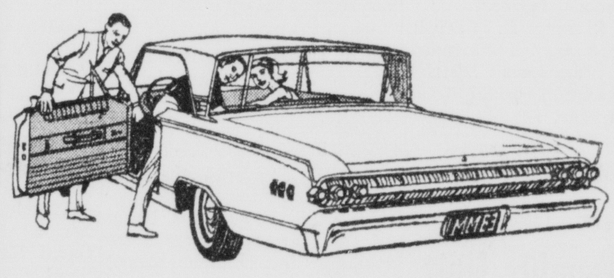
Mercury Marauder

If you're looking for real excitement, come in and sample this latest and last word for 1963. Up to 425 horses. Eight barrels. Couple all that with four-on-the-floor and you'll flash from 0 to 60 in 7 seconds flat! It's up to you.



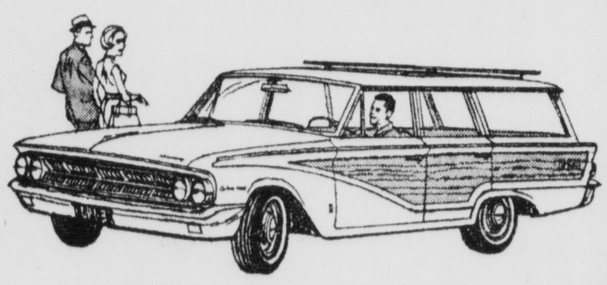
Mercury Monterey

This stylish and sensible "Breezeway" roofline shades the rear seat and provides more headroom, too. There's even an automatic rear window to help you see better, breathe better and hear better. Let us demonstrate how all this works. To your advantage.



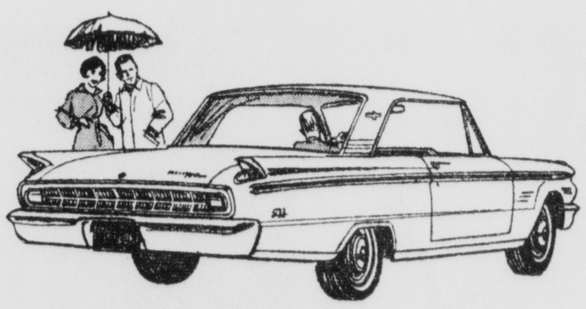
Mercury Colony Park

Form and function got together here and produced 1963's best-dressed wagon. Inside it's rugged. But rich. And vast! The big 390 V-8 will pull a full house...in a breeze. A particularly good buy for summer. Easy to buy, too.



Meteor Hardtop

You can improve your standard of driving without turning pockets inside-out. Meteor's 116.5 wheelbase is conveniently in-between the compacts and full-size jobs. But you'd never know it sitting behind the wheel. A lot of car. Meteor.



Comet Wagons

We've got five to show you. But when you come in, bring a tape measure. Else you might not believe how much wagon you can buy for so little. You should also take the measure of that new Cyclone V-8. It's available on all our Comets.

A fast sampler of our quick new Comets, Meteors and Mercurys

Foreign Realty Men Visit Muir Woods

Five busloads of foreign realty men and their wives arrived in Marin yesterday in what appeared to be a giant multiple listing tour, but their purpose was purely a sightseeing visit to the redwood trees in Muir Woods.

The group, numbering about 160, was composed of real estate delegates from France Germany, Austria, Switzerland and other European countries who had arrived at San Francisco International Airport Sunday evening via polar flight from Paris. Their visit in Marin was limited to two hours of gazing skyward at the sequoias, taking pictures, and lunch at Muir Woods Inn.

Although many of them spoke a little English, they were accompanied by two United Nations interpreters to help them bridge language difficulties.

After their tour of the redwood groves they returned to San Francisco for another two days visiting various parts of the Bay Area. Their ultimate goal is the 14th Congress of the International Real Estate Federation in Chicago May 28-June 1, with stops en route at Los Angeles, Las Vegas, and afterward at Washington, D. C. They will be hosted by member boards of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards while in this country.

The congress will be held in the United States this year for the first time. More than 300 delegates are expected to attend, with another 500 American realty brokers planning to be pesent at the business meetings.

Summer Teachers Given $1 Per Hour Raises

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees last night granted $1 per hour raises to summer school, workshop and evening school teachers.

Supt. Chester D. Carlisle said the raises, recommended by the Tamalpais District Teachers Assn., would total $10,101 a year.

He pointed out that the 18.2 per cent increase was comparable to the 20 per cent increases granted to teachers on the regular salary schedule.

The board also approved hiring of summer teachers after Trustee James M. Stubblebine questioned Carlisle as to whether the summer rapid reading course might be overcrowded.

Carlisle answered that because of the number of fellowships and scholarships being offered, fewer teachers were available for summer school and "this doesn't always mean that we have the right teacher for the job."

The board accepted a book given by Whitman College to the Sir Francis Drake High School library after Carlisle said the librarian and principal had looked it over and found it to be acceptable. The book is "Democracy's Manifesto" by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Trustees after the meeting participated in a reception for 18 teachers who had been granted tenure.

They are:

Sir Francis Drake High School — Vincent Boyle, English; James Lindland, English; Luverne G. Lull Jr., mathematics and business; Theodore Nagel, industrial arts, and John Tassone, English.

Redwood High School—Jane Adams, science; Freeman Blake, social studies; Lyle Fisher, mathematics; Suzanne Matsen, homemaking; Mrs. Carol Neumeier, English and journalism, and Webster Wright, counseling.

State Employee Benefits Passed By Assembly Unit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — About 14 million dollars in fringe benefits for state employees were approved by an Assembly committee yesterday, but the big item—the 35-hour week—was turned down.

The Assembly Civil Service and State Personnel Committee approved these measures by Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers (D-San Francisco):

1. Time-and-a-half for overtime, worth an estimated 3.9 million-dollars a year.

2. Pegging salaries of state employees in construction, repair and maintenance trades to prevailing wages in private industry, worth about six million dollars a year.

3. Night differential for certain state employees, estimated at four million dollars a year.

First Novato Budget Public Hearing Set

The first public hearing on the Novato city budget for 1963-64 will be held at 8 p.m. today at the community house.

J. Julien Baget, city administrator, submitted the budget to the city council last Tuesday. It calls for spending $561,445 against income estimated at $538,225. Baget called it "balanced" because in the past three years, the city has had an income larger than estimated, and has spent less than budgeted.

Drugged Driving Charge Reduced

A young Mill Valley Army doctor, accused of driving while under the influence of drugs, got the charge reduced to reckless driving yesterday on grounds that he had drugged himself in the interest of science.

Dr. William Brady Speak, 26, who lives at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry and interns at Letterman General Hospital, contended he was conducting an experiment on the effects of potentially dangerous drugs on the subconscious. Dr. Speak is a lieutenant in the Army.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua Thomas confirmed that the doctor had been authorized by his superiors to conduct the experiment, but only "under controlled conditions," which meant not at home or on the highways.

The district attorney has letters from Speak's immediate superior, Maj. Rudolph Leaphart, and from Maj. Gen. J. W. Schwartz, commanding officer, confirming that the experiment was a valid project cleared by the Army. However, the Army has reprimanded the doctor for continuing the experiment before the project had been more fully evaluated and approved.

The district attorney said the young doctor injected himself with phenobarbital and secobarbital on March 31, then drove his car in a daze on East Blithedale. He ran a stop sign, narrowly missed parked cars, ran over a sidewalk at Elm Avenue, and hit a mailbox.

"We feel he was guilty of a technical violation although it was not intentional," said Deputy Attorney Thomas. He said he does not believe Dr. Speak even knew he was driving after he took the drugs.

Dr. Speak pleaded guilty to reckless driving before Judge Harold J. Haley. The district attorney then asked for and got dismissal of the charge of driving under the influence of drugs, and hit-run property damage charge arising out of the doctor's somnambulant motoring.

The judge fined the doctor $193, restricting his driving for three months, and ordered him to pay whatever damages are demanded for damage to the mailbox. The doctor will be on probation for six months.

He is single, and may be transferred to Korea in July, he told the judge.

Novatan Is Found Guilty In Trailer Court Beating

Paul Albert Mattox, 53, of San Rafael, who allegedly beat his wife at a Novato trailer court last month, was found not guilty of the charge yesterday in Marin Municipal Court because she refused to testify against him.

Mattox and his wife, Rebecca, have reconciled since the April 9 ruckus.

However, Judge Harold J. Haley found Mattox guilty of assault and battery against Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie O. Howe, neighbors of Mrs. Mattox. Mattox will be sentenced at 3 p.m. on June 11.

Mrs. Mattox, 20, and her two sons, 2 and 3, were in the Howe trailer when Mattox forced his way into the trailer to see his children, Novato police said.

Officers said Mr. and Mrs. Howe tried to stop Mattox from beating his wife and they were injured in the tussle.

Pastry Shop Re-Opens

Musso's French Pastry Shop has reopened at 10 Main Street in Tiburon after being closed 18 months. Owner John Musso, who lives upstairs over his shop, closed the business while his old bakery was torn down and a new one built.

Lumber Is Stolen

Theft of redwood lumber was reported yesterday to San Rafael police by Sam L. Little, superintendent for contractor L. E. Weisenburg Jr. He said the lumber was stolen from a storage place on San Pedro Road near Marina Boulevard in the past few days.

U.S. Army private, Lyle E. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Jensen, 4 Meadow Way, Fairfax, has completed eight weeks of military police training at Fort Gordon, Ga.

NEWSMAN BARRED FROM HEARING BOWLES TALK

Chester Bowles, newly appointed U.S. ambassador to India, spoke to about 120 Democrats at a Ross reception yesterday. But what he had to say was designed only for the ears of those who paid $25 per couple to be present.

An Independent-Journal reporter, who had been invited to attend the reception, was stopped at the door by Roger Kent, Northern California chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee.

The meeting was closed at Bowles' request, Kent said, and the reporter was not welcome to report the new ambassador's remarks.

Foundation For Gifts To Novato Is Proposed

A non-profit foundation for receiving and dispensing gifts to the City of Novato was prosed yesterday by Mrs. Helen Scott, city hostess, at a special meeting at the community house.

This proposed foundation would be composed of one or two representatives from each organization in the city, according to Mrs. Scott. Main contributor to the funds would be community stamp organization. The stamps would be to raise funds for such community projects as parks, an ambulance and play grounds. Mrs. Scott said she expected the stamps to bring in $50,000 to $100,000 a year to the foundation.

"The stamps would work the same as trading stamps," Mrs. Scott explained. "After the housewife has saved a book of them, she can turn it in to the merchant and either receive $3 in merchandise or turn that sum into the foundation.

"This stamp company would be owned by local people and all funds would go to improving Novato."

"Are there any other communities where such a plan has worked?" asked Mrs. Lawrason Driscoll, president of the Novato Garden Club.

"This would be the pilot community," said Mrs. Scott.

Ninteen persons, representing several women's organizations, attended the meeting. No men's organization was represented.

Those attending agreed to take the idea back to their clubs and get members' reactions.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere

If you need your windshield cleaned
(but you don't need any gas), why not stop in and have your windshield cleaned?

We take a dim view of dirty windshields. They're not safe. They're annoying. So we're always glad to clean 'em.

Of course, we hope that when you do need gas, you'll try one of the three Chevron gasolines. Why three? So you can choose a gasoline made to fit the requirements of your car—without paying for extra power you can't use.

All three gasolines have Methyl* power—a research breakthrough in antiknock compounds that stands up under the extreme temperatures of high compression engines. Unlike others, Methyl spreads evenly to all cylinders, giving uniform antiknock performance. And it combines with all the other ingredients required for the best performance a car can deliver.

For the very highest-powered cars, use Custom, highest-powered gasoline in the West. For all other high-compression cars, fill up with Supreme. For cars designed to run on regular, choose Chevron. You'll get on-the-road proof that we take better care of your car.

RECIPES OF THE WEEK

Barbecued Lamb Chops*

8 large lamb chops
1 cup strong coffee (don't let us scare you on this one)
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup pineapple juice
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup lemon juice
Few drops Tabasco

Combine ingredients and marinate chops in this mixture several hours or overnight. Turn occasionally. Drain chops saving marinade. Grill over charcoal about 8 minutes on each side depending on desired degree of doneness. Remember that lamb should not be well done. It should be removed from the fire when just done, otherwise meat will not be succulently tender! Brush frequently with marinade while grilling.

Onions Butternut

Wash and peel 1½ pounds small white onions. Cook in ½ inch boiling salted water 15 to 20 minutes or until tender. Drain. Add 3 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts. Heat until butter melts.

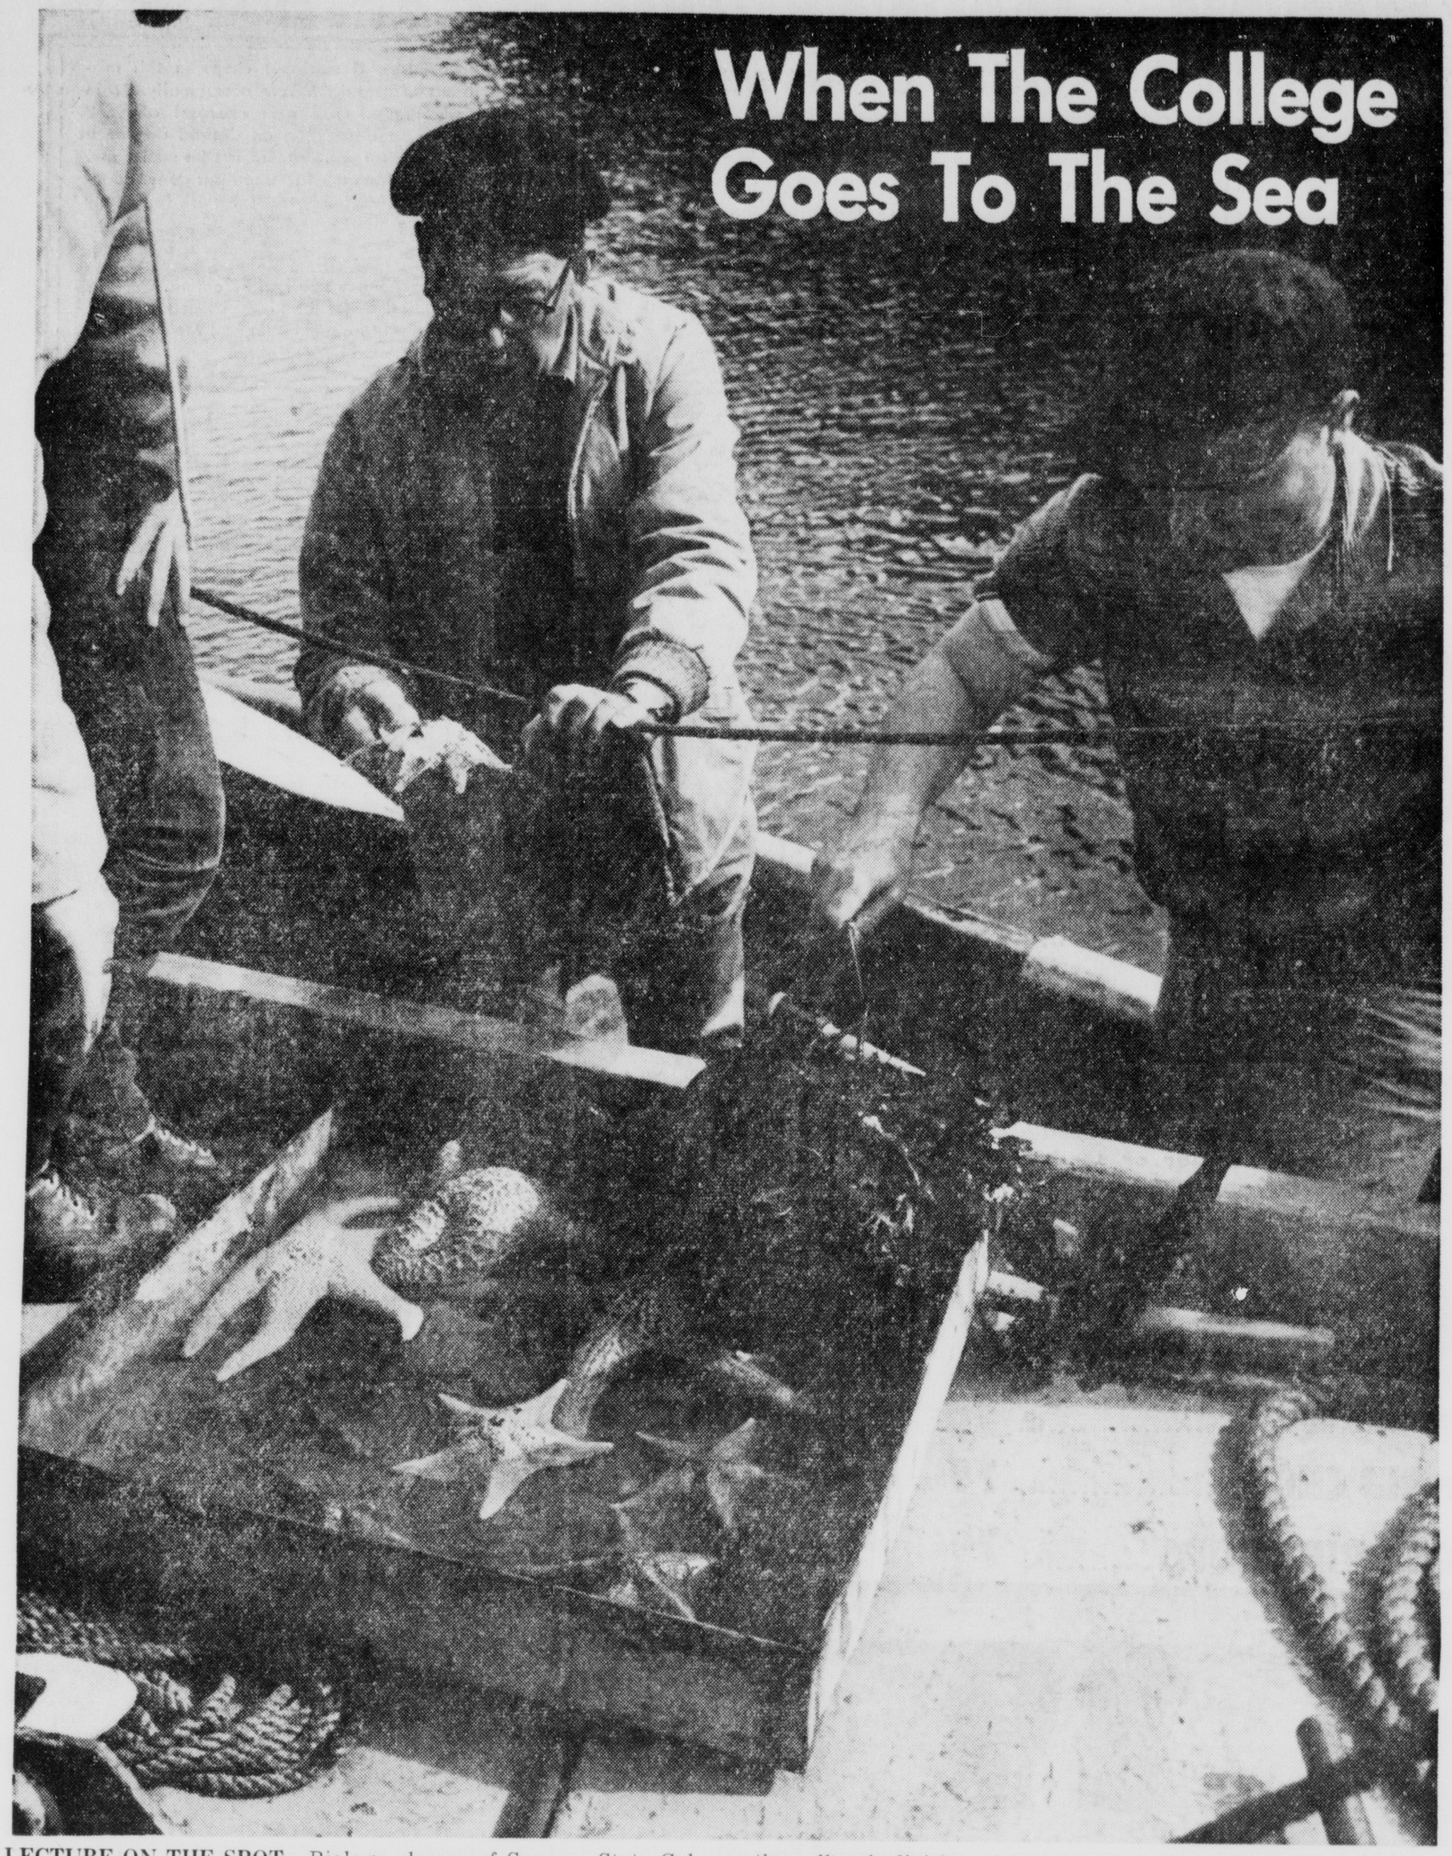
When The College Goes To The Sea



LECTURE ON THE SPOT—Biology classes of Sonoma State College in Cotati met for a "Week of Marine Biology" during Easter week in the rustic buildings of the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach, and went out in boats with Prof. John Arnold, chairman of the college's division of natural sciences, and Prof. Galen Clothier. Arnold (left) and Clothier are shown as they remove specimens from their skiff to stern of marine biology boat, lecturing the while. "We returned all sea animals to their habitats," Dr. Arnold emphasized. "We did very little collecting."

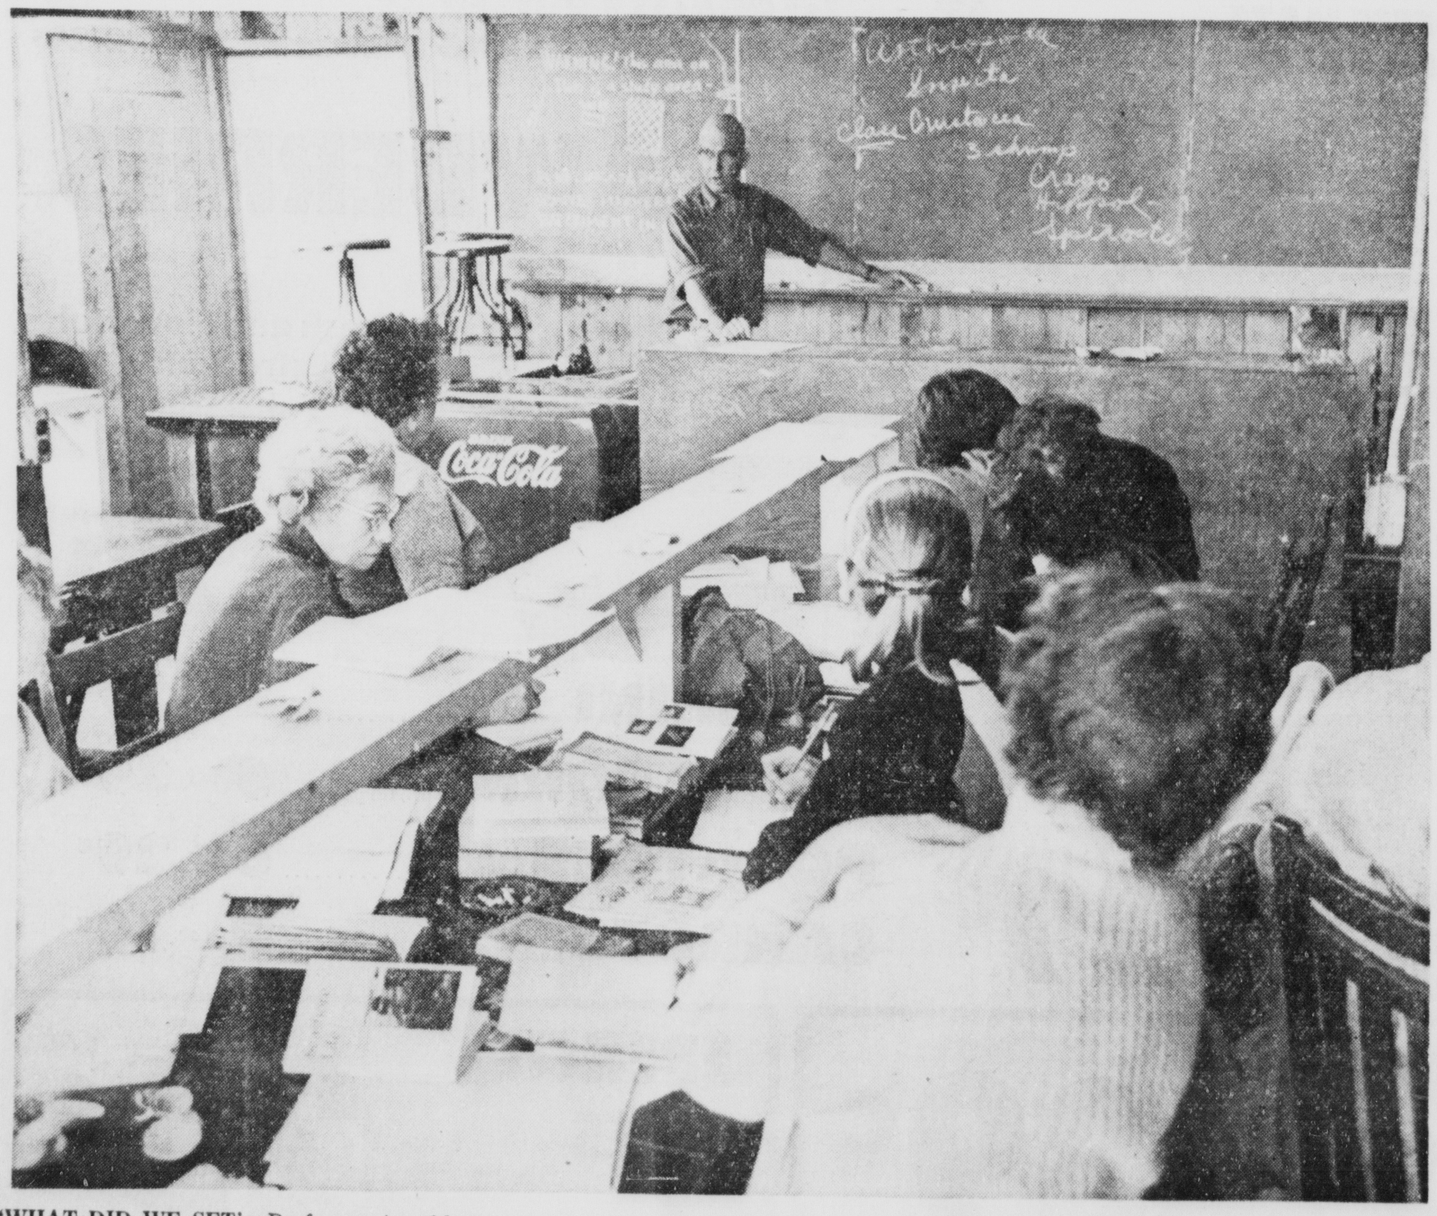
BIRD WATCHING ON THE BAY—Sonoma State College and University of the Pacific students scan the skies above Tomales Bay for birds. "We saw ducks, loons, osprey, shore birds, cormorants, terns and many others," reports ornithologist Arnold. Students are aboard the Bios Pacific, University of the Pacific research boat.



'WHAT DID WE SET'—Professor Arnold summarizes the day's discoveries for biology class in one of the Pacific Marine Station buildings—an out-of-the-ordinary classroom. Station is maintained by University of the Pacific. Dr. Joel Hedgpeth is director.

EXAMINING THE CATCH—Sonoma State College student Stuart Oxford and Professors Clothier and Arnold go over specimens of marine life—vegetable and animal—taken off Dillon Beach for study by the college class. It was workaday education, "down to the sea in ships."

City To Stay At E Street School

San Rafael's engineering, planning and building departments will remain in the basement of E Street School until the building is demolished.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen informed the city council last night that the San Rafael Elementary School District has canceled its "cancellation of lease" on the city-used portion of the building.

The school district withdrew its ouster order after a conference of City Atty. David Menary Jr. and Asst. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, said Public Works Director Norris Rawles.

Menary today said Maloney had agreed at the conference that the city has an equitable right if not yet legal ownership to the portion of the building it is using. The city is acquiring that part of the E Street School in a property exchange, for westerly extension of Third Street. The schools, in exchange, receive a piece of property on the opposite side of the street right-of-way and will, through court action, get clear title to the remainder of the lot. Title now is clouded by the fact the city acquired rights through abandonment of a proposed cemetery in bygone years.

The three city departments will remain in the basement while school classes are held upstairs from opening of school next September until completion of the Glenwood School the following March. The school district had proposed to put special service offices, now in E Street classrooms, in the basement. City manager Andersen said school officials had agreed these could be located in the unused gymnasium.

Miss Presley Wins Fight For Aide

County Welfare Director Betty Presley today won a battle before the Marin County board of supervisors for the right to hire a training officer at $760 a month.

The board turned down the request, 3 to 2, with only Supervisors Peter Behr and William D. Fusselman supporting it. But then Miss Presley arrived to say the woman she was "stealing" from the State Welfare Department, Virginia Sachs, would be taking a salary cut of about $700 per year to come to Marin County.

Miss Sachs, she said, would be a key person in a major expansion of activities of the welfare department, which will see some 31 new positions filled by July 31.

"Several counties are trying to recruit her," Miss Presley added.

Supervisor George H. Ludy said he was worried basically about setting a precedent which might be followed by other departments in hiring at the third step of the salary scale. But County Administrator Alan Bruce noted he had recently hired his own two assistants at the third step. The ordinance on personnel requires hiring at the bottom or second step except in cases where the person has outstanding qualifications and there has been difficulty recruiting.

Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisor Ludy and Peter Behr then switched their votes to unanimously approve the appointment of Miss Sachs.

COMMANDS CORPS — Maj. Gen. Andrew R. Lolli will assume command of the 15th Army Corps at the Presidio of San Francisco Aug. 1. The 15th Corps directs Army Reserve and ROTC activities in California, Nevada and Arizona. General Lolli formerly commanded the 40th Artillery Brigade at Fort Baker and the San Francisco-Travis Army Air Defense complex.

Sunday Auto Sale Ban Bill Killed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Transportation Committee today killed a proposed law that would have prohibited auto sales in 35 counties, including Marin.

The measure, by Assemblyman Tom Carrell (D-San Fernando) was defeated by a voice vote. It had squeaked through the Assembly 42-27 after opponents challenged it on religious and business grounds.

The committee referred the bill to a between-session study.

The measure was the second major Sunday closing bill of the session to go down to defeat. A much wider bill that covered sales of all "non-essential" items died in a Senate committee last month when its author withdrew it for lack of support.

The bill drew support from both the Northern and Southern California Motor Car Dealers Assn., the Independent Auto Dealers Council of California and the Teamsters Union.

It was opposed by the California Religious Liberty Assn.

Carrell originally tailored the measure for only 23 counties in the hope of overcoming opposition in the rural-minded Senate. It was amended to include 35 counties, excluding the 23 with populations less than 40,000.

Carrell said the law would eliminate shoddy business practices on Sunday and permit auto dealers a day of rest.

Bank Elects 7 Directors In Tiburon

Temporary officers elected were Tijerina, chairman, and William O. Weissich, attorney for the bank, secretary.

Tijerina, said 350 persons, representing 8,000 shares of stock, attended the meeting. Eighty-two per cent of the stockholders are from the Belvedere-Tiburon area, he said.

The bank, to be located on Tiburon's Main Street, will open with seven employees. Plans for remodeling will be placed for bid on Friday with the opening date probably in July, Tijerina said.

Mantegani and Fred G. Zelinsky joined to move that Tijerina be honored and designated as founder of the bank.

The new board met today for the first time.

Bodie in Mono County, now a ghost town, received the first long-distance transmission of electricity in the West when power was transmitted from a hydroelectric power plant at Green Creek in 1893.

Health Plan Is Approved For County

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today gave very tentative approval to a new plan for county employees which would probably give every employee coverage.

Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez was told to take the plan to the employees to get their views. Potential cost to the county was estimated at $38,000.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell recommended the county contribution to employees' health benefits be raised from $5 to $7.50.

Fontez said the plan itself would be changed and split into two parts. The basic plan, covering just the employee, would cost $7.50. But he would have to pay extra for coverage for dependents.

An augmented plan covering major medical coverage would be stacked on top of the basic plan for those who wish it.

One major change would be to eliminate maternity benefits.

The county has 748 employees, but many of these, especially the younger ones, do not participate in the health plan. A study by consultant Harry C. Duncan of Belvedere showed that the county government is lagging behind many smaller jurisdictions in Marin County in this employee benefit.

Mitchell explained that the effect of having only older employees belong to the present health plan has been last year that the administrator, California Physicians Service, has had to pay out 142 per cent of what was taken in in premiums.

The rates are sure to go up, he said.

Hearing Tomorrow On Flood Control

A public hearing on flood control projects for streams flowing into Richardson Bay will be held beginning at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Room 322 of the Marin County Civic Center by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Proponents of opening the bay for sports boating, tied in with plans for small boat harbor development in Mill Valley, hope the Army Engineers will participate in flood control to make the project possible.

The creeks involved are Coyote and Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio. The area includes Sausalito, Marin City, Tamalpais Valley, Mill Valley, Alto, Strawberry Point, Belvedere and South Tiburon Peninsula.

Syria was under French mandate between the two world wars. It won full independence in 1944 although French troops did not leave until 1946.

NEW OFFICER—Dr. Warren L. Bostick of San Rafael has been installed as assistant secretary of the board of the California Physicians' Service. He is a past president of the California Medical Assn.

Car Bounces Into House

A car bounced into a house in Tamalpais Valley about 8:20 a.m. today and roused the sleeping occupant of the home with a jar that felt to her "like an earthquake."

Mrs. Orphia Stefani of 302 Cardinal Court said she got up to see her husband off to work, then went back to sleep. "All of a sudden, I felt the whole house shake. It felt like the roof was coming in, and I thought it was an earthquake."

She looked out and found a car wedged against the corner of the house.

Driver of the car, Edward Yurek, 47, of 519 Pineo Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was taken to Marin General Hospital by Marin Ambulance. He was treated for a chin bruise and released.

The California Highway Patrol said Yurek lost control of his car in the parking lot of the Shoreline Market. It smashed two fences and ran over a bed of flowers in the Stefani back yard.

Hub Man Is Hurt; Sleeps At Wheel

John P. Bourke, 42, of 177 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, was in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital after suffering broken ribs and scalp cuts when his car hit a tree in front of 22 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 2 a.m. today.

Bourke told San Anselmo police that he must have fallen asleep while driving north on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Meadow Park School Has Pipe Problems

Progress sometimes brings unexpected problems, the San Jose Elementary School District board found last night when the State Division of Highways informed it of a plan to connect a 42-inch drainage pipe into a 24-inch pipe at the Meadow Park School site.

The division of highways is building an interchange on Highway 101 at the entrance to Hamilton Air Force Base. Its plans call for a 42-inch drainage pipe. The drain at the school is 24-inch. It runs 500 feet through the school property, and may have to be replaced with a 42-inch pipe, said Supt. Ralph Giovanniello.

Word was received from the State Public Works Commission that it had approved the additions to the Loma Verde Elementary and San Jose Intermediate schools.

Resignation of Patricia Bowen, second grade teacher at Lynwood School was accepted by the board. A leave of absence for the next school year was granted to Mrs. Tobi Rosenstein, first-second grade teacher at Meadow Park School. Homer Milford was hired as part-time custodian.

An agreement with Sonoma State College for student teachers was accepted by the board.

Hospital Fire Protection Meet Asked

Marin Hospital District has requested a meeting with representatives of the Kentfield Fire District to work out the "misunderstanding" over fire protection.

The hospital's contract for fire protection with the Kentfield Fire District was canceled last May, but the district has covered fires at the hospital without the contract.

Harold F. Riede, attorney for the hospital board, yesterday wrote Joseph L. Smith Jr., chairman of the fire district board, requesting a meeting with Kentfield Fire Chief John McLaren and representatives of the fire board.

The meeting would be "for the purpose of working out what appears to be a misunderstanding between the two districts with reference to the status of fire protection," Riede wrote.

WHEN OLD FRIENDS(?) MEET

The air was supposed to be more congenial than this yesterday when 49er coach Red Hickey visited his home town of Clarksville, Ark., and bumped into a former school mate, Police Chief Joe Bock. The "ticket" Chief Bock is writing actually is a "welcome home" message for Hickey, who is visiting his 82-year-old father. (AP Wirephoto)

What's Keeping The Giants Up?

What's holding the San Francisco Giants up on that first rung in the National League pennant race?

Don't ask Manager Alvin Dark. He doesn't know. Neither does Vice President Chub Feeney or any of the other magicians connected with the Giants organization.

That's obvious. But the Giants still cling to first place.

They hold a one-game margin over the arch-rival Los Angeles Dodgers going into tonight's battle with the Philadelphia Phillies at Candlestick Park. Billy O'Dell (5-0) of the Giants is scheduled to oppose Ray Culp (4-2). The two teams had a break in their four-game series yesterday.

As a team, the Giants are batting at only a .249 rate. And they are fielding at a weak .972 clip. They have made 39 errors, nearly a third of what they made all last season. They have made only 21 double plays—low in the league. The pitching has been spotty and only Jack Sanford looks reliable on the hill.

For a club noted as a slugging unit, this team is looking more like the hitless wonders. Only they aren't so wonderful, at that.

Some of the individual batting averages aren't so bad, but some of these averages have been fattened with the bases empty hits. Clutch hitting just hasn't been a trademark so far this esason—except, possibly, for catcher Ed Bailey.

Willie Mays is batting .269 against .304 last season. Catcher Tom Haller is .250 against .261; Jim Davenport .240 against .297. Jose Pagan is only .215 against .259, and the 1962 league's leading fielding shortstop already has made more errors than he usually does in a half season.

Chuck Hiller, before he was sidelined with a cracked bone in his hand, was hitting only .127 against .276 in 1962. Harvey Kuenn, used only sparingly, is hitting .192 against .304; Matty Alou .111 against .292 and Joey Amalfitano .188 against .237.

Dark and the rest of the Giants brass are firm in their belief that the boys will snap out of it. They waited out a 100-point slump by elipe Alou and it paid off with that ninth inning homer that gave San Francisco a victory in the second game of a twin bill with the Phils on Sunday.

New Strike Zone Or Cool Weather Reason For Improved Pitching?

CONNOLLY

No one seems to agree and, like the weather, no one can do anything about it. I mean improved pitching and the falling off of the long ball. I blame it on the new strike zone but few will accept that as an excuse. They think the cool weather, since the season began, has been a big lift to pitchers and go on to say that when the weather "warms up" the pitchers will wilt and the hit parade and free swinging power boys will come into their own.

"Cold weather," Casey Stengel was saying the other day, "helps the pitchers and hurts the batter. With those light whip-lash bats hitters sting their fingers and hurt their hands. That is why I say cold weather helps the pitchers—not the new strike zone. In my estimation, the new strike zone has converted cautious hitters into swingers.

"When the pitching balances, it's the club with the defense that rolls along and wins," Stengel explained.

DANNY MURTAUGH, Pirate manager, while here earlier last week, professes to believe that every club in the loop has better pitching than it had last season.

"If the clubs with good pitching had anything to back 'em up, this 1963 race would be an eight club chase," Danny-boy says. "Good pitching is swell if you can support it with hits, runs and defense. But good pitching alone never has won a pennant."

There is a very definite change in the plans and the outlook of Casey Stengel this year, as compared to 1962. Instead of him yaking about doing a favor for George Weiss, general manager of the Mets, Casey right now says he's looking forward to a new ball park in N.Y. and a developing era that he hopes will make his Mets a real contender before he hangs up the spikes.

In contrasting one National League club against the other, Ol' Casey plays cute. He doesn't want to appear as favoring the Giants but in the next breath he'll say the club that beats the Giants will win the 1963 flag.

"They've got the most power and with any sort of steady pitching can't help but be rough and tough to whip," the met skipper declares.

Brilliant Mile Duel Shapes Up For Cal Relays Saturday

MODESTO (AP) — The long-awaited mile race between world record holder Peter Snell of New Zealand and America's best distance runner, Jim Beatty, shapes up for Saturday night in the California Relays.

Tom Moore, the meet director, said both milers have agreed to the meeting.

Snell established the world record of 3 minutes 54.4 seconds last year. Beatty holds the American mark of 3:56.3 plus every other American record from 1,500 meters to 5,000 meters. His two-mile time of 8:29.8 stands as the official world record.

"I'm ready for the race," Moore quoted Beatty from Los Angeles.

Snell won the mile in the Coliseum last Friday night timed in 4:00.3, his first of three California appearances.

Beatty skipped the mile in Los Angeles and concentrated on running 5,000 meters where he beat Snell's countryman, Murray Halberg, in 13:57.4.

Four other milers challenge the two record holders in the feature race scheduled at 7:48 p.m. It will be televised nationally.

Beatty holds the California Relays record at 3:58 established in 1960 when it stood as the American citizen's record. Beatty also won in 1961 with a 3:58.8 but did not compete last year.

Keither Forman of Oregon, the defending champion, won't compete since an injury forced curtailment of his training. Weisiger was second to Forman last year in 3:59.3 with Seaman third at 4:00.4.

Boccabella's Four Homers Lead League

Although his batting average nose-dived, Santa Clara first baseman John Bocabella of San Anselmo won the home run championship of the California Intercollegiate Baseball Assn. for 1963, final statistics showed today.

Boccabella clouted four homers for the Broncos, twice as many as any other batter. He also was among the leaders in total bases (24) and runs batted in (9).

However, the big first sacker, who led the Broncos in just about all hitting departments last year, rated far down the CIBA batting list this season with a .208 average with only 11 hits at-bats. Three other Broncos outhit Boccabella this season as his average droped more than 100 points from his 1962 performance when Santa Clara was runner-up in the NCAA World Series.

Brewer's 851 Mark Leads Nave Lanes

Al Brewer of the 540 Summer Trio League topped the keglers at Nave Lanes for the week with an 851 four-game series which included games of 228, 213, 223 and 187 (a 213 average).

Dick Treadway of the same league had the week's high game of 258 on his way to an 833 series. Bob Codner was close behind with a fine 252 line. Hamer Black of the Wy-No's Mixed League twirled the high three-game set, 619.

Dottie Keaton topped the women for the week with a high series of 566 and high individual game, 234, in the Early Mixer League. Fran Thurman rolled a 560 in the Brunswick Traveling League.

Marin Teeners Win Coast Weightlifting Tournament

Twelve young strongmen from Marin led the San Rafael MarVel Athletic Club to a team victory in the first Pacific Coast AAU Teen-Age weightlifting championships last Saturday in Sacramento.

Dave Holmes of San Rafael High won the 123-pound class with a total o f430 pounds. Teammates Jack Gearhart of Drake and Bryant Hamilton of San Rafael finished second and third in the class with 335 pounds and 320 pounds.

Leon Center of San Rafael High, competing unattached, won the 132-pound division with a total of 485 pounds. Fran Gearhart of Drake and Jeff Chan of S. R. High came in second and third with 425 and 385 pounds, respectively.

Frank Holton, 13, of San Anselmo, snared second place in the 148-pound division. Frank pressed 190 pounds and made a total of 550 pounds to edge teammates Gerry Denman of Marin Catholic, third, and Dave Cooley of San Rafael High, fourth.

In the 165-pound class, Ed Ghiringhelli of Marin Catholic placed third with a total of 575 pounds. Glenn Holton of Drake lifted 580 total to place third in the 181-pound class.

The meet is planned to be an annual event which is open to boys 19 and under. Since the oldest lifter on the Marin team is 18, they'll have a strong chance to repeat as team champoin in 1964.

In the same weekend the MarVel team, minus the teenagers, competed in an open meet in San Francisco but went down to defeat at the hands of the San Diego lifters.

Lone Marin victor in that meet was Carrol Varner of San Rafael who won over Kurt Freeman of the San Diego team in the 198-pound class, avenging an earlier defeat at the hands of Freeman.

Blum Still Averaging Above .300

Ron Blum of Larkspur, shortstop for St. Cloud, Minn. of the Northern League, collected only two hits in 15 at bats during the latest week reported by Player Periscope of Novato, but his batting average remained above the .300 mark at 305.

For the young season, Blum has 11 hits in 36 at bats which includes a home run and two runs batted in. He has scored seven runs.

Doug Wilson of Larkspur, outfielder for the Fresno Giants of the California League, leads the league in triples with three, but is batting .180 with 11 hits in 61 trips to the plate, at last report. He also has two doubles with seven runs knocked in.

Neil Austinson of San Anselmo, outfielder for Decatur, Ill., of the Midwest League raised his average from .200 to .237 with six hits in 23 trips to the plate in the week. Three of those hits were doubles to give him nine hits in 38 at bats for the season.

EARLY REPORT

In an early report, Vincent Pallavicini, a San Anselmo product, is batting .400 for Thomasville, Ga., of the Georgia-Florida league where he played last year. The young outfielder has two hits, including a double and an RBI, in five trips to the dish.

In the pitching ranks, Ron Cole of Mill Valley now has an even 2-2 record with Modesto of the California League. He won one and lost one during the last week reported. He has allowed 23 hits, walked 13 and struck out 14 in his 22 innings of work. His earned-run average is 5.73.

Nino Geminiani of San Anselmo, flinger for Jamestown, N.Y., of the New York-Pennsylvania League, has pitched in only two innings at last report. In those first two innings of the season, he struck out three and hasn't allowed a hit, run or walk.

Pony League To Open '63 Season

The North Marin Pony League will start its 1963 season tomorrow with a game between T and B baseballers and the Engineers at O'Connor Park in Santa Venetia at 6 p.m.

Redwood Track

This meet was a qualifying meet for the Marin County Elementary meet which will be held on the Novato High School track next Saturday.

First place winners Saturday: Shot put — Christensen (NC), 38-9; football throw — Janda (Kent), 128-10; broad jump—Iverson (Reed), 15-10; high jump — Johnson (NC), 5-0; 50-yard dash —Johnson (NC), 6.5; 100—Christensen (NC), 12.0; 660—Goddard (Reed), 1:43.8; 300-yard relay — Neil Cummins, 35.5.

Harvey Klyce Wins North Coast Title

Harvey Klyce, San Rafael High School tennis star, won the North Coast Section singles title Saturday to wind up his prep season in fine style.

Klyce won his final two matches Saturday at Sequoia High School in Redwood City. He defeated Jeff Kerber of Palo Alto 6-4, 9-7, and then downed Gene Phillips of Capuchino High School of San Bruno 6-3, 6-4 in the finals.

His twin wins, in two sets each, provided Klyce with a remarkable performance over the 1963 season which never saw him go the full route of three sets in winning every one of his matches.

"I'll miss Harvey very much," said Fred Hines, San Rafael tennis coach. Klyce, a senior, will be graduating this year. For winning the section, the last match of the prep season, Harvey received a gold medal. The school received a plaque.

Pop Warner Football Plans Set For 1963

The 1963 edition of Pop Warner Football Conference in Marin will start Sept. 7 with the 10th annual Football Festival at College of Marin stadium, it was announced after the recent first meeting of the year by the directors of the sponsoring Marin Boys' Clubs.

The festival will be followed by five weeks of league games and an All-Star grid battle. No decision was reached concerning Marin hosting a bowl game between the Marin champion team and a squad from out of state.

Sign-up dates were set for June 1 and June 8 from 10 a.m. to noon. Sign-up locations will be:

The age range for the youngsters competing in Pop Warner football is 11 through 13, with some exceptions for boys 14 who played last season. Weight limit is 123 pounds.

Sign-ups also were slated for special applicants in August and registration may also be made by letter to the Marin Boys' Clubs, Box 741, Ross.

Rams Sign Bass To Two-Year Pact

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Halfback Dick Bass, one of the few bright spots for the Los Angeles Rams in 1962, today signed a two-year contract with the National Football League club.

Bass, just under 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighing 200 pounds, was presumed to have received a pay raise over 1962 when he became the first rusher in Ram history to surpass 1,000 yards in a single season.

At 'Indy' It's Jones Vs. Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —It will be the field against Parnelli Jones in the 47th running of the $450,000 500-mile auto race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Jones won the pole position for the second straight year with a record 10-mile qualifying run at 151-153 miles per hour Saturday and it stood up through the second session of trials Sunday.

The Torrence, Calif., driver used the same Offenhauser-powered Agajanian Special he piloted last year—with $11,000 worth of improvements.

Only 18 cars were qualified over a weekend of gusty winds that made the speedsters difficult to handle on the turns. Fifteen positions will be open for the last two trials sessions next Saturday and Sunday.

In spite of the wind, drivers cracked all of the qualifying records excepting those for straight eights, front drives and diesels — none of which have been raced at the Speedway for years.

Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N.Y., set a record of 150.250 for supercharged V-8s in a new version of the powerful Novi. Scot Jim Clark set another of 149.750 both for unblown V8s and for rear-engine cars, in a Lotus-Ford.

Drivers Gene Hartley of Indianapolis, who had started 10 Memorial Day races, and Jack Turner of Seattle, veteran of six, announced yesterday they were retiring after Turner crashed on the main stretch for the third straight year.

STEVENS

Fishing, like morals, seems to be a matter of geography. The piscatorial populace that chose Saturday and Sunday to tow anchovies or lures behind a boat on the briny, and did so north by northeast of the Farallones, made the grade in a big way. Tony Caruso of Sausalito told me that on Saturday 15 boats left his place and 12 of them docked with full limits while three unloaded near limits. Nice going, eh? said Tony, "All nice fish to 26 pounds. Weather and water were ideal. After many weeks of bad conditions, at last we had a happy bunch of fishermen."

Unfortunately, the striper strivers didn't fare so well. From one harbor I learned that eight bass were taken on Saturday by a fleet of 18 rowboats. One happy angler, however, out of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, proudly displayed a nice sturgeon he caught. Not a monster, but very welcome to Joe Arisa.

BAIT FISHING throughout the upper San Pablo was very slow over the weekend. Trolling, which was initiated out of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor on Saturday, yielded very few bass.

Many of the hopefuls who chose to try their luck in the back country were blown out, and came home early.

IT'S A FAR different story of the lads and lassies who tried the waters of Clear Lake. Good weather, good water and plenty of fish. Pluggers after black bass did themselves a lot of good—better, according to Don Smith of Don's Bait House at the Highlands, than the live minnow anglers, but both did very well. Asked about catfish, crappies and blue-gills, Don waxed quite eloquent. "Honestly, Ralph," he enthused, "just about anyone with the strength to hang onto one end of a fishing rod could fill a sack with blue gills or crappies. They took 'em from the shore, from piers and from boats. Some nice blue cats in the four-to-five-pound class came in and plenty of fine mud cats."

I learned from Don and others that the lake was worked by more avid anglers and vacationists this past week than for many moons. Weather perfect; water clear and inviting.

PLUGGING FROM shore at Dillon's Point has been definitely slow. But when I talked with Mrs. LaGrone I was told the fellows who bait fished from shore and the fishing pier did rather well. Quite a few fish to 12 pounds were taken along with a few flounders.

FROM INDONESIA VIA HOLLAND —For Femke Schoellkopf, born of Dutch parents in Indonesia, the way to the United States (and Corte Madera) was a roundabout one, via Holland, Spain and Morocco. But she now is proud possessor of a certificate of U.S. citizenship. (Independent-Journal photo)

NOW U.S. CITIZEN

She Knew The Life Of Colonist, And That Of A Prison Camp

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Femke Schoellkopf, who in her childhood knew the plush life of a Dutch colonist and the harsh existence of a Japanese prison camp, is one of Marin County's newest U. S. citizens.

Mrs. Schoellkopf set her heart on living in America when she visited Connecticut as a Fullbright student for a year of college, but was stymied until marriage to another naturalized American, Jacob Schoellkopf.

When Indonesia became an independent nation, the Dutch were forced to leave, she explained. Her family moved to the Netherlands in 1946, when she was 11.

When she decided she wanted to come to the United States, however, she found she was officially an Indonesian for immigration purposes, and the Indonesian quote was minute.

She met her future husband in Spain, and he told her he was sailing a yacht across the Atlantic and asked her to come along. They were married in Morocco and left soon after, selling the boat in Delaware and heading for the San Francisco Bay area. They settled in Corte Madera four years ago.

Mrs. Schoellkopf now has two small children, and says she is delighted with California, especially because the weather is so similar to her native East Indies.

But she also looks forward to accompanying her husband on two-year overseas missions. Schoellkopf is a specialist in the Middle East for the international office of the Bank of America.

With two small sons, Jacob Frederick III, 3, and Alexander Paul, 2, Mrs. Schoellkopf is kept busy at home. But she paints abstracts as a hobby in a class at Mill Valley, and attends San Francisco Symphony Orchestra matinees on Fridays. And one of her favorite activities is the International Hospitality Center in San Francisco, whose members serve as hosts and guides to foreign visitors.

Camera, Binoculars Reported Stolen

A movie camera, transistor radio and binoculars, valued at $381, were stolen from a residence at 135 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael, between 4:35 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Friday, William Edward Coleman reported to San Rafael police Saturday.

Coleman said the items were stolen from him and his roommate, Clinton Robert Cline. Entry was gained by forcing the front door open, police said.

Intoxicated Driver Pays Fine Of $166

Michael Peter Hanson, 35, of 9 Garden Court, Novato, paid $166 fine Wednesday for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 at Loma Verde last May 7.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court also put Hanson on six months probation.

Math Prize

Charles B. Cauldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cauldwell of Ross, was awarded the prize for achievement in freshman mathematics at Occidental College in Los Angeles last week. A graduate of Redwood High School, he plans to enter physics research after graduation from Occidental.

Muir Beach Proposal Protests

Seacape, a proposed 63-lot subdivision at Muir Beach, brought a pile of letters and official objections yesterday, but no action from the Marin County Planning Commission.

Developer Leslie Smith asked for a delay until June 3 while he tries to gain approval for the project from the County Health Department. The sanitation division has objected to septic tanks on the hillside development.

Smith said a new source of water will be found for the subdivision, since the Muir Beach Community Services District cannot serve the homes. "We know their water isn't fit for human consumption," he added.

The developer suggested formation of an assessment district for sewer service for the entire area. He said the sewage might be treated nearby, pumped over a hill and dumped in the ocean.

He said talks are set with water pollution officials on the possibility, claiming there is deep water and a tidal sweep in the area.

The planning staff recommended that streets be narrower than standard, and that some curbs and gutters be left out, because of the large lots involved. But nearby homeowners and the State Division of Highways wrote objections to drainage plans.

Commission Approves Bel Marin Keys Plan

Jack West, developer of the 25-million-dollar Bel Marin Keys project near Hamilton Air Force Base, yesterday won Marin County Planning Commission approval for rezoning for a 12-acre shopping center and almost four acres of townhouses.

The planning staff asked a delay because the plans call for the townhouses to block view of the shopping area from the main street.

Project plans call for a 900-home development, with lots lying next to a lagoon. Included will be an 18-hole golf course, a country club, a riding club, a rod and gun club, and a yacht club.

"These circumstances won't be encountered in other areas," commented commissioner Henry B. Hankins. "I move approval."

West said construction of the houses, delayed by winter rains would start almost immediately.

The commission also approved substandard front yards for 17 lots after hearing that only one building plan would fit the lot legally. The variances would allow a variety of house plans.

Cars At Beach, Lake Broken Into

Dennis Hinkle, a psychologist from Castro Valley, said he lost about $300 in camera equipment from his 1956 sedan parked at McClure's Beach Saturday. He said the rear door may have been left unlocked.

At Phoenix Lake, about $17 were stolen from two wallets left inside the car. Greta Connor of 35 St. Francis Lane, San Rafael, said it was locked.

Expert Will Speak To Pupils On Space

Astronaut Gordon Cooper's orbits around the planet have so excited first grade pupils at Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera, that a talk by a space expert has been arranged for them, Principal Catherine Burch reported today.

At 9:15 a.m. May 27 Lt. Col. Frank Wagner, USMC (retired), an engineer for Lockheed Aviation So.'s missiles and space program, will explain latest developments in rockets, missiles and space ships to Mrs. Helen Wagner's first grade class. He will demonstrate a rocket launching and other developments.

Children's Books Drive 'Success'

The drive to collect children's books for the Marin County Library was "very successful," Mrs. Virginia Keating, librarian, reported today.

Students from approximately 50 schools throughout the county donated books Friday in a "Bring a Book to School" project sponsored by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs and parent-teacher associations.

Mrs. Keating said she did not know how many books were collected but "many are useful," including a number of children's classics.

Boy Runs Into Car, Receives Bruises

Six-year-old Scott Hall of San Anselmo was treated for bruises on his nose and left leg at Marin General Hospital Saturday after he reportedly ran into a moving car at 588 Bridgeway in Sausalito.

The boy is a son of Mrs. E. K. Hall of 129 Madrone Avenue. Police said he apparently ran into a car driven by Julius Bedynek of 201 Valley Street, Sausalito, at 3:25 p.m.

Sheriff's Patrol Car Involved In Two-Auto Wreck

A sheriff's patrol car was involved in a two-car accident at Homestead Boulevard near Tamalpais High School Saturday evening.

The patrol car, driven by Deputy Sheriff Joseph G. Kelly, crashed into a vehicle operated by Ralph Gino Gurie, 27, a San Francisco actor. Gurie was cited for not having a driver's license's. Deputy Kelly said Gurie had been driving off and on for the past 10 years with only a learner's permit.

Kelly said his patrol car had been having transmission trouble. When he shifted into low, the car rolled back slightly.

Ex-Giant Pitcher's Son Is Injured

Robert Allen Joyce, 21, of San Francisco, son of former San Francisco Seal and New York Giant pitcher Bob Joyce, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after surgery for a ruptured spleen.

Home Parlor For Beauty Is Denied

Objecting to what it called "spot zoning by variance," the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday denied a request to establish a beauty parlor in a home in Los Ranchitos.

Mary B. Brookover applied for a variance to operate a beauty parlor in a residence at 7 Van Buren Street, next to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks and North San Pedo Road. A petition from the Los Ranchitos Improvement Assn. asked for approval, saying there was no objection from homeowners in the area.

Commissioners, however, agreed unanimously with commissioner Felix M. Warburg, that the request should be denied because it "would rezone the residential area for a commercial use by means of a variance."

Woman Breaks Arm In Wreck

Mrs. May Bell, 50, operator of the Maiden Lane Dog Kennels near Fairfax, received a broken right arm at 3:45 a.m. Sunday when her westbound car went off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near White's Hill.

She told California Highway Patrol officers that she was hit by an on-coming car, and the impact forced her off the road. Officers, however, could find no evidence that the car had been struck before it skidded 135 feet along the south shoulder of the road.

Mrs. Bell was in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today.

Group Therapy Is Planned For High School Stutterers

Group therapy for high school students who stutter will be offered during a summer speech training program at the Easter Seal Speech Center, 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

The six-week session starting June 17 also will offer individual and group speech training for children of all ages and adults, reported Mrs. Helen C. Daggett, director of the center.

Dr. Arden Monson, staff member of the Speech Clinic of the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, will direct the therapy for stutterers.

Due In U. S.

Lt. (j.g.) Donald K. Benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Benedict, 53 Bolinas Avenue, San Anselmo, will return within a few days to Newport, R.I., on board the J. K. Taussig, a destroyer escort which has toured Africa, the Middle East and the Mediterranean.

Air Impact Wrench Taken From Station

George Steven Crotts, co-owner of Bueschel's Richfield Service Station at 910 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, reported to San Rafael police at 10:09 p.m. Friday the theft of an air impact wrench from the lubrication room.

Crotts said the wrench was stolen about 15 minutes earlier when a group of youths was milling around the station. Value of the wrench was placed at $150.

Sausalito Club Marks Golden Year

Reception To Climax Jubilee

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sunday, May 26, will be a prideful occasion for women of the Sausalito Woman's Club when they culminate their Golden Jubilee year with a grand reception at the clubhouse.

For 50 years they have been leaving an indelible imprint on the character of their picturesque little Bayside town, which is widely associated with many aspects of art.

ORGANIZED on March 11, 1913, the club was founded to "preserve the beauty of Sausalito, to aid through organized effort such worthy causes as may enlist its sympathies and to create a center of thought and action among the people for the promotion of whatever tends for the best interests of this town."

Club activities have been carried on under four sections —civic, outdoor art, music and literary.

The club's first temporary meeting place was the Sausalito Land and Ferry Building, which has been torn down. The second was the San Francisco Yacht Club building, which is now the Ondine Restaurant, and the third was Christ Episcopal Guild Hall.

THE RUSTIC clubhouse, built during World War I, was designed by the architect, Miss Julia Morgan, who was the architect for Hearst's San Simeon estate.

One of the club's first civic enterprises was its staging of "presentation exercises" on June 16, 1916, at the City Park, when the city received

TWO PAST presidents were photographed at the Trident Restaurant in Sausalito as they recalled some of the colorful history of the Sausalito Woman's Club. The restaurant and Ondine's now occupy the former San Francisco Yacht Clubhouse, which was one of the three places the club met before its clubhouse was built. The past presidents are, left, Mrs. Leonard G. James, whose husband is a post Commodore of the San Francisco Yacht Club, and Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, general chairman of the Grand Reception on Sunday which will mark the end of festivities celebrating the club's Golden Jubilee Year.

PHOTOGRAPHED on the sun porch of the Sausalito Woman's Clubhouse are three past presidents who have taken an active part in the general federation of women's clubs. From left they are Mesdames S. C. Stapp, State Chairman for National Defense; King Hettrich, delegate to the recent Golden Gate Federation Convention, and Sylvester J. McAtee, first vice president of the Golden Gate District. Right is Mrs. Ernest H. King, another past president.

ONE OF THE historically significant spots on the grounds of the Sausalito Woman's Club is the founding tree, so named because in saving it the women of Sausalito realized the need to band together for the preservation of beauty and promotion of civic interest. As a result the club was founded on March 11, 1913. Shown with the tree are two past presidents who will have important duties at the Sunday Grand Reception culminating the Golden Jubilee Year. Left is Mrs. Wiley Smith, who with Mr. Smith will greet guests, and Mrs. Clyde F. Trudell, who will be chairman of hostesses.

Pencho Dimitroff To Claim Bride In June 18 Ceremony

Announced recently at a party given by the mother of Emeline Paulson at the family home in El Cerrito was the engagament of Emeline to Pencho Bloch Dimitroff of Mill Valley.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin H. Paulson of El Cerrito, and the parents of the future bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Pope Dimitroff of Mill Valley.

A teacher of home economics in Los Gatos, the future bride was graduated from El Cerrito High School and from the University of Washington with a Bachelor's Degree in Home Economics. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

She has one brother, Pete Paulson of Berkeley.

Her fiance is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, is presently attending the College of Marin and plans to continue his education in geology and chemistry at San Jose State College.

He is the brother of Sita Dimitroff of Mill Valley and George Dimitroff of Eugene, Ore., and the grandson of Mrs. Ernest Bloch of Agate Beach, Ore., and the late noted composer Ernest Bloch.

The young couple will be married on June 18 in El Cerrito.

Mrs. Coyne Being Honored At Bon Voyage Luncheons

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Five sisters have busy weeks ahead and for one of them, Mrs. Walter Coyne (Sheila Doyle) of San Rafael, who leaves in June for an eight weeks journey to Europe and Africa, there are also bon voyage parties. One of these, a luncheon, will be given tomorrow by Mrs. Richard Burke of Greenbrae.

Among the luncheon guests will be Walter's sister-in-law, Mrs. Edmund Coyne, and Mesdames John Gallagher, James Reilly, William Weissich, James Bowler and Dan Dolan. Walter's two sisters, Mrs. James Kane and Mrs. John Robertson, will be hostesses for a luncheon for Sheila in San Francisco not long before she leaves June 15 with her two sons, Jamie, 10, and Colum, 4 for Europe.

On June 2 Sheila and two of her sisters, Mrs. Michael Gordon (Brenda Doyle) and Mrs. Richard McKannay and their husbands are entertaining at a no host cocktail party at the Gordans' home in San Francisco's Seacliff. The party is a benefit for a medical missionary hospital in Ghana Africa where another sister, Mrs. William P. Mahoney Jr. (Alice Doyle) lives. Her husband is the United States ambassador there and Alice has become greatly interested in bringing more doctors and nurses to Ghana.

Sheila and her sons will fly first to Rome where she'll visit another sister, Mrs. James O'Neill (Rosaleen Doyle). Her husband is with the Catholic News Service in Rome. From there Sheila and the boys will fly to Africa to visit the Mahoneys. They'll go in mid-July to Ireland where Walter, who has relatives there, will meet them. Grand finale of the trip will be attendance at the famous Dublin horse show.

DR. AND MRS. EDMUND Mahon of Mill Valley entertained about 65 friends at a brunch Sunday. This took place of the Easter party which the Mahons give each year and had to be postponed.

Barnaby Conrad Jr. and Mrs. Mary Slater (both lived in Belvedere a long time) were married Saturday at the Pasadena home of her mother, Mrs. C. M. Nelson, and Mr. Nelson. Rev. John Burton officated at the late afternoon ceremony in the garden beneath oak trees. Mr. Nelson gave the bride in marriage and her sister, Mrs. Peter Dunn of Pasadena, was matron of honor. Hunt Conrad was his brother's best man.

Among the wedding guests were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Barnaby Conrad of Santa Barbara and San Francisco, and Mary's other sister, Mrs. Sherwood Smith of Charlottesville, Va. and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Nobles of Pasadena. Barnaby and Mary who are honeymooning in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, will reside in Belvedere until their home on Octavia Street in San Francisco is ready for occupancy. Mary has two sons, Billy and Michael by her marriage to William A. Slater III, which ended in divorce. By Barnaby's marriage to Dale Cowgill Conrad, he has three children, Barnaby III, Tani and Winston, who now live with their mother in Woodside.

MR. AND MRS. MILTON STANNARD Jr. of Redlands leave Thursday for an extensive tour of England, France, Switzerland, Holland, Italy, Germany, Litchenstein, Monaco and San Marino. The Stannards' two sons, Craig and Bruce, are staying at home.

MR. AND MRS. BORAH HANSEN have returned to their Tiburon home after a month of travel. They were more than a week in London and Sussex, England. They bought a car there and had it flown to France. In it they toured Normandy and the chateaux country, visited the ancient walled city of Cacassone near the Pyrenees, spent several days on the French Riviera, and then proceeded north through the French Alps to Paris for a week, before flying home.

Old Mill P-TA Family Festival Planned Saturday

Mill Valley's Old Mill Parent-Teacher Assn., will sponsor a family festival from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday on the school grounds.

A brief formal program in the school auditorium will include presentation of life memberships, installation of new officers by Mrs. John Thomson, new Mill Valley school P-TA council president. William Castelli, program chairman and special teacher, will present the third through sixth grades in songs directed by Mrs. David Reed.

Following this program there will be folk dancing in the school yard by first and second graders taught by Mrs. Richard Goldsmith; games of children directed by John Thomson and a volley ball game between parents and teachers organized by Mrs. Donald Du Pertuis and Mrs. Neil Smith.

In charge of food sales beginning at 12:30 p.m. and continuing through the afternoon will be Mesdames F. H. Thiede, hot dogs; James Mason, cup cakes; Wendell Spangler, snow cones; Richard Nelson and John Miller, coffee and milk.

Mrs. C. H. Mielenz and Mrs. George Hebert will present "Art in Action"; and the Girl Scout Troop 79 led by Mrs. Hugh James will present a puppet show. A soft ball game between the sixth graders and parents will be organized by Castelli.

URGENT CALL FOR SEWING

An urgent call for women with sewing ability to help make garments for destitute Algerians has been issued by Mrs. Louise MacLeod, production chairman for Marin Red Cross.

The material has been provided by U.S. State Department, which has reqested Red Cross to make these garments.

Interested women are asked to call the chapter at 712 Fifth Ave., San Rafael.

IN COLORFUL STYLE

Highlights of the decades from the '20's through the '40's included the club's leadership in persuading town trustees to build the stone steps from Water Street up Excelsior Lane as a memorial to soldiers; working with a town committee to abate a rat problem and keeping out the fish packing industries, which tried to put in an odor offending plant at what is now Marinship.

MORE RECENTLY, in cooperation with the city, some 300 trees have been dedicated on city property and marked with plaques. The club helps maintain them under its dedicated tree program. Damage to them is punishable by fine under a town ordinance.

Enhancement Associates, a section of the club concerned with beautification of downtown areas and entrances, has completed the planting in several areas of shrubs and plants chosen and furnished by the club. One of the original areas rapidly becoming a showplace is across the street from the Trade Fair, and the latest such landscaping is at the intersection of Bridgeway, Napa and Caledonia Streets.

Club members have served on the School Board, City Council, Planning Commission, Recreation Commission and Library Board and provided chairmen of the People-to-People Program and many other civic committees.

IT ALSO has a representative attend all City Council meetings and many other commissions' meetings and report to the general membership each month at business meetings.

In the last two years through its recognition fund, the club has awarded four art scholarships and one high school and one college science scholarship.

Among its many other activities are sponsoring of annual art shows and two series of dances for the young people of the town.

Officers' Wives Club Gives Award To Charles Zaloudek

Charles Zaloudek, 17, son of Col. Charles J. Zaloudek of Hamilton Air Force Base, has been awarded the $250 scholastic award by the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club.

Charles, who will graduate from San Rafael High School in June, plans to attend Cornell University or the University of California.

The scholarship program was started in February by the Officers Wives' Club to assist the children of their members in attaining their academic goals from high school. The Welfare Committee, with Mrs. John W. Greaves as chairman, was in charge of the program.

Sons and daughters of members of the Officers' Wives Club, as well as those whose mothers were deceased and whose fathers were members of the officers' club were eligible to participate.

Corduroy Comeback

Remember corduroy? It's making a comeback — as a multi-purpose home decorating fabric ranging from drapes and curtains to bedspreads and couch covers. Now, a 100 per cent cotton corded material is available in a shrink-proof, 45-inch wide fabric.

Novato Auxiliary To Sell Poppies

Poppies will be sold again this year in Novato by the Donald W. Westlund Auxiliary 7816, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Money received from the sale will be used for the relief of local veterans and their families. Dates for the sale will be Friday and Saturday.

As a dual project, members of the post will clean all the veteran's graves in the Novato cemeteries and auxiliary members will decorate the graves with flowers for Memorial Day.

Dress Parade To Highlight Chapter Party

Mill Valley's Omicron Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will have its annual "Revelation Party" May 28, at the home of Mrs. Robert Moore in Mill Valley.

The purpose of the party is to reveal the identity of secret sisters, present each with a gift and choose new names for the coming year.

This will be the last social for retiring president Mrs. Norman Arends and the first one for the new president, Mrs. Earl Curry, who will announce her new chairmen for the year. Transferees from Phi Gamma Nu Chapter will also be honored.

The party will start at 7 p.m. with a pot luck dinner. Afterward entertainment will consist of a "Droopy Dress" parade with each member required to wear whatever she finds in one of the paper bags that have been filled by members with a motley assortment of clothes. The clothes will then be given to the Good Will.

Clean By Hand

If you are fortunate enough to own a genuine silk Sari, make sure drycleaning is done by hand because of the fragile construction.

Clean Clogs

Orovich-Liversage Vows Are Exchanged

Married in a high nuptial mass at St. Anselms Saturday were Glee Adele Liversage and Thomas J. Orovich Jr., both of San Anselmo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nyle H. Liversage of San Anselmo. Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Ethel Liversage of Fargo, N.D., and her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buechler of Lodi.

Wearing a floor length gown of white satin brocade with a short train and a finger tip veil, she was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Cuneo of San Rafael and Mrs. Richard Steinhart, also of San Rafael, was the other bridal attendant. Both wore rose pink street length sheath dresses.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Orovich of San Anselmo and the grandson of Mrs. Domina Orovich also of San Anselmo.

Best man to the bridegroom was George Schwarz of Daly City, and ushers were Keith Fraser of San Anselmo and Arthur Donati of Corte Madera.

The Rev. Donald Kelly performed the noon ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The new Mrs. Orovich graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended both the College of Marin and the University of Oregon. She was a dental assistant at the time of her marriage.

Her husband graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and also from the College of Marin and the University of California. He is now working for the City of San Rafael in the Engineering Department.

Picnic Postponed

The picnic planned by the Marin Senior Assn. on Thursday at Taylor Park has been postponed because of cooler weather.

Buzzin' Boots Party

The Buzzin' Boots Square Dance Club will hold a "Trail-In" party at 8:30 p.m., on Friday in Star Hall, San Anselmo. Jack Olds will be caller.

Katherine McCorkle Wed At St. Paul's

Katherine Ann McCorkle of San Rafael was wed to James P. Doyle of Sherman Oaks in a recent 2 p.m. ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

The bridesmaids, who wore dresses similar to those of the matron of honor, were the sisters of the bride, Patricia A. McCorkle and Mary A. McCorkle of San Rafael.

Best man was Dean Byres of Medford, Ore., and ushers were Gary Mysel and Ronald Lebourdias, both of Naval Air Station Lemoore near Hanford.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Doyle of Sherman Oaks. He was also graduated from high school in Medford, Ore., and is now serving in the Navy as an electronics technician at Naval Station Lemoore.

His grandmother is Mrs. J. P. Doyle of Portland, Ore.

The couple left by car for a three week trip to Washington and Los Angeles following a reception at the church parish hall. They will live in Hanford.

Lawyers' Wives To Install At Lunch In Tweedt Home

Arthur Lebow, president of the Marin County Bar Assn., will install new officers of Lawyers' Wives of Marin tomorrow when the group meets for lunch at the home of Mrs. Lloyd M. Tweedt in Belvedere.

Officers to be installed include Mesdames Francis Walsh, president; Joseph Wilson, vice president; Paul Lamphere, treasurer; Salvatore Bossio, recording secretary; Herbert Chamberlain, corresponding secretary, and Mesdames Hugh Allen, Robert Andresen, John Gunther, Thomas Keating and P. Roy Vallarino, board of directors.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. and will be preceded by a friendship hour.

Architect To Speak At League Picnic

The home of Mrs. John F. Salz at 110 Laurel Grove Ave., Ross, will be the setting for the annual picnic of the League of Women Voters of Central Marin tomorrow.

The picnic will begin at 10:30 a.m. with an hour of swimming, announced Mrs. Edwin Minneman of San Rafael, chairman of the event.

Architect Felix M. Warburg, president of the Marin Planning Council, and a Marin County planning commissioner, will speak on the overlapping jurisdiction between cities and the county in planning matters.

Reports on the League's state convention will be given by Mrs. William C. Anderson of San Anselmo, Mrs. Robert Gicker of Corte Madera, Mrs. Harry Aroyan of San Rafael, Mrs. John Barrows of San Anselmo and Mrs. Minneman.

Catholic Women Set Installation

Mrs. Ralph Tobener of Corte Madera will be installed Thursday evening for her second term as president of the Marin Chapter of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women.

The formal ceremony will take place in St. Raphael's Mission Chapel at 8 p.m. and will be followed by a business meeting and reception in the social hall.

Other new officers to be installed include Mesdames William Ball of San Rafael, first vice president; Rudy Mullins of Corte Madera, second vice president; Aloysius Nathe of San Rafael, third vice president; Lou Schwab of Greenbrae, secretary; Frances Casey of Larkspur, treasurer; Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera, auditor; L. Joseph Keller of Tiburon, historian, and David Vattuone of San Rafael, parliamentarian.

Marin Women

San Rafael Juniors Feted At Tea In McNear Home

Especially honored were the group's new members, Marsha Wilson, Judy Fenton, Robi Blue, Suzi Colombo, Sue Russell, Barbara Carter, Cathy Baker, Jan Prowell and Kathleen Colla. Those girls have just finished their orientation and soon will be training in the hospital.

Mrs. Leiton Elder, director of the volunteers, presented service awards to Jane Terry and Judy Lee Elder for 150 hours and 100 hour awards to Sue Zeit and Cindy Wirt.

In addition to the members and their mothers, Mrs. McNear also entertained Mrs. Illeno Bellak, Supervisor of Nursing, Mrs. Georgianna Rogers, registered nurse, and Mrs. W. E. Ball, assistant director of Junior Volunteers.

The occasion also served as a farewell to Judy Herrman who is moving to Portland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Herrman in July.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Once baby passes the mid-year mark, each day sees new skills acquired. While ball-of-fire babies are apt to do things a bit faster than take-it-easy babies, most babies do these things at about these ages:

• 6 to 7 months. Eyes and hands co-ordinate. Hands hold securely, explore eagerly—eyes examine intently. Sitting up starts, rolling over is easy now.

• 8 to 9 months. Creeping comes into its own. Cup feeding usually handled reasonably well. Can switch objects from hand to hand.

Toothsome tale. Teething really starts in earnest after the 6-months mark. Gerber Teething Biscuits are extra-hard and waffle-surfaced to give baby the biting satisfaction he wants and needs. Scalloped edges make them easy to grasp and hold.

Toothsome treat with built-in nutrition and fun. Gerber Animal-Shaped Cookies for toddlers have twice as much protein as most other cookies, plus B-vitamins in the icing. Crunchy to munch, fun to look at and figure out animal names. (With your help, of course.)

Helping hand division. The baby who is encouraged to try things within his capabilities will reward you with a good progress report. The baby who is urged beyond his limits may lose his desire to try.

Vegetable review. Many different vegetables help build good food habits at an age when food acceptances are most easily established. Gerber offers wonderful vegetable variety with 9 strained and 6 junior choices. All are famous for garden-true colors and flavors. All are specially processed to preserve the utmost in precious food values. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Governor Signs Highway Numbering Law—Whoopie!

We hope you'll forgive us if we give a little—no, a big loud cheer, a whoopie, and indulge in a little back slapping.

The reason? Governor Brown has just signed SB 64 (Collier D, Yreka) and it will become law in September.

SB 64 is the highway numbering law. For years we have been complaining about the numerous numbers assigned to each of our highways. There were federal numbers, state sign route numbers, state highway numbers, county numbers, and a couple of miscellaneous numbers. One highway could have three or four numbers applied to it.

Now some of the confusion will be eliminated.

Did you know that Highway 101 isn't really Highway 101 but Highway 1? And that Highway 1 (the Shoreline Highway) isn't really Highway 1 at all, but Highway 56?

And where they come together at Manzanita the highway with the sign saying 1 isn't?

But it will be. Come September.

Under the new law, Highway 101 is Highway 101 and nothing else; the Shoreline Highway is Highway 1 and nothing else. Good old Highway 40 to Sacramento won't be Highway 40 any more, however. It will be Highway 80. But we'll get used to the new numbers before too long. No more stack of roadside numbers to worry about.

We'll bet the Division of Higways is tickled to death by the passage of this new law. Not only will it simplify their records—they had to keep all the duplicating numbers from duplicating the road projects—but now they'll have us off their backs, on this at least. We've been there for years, yelling and screaming that something should be done.

Something has! Whoopie!!!

Women Give Better Speeches Than Men Because They Don't Wander

After nearly 10 years of reporting, I have finally figured out why women give better public speeches than men.

Certainly there are some men who will disagree with my thesis. They will argue at a drop of a gavel that women speak no better than men. These arguments will be full of round, fullsome phrases and hot air.

I have covered coroner's inquests, school boards, city councils, planning commissions, political conventions, murder trials, farm bureaus and revival meetings. At any one of them, when a woman gets up to speak, she makes the men look like oafs with straw in their mouths.

EVEN WITH AN overwhelming handicap like a silly pink hat hung with blue flowers, the women will walk away with the honors.

Practitioners of the arcane art of public speaking make much ado about acoustics, digestion, hardness of seats and ventilation as factors in keeping the attention of their audience.

Women do not give a hang about such things. They just give speeches that are more interesting.

This is not through any superior intellect. In fact, the secret that I have finally divined might be described as a lack of ability. Or perhaps it is a lack of concern. At any rate, it is a blessed lack.

WOMEN ARE SIMPLY unable to wander far from specific things. Abstract thoughts and phrases are as foreign to them as the plumbing under the sink or the engine under the hood.

Men, on the other hand, take pompous pride in such vacuous phrases as "spheres of operation," "contemporary phenomenon," and "innate ability."

A woman will take such phrases and dunk them in the dishwater. If the phrases dissolve, as most of them do, she is content to let them gurgle down the drain with the rest of the suds. No vague phrases for her.

A "sphere of operation" to a woman quickly becomes a place with walls and windows or an area with signs saying city limits at its borders. "Contemporary phenomenon" fast turn into hard facts, and something as vague as "innate capacity" is reduced at once to the score written in red pencil across her son's most recent test paper in mathematics.

Men like to generalize, to concoct phrases intended to embrace many things. To a man, the ability to make such meaningless phrases is one of life's comforts.

WOMEN ARE comfortable only with specific things. If it won't iron, wash, shake or sweep, women suspect it. And their suspicion in this era of vague English falls like a cold shower.

This is why they give better speeches. They do not spew out high sounding, drifting phrases that even the most alert cannot grasp. They talk about things that can be seen, smelled, touched and heard. The result is that listeners keep their eyes, noses and ears open.

A woman's speech is full of anecdotes. She does not leave her listeners with concepts and theories. She leaves them with experiences.

OF COURSE, because women like details and examples, they always talk longer than men. They have more to say.

A man, told to talk 20 minutes, talks 20 minutes and sits down. Women, however, always ignore the intimidation of time. After 20 minutes they are hardly started. They will not finish for 40 more minutes. Who can stop them?

Who wants to stop them? Not I.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HAT WAS WORN ONCE TOO OFTEN

One burglar was so fond of his new hat that he wouldn't take it off even during his illegal escapades.

This attachment proved to be his undoing. When he was in the midst of one of his "jobs," crouching behind the counter in a super-market, a passer-by noticed that a hat seemed to be suspended in mid-air. Since the store was officially closed, he became suspicious and called police. "The man with the hat" was arrested on a burglary charge.

Lawbreakers don't usually provide authorities with such obvious clues to their identities and whereabouts.

But even if a criminal succeeds in getting away with almost every misdeed, the day of reckonin will come upon him. It may not be in this life, but he will never elude the accounting each of us will be asked to give in the next.

Instead of cheating yourself and others by an unhealthy attachment to things on earth, use your God-given talent to serve others in a constructive manner.

(1 Corinthians 1:31)

Turn even my shortcomings to good account, O Lord, and let my every action be in tune with Your Holy Will.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Marin Senator Jack McCarthy is off for Washington today with Richard M. Nixon for major policy discussions with Republican state and national leaders. It seems a fair question to ask, "What's he doing back in Washington when everything's starting to boil in Sacramento?"

'CHIP' DAY

The fact is this legislative session has been a most unusual one for Senator McCarthy. First, he is the Senate minority leader, a position he is taking very seriously. Second, he has in the lower house a young co-worker (Assemblyman Bill Bagley) on whom he can rely and in whom he has confidence. Thus almost without exception all legislation dealing directly with Marin County problems has been introduced by Bagley rather than McCarthy — by agreement.

At the start of the session McCarthy predicted such activity on his part. "I'm not going to have bills, I'm going to be sort of a watch-dog," he said last Janauary. He's been that, nipping at the heels of the governor and his budget, sometimes sinking his teeth pretty deep.

He has introduced fewer bills by far than in any other legislative session. In short, he's been deeply involved in party leadership problems.

Now he's off to Washington after declaring the "basic ingredients" of a Republican victory in 1964 are "strong organization and vigorous leadership, which we must begin to build now."

McCARTHY WANTS to furnish that leadership. Not only that, but when he speaks of 1964, he's also thinking about 1966.

McCarthy is going to be in the middle of the presidential campaign next year, there is no doubt about that, even though he will have his own campaign for re-election. But he's also looking ahead two years to the time when state offices will again come before the voters.

McCarthy has hired young, able Sandy Quinn, who's been through the rigors of a statewide gubernatorial campaign with Nixon. Quinn is working from McCarthy's Sacramento office. This isn't a state job. Quinn's not a "legislative aide" or any of those euphonious, ambiguous state titles. It's hard to determine what Quinn's title is.

QUINN IS BEING paid entirely out of McCarthy's own pocket. About the closest you can come to a title for him would be "campaign manager."

But then, what is McCarthy running for? Quinn's job certainly has nothing to do with the senator's re-election campaign. He does arrange talks and interviews for the senator. On one recent day the senator did five TV appearances, half a dozen radio bits, and interviews with nearly that many newspapers and their editors.

Where was all this? In Los Angeles.

McCarthy's office is grinding out press releases regularly. But most of them are time for metropolitan papers. Quinn hasn't contacted the I-J once since he's been on the job.

SO YOU ASK McCarthy what he's running for. He grins, and he says:

"I learned last time (when he ran for lieutenant governor) that it's no use running for anything but the top."

End of speculation.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On May 15, the Independent-Journal reports that I stated before the Greater Novato Chamber of Commerce board meeting on Monday in reference to the proposed relocation of Highway 1 in southern Marin, "A straight, wide highway would serve the public much better and not detract from the scenery of the area."

This is not true.

What I did say was, "What the Redwood Empire Association has asked of the Highway Commission, and all that we have ever asked, is to provide us with a safe highway." What the engineers call it, where it is built or how it is built is not in our province.

What your paper did not state, is that it was properly moved, seconded and so ordered that a committee be appointed to discuss this matter further with me at a future date.

Discrimination Still Practiced

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

With the celebration of National Realtor Week congratulations are in order for the real estate community of Marin. I learned from the Real Estate Board that property valued at $47,801,835 was sold through multiple listing alone in 1962. The magnitude of this figure testifies to both the realtors' accomplishments and their responsibilities.

Yet, in the midst of this flourishing and essential commerce there remains an ugly problem: Discrimination against members of minority groups in the purchase and rental of property in Marin.

There are some who are quick to blame Marin realtors almost entirely for this situation. Such an indictment is patently unfair in my opinion; certainly we must all share the responsibility.

It is apparent, however, that the Marin real estate community is vulnerable to the charge that it has provided little leadership in seeking solutions to the problem.

In lieu of informing the community of the extent of the evil, the Marin County Real Estate Board adopts pious reaffirmations of the status quo (such as appeared in the I-J awhile back). As a substitute for proposing voluntary action, the Board consistently opposes any proposed legislation. While extolling the praises of multiple listing, it appears oblivious to the sins of multiple discrimination.

For any citizen of Marin to either deny or ignore the housing reality for minorites in this county is, to say the least, to be badly uninformed. For the realtors to do so is a tragic irresponsibility.

It is neither my right nor my purpose to castigate the realtors for the ills of society. This letter is simply a plea from one concerned resident that they begin to exert the leadership responsibility which is theirs.

If they do, they will have the immediate support of countless organizations and individuals in Marin; and some day they will deserve the respect and gratitude of us all.

Never Can Repay Doctors, Nurses

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently I was at Ross General Hospital for the fourth time (the fifth at the hospitals of Marin). I was well treated, well served and well fed at both Marin General and Ross General. I paid my bills and gave a box of candy, each time, to the nurses—God bless them. But I feel that one can never pay those devoted doctors and nurses, etc. . . .

No Applause After Invocation

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to see this complaint in print as I think it very important.

My Christian education has always taught that an audience does not applaud after the invocation as they did at the Little League ceremony last Sunday in Fairfax.

Another thing I would like help in is, my son found a wedding ring while digging in the yard. It is engraved B.A.L. to C.M. 8/4/07.

I have no need for the ring and thought perhaps the person or family would like it back. I have no idea how long the ring has been here or how to get it back to the owner.

Thanks for any help you may give on these two things.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Five San Anselmo city councilmen denied allegations that official stupidity had created an "obnoxious" traffic situation, telling Supreme Court Justice Jesse Carter of Sleepy Hollow that some stop signs have been ordered down on Butterfield Road and that a Miracle Mile speed limit was set by the state according to the number of buildings on the street.

20 YEARS AGO

Parallel parking was recommended by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce as a means of relieving traffic congestion on A Street between Third and Fourth streets and D Street between Third Street and Fifth Avenue, considered prime bottlenecks.

Marin County yachtsmen were told they couldn't go on pleasure cruises without Coast Guard cards, regarded as a form of passport and requiring photo, fingerprints and birth certificate.

Play producer Josh Logan's mother Susan, who comes from the deep South and reveres its every tradition, was taken aback a bit when, early in World War II, the son of a fine old family she knew was drafted. She rallied, however, when she heard that he was receiving his basic training in Fort Bragg, North Carolina. "How nice for him to be in that part of North Carolina," she nodded, "at rhododendron time!"

John Straley tells of a perpetually hungry couple on a cross-country motor trip who stopped at an inviting inn, stuffed themselves to the gills, and then drove over for a look at the Grand Canyon. "That certainly was a marvelous gorge," said the husband as they back away from the rim. "That's right," agreed his wife, "but between you and me, I wish I'd had room for one more portion of that delicious pie a la mode."

Not Only Is Rockefeller Running But He's Stepping Up The Campaign

WASHINGTON — Republican politicians, who have been wishfully hoping that Nelson Rockefeller would sidetrack himself because of his remarriage, are in for a surprise.

Governor Rockefeller is not in the least thinking about stepping aside. What is more, there is good reason to report that he will shortly step up the timetable of his drive for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller is quite aware that his divorce and remarriage have raised some doubts about his ability to get the nomination and to win, if nominated.

But he does not accept the view that these doubts will be of long duration. He is known to feel that they are now being exploited by those who are against his nomination anyway, and he believes they will be substantially dissolved before long.

MANY OF HIS closest advisers are convinced that it is important for the governor to declare his candidacy openly sooner than he otherwise intended in order that apparent uncertainty on his part cannot be used against him.

This suggests an acceleration of the Rockefeller campaign timetable and an earlier willingness on his part to let his backers in different parts of the country begin active and overt efforts to line up delegates.

Rockefeller does not accept the view that any substantial segment of public opinion will long be disposed to punish him politically because of his remarriage.

PART OF THE basis for this conviction is that his headquarters in New York is receiving an unabated number of requests from party leaders throughout the nation to speak and to appear at important fund-raising dinners.

Neither George Hinman, Republican national committeeman from New York, nor other Rockefeller intimates are yet authorizing his volunteer supporters to start organizing on a nationwide basis. But they are continuing to receive numerous such requests. They are not only being welcomed, but in each instance quiet low-key activity is being encouraged.

My information is that after the governor returns from his wedding trip in Venezuela, things will begin to move. There will be a new intensity to the campaign and it will rest on these premises:

THAT ROCKEFELLER is going all out for the nomination.

That he is not going to be deterred by those—Republicans or Democrats—who want to use his remarriage against him.

That on the basis of his experience in the federal government and on his record of governor of New York State, he can make the most effective campaign and the strongest case against the Kennedy administration.

Declarer took the ace of diamonds, knocked out the ace of hearts, ruffed the diamond return, and drew the rest of the trumps ending in dummy.

LED QUEEN

Then he led the queen of spades for a finesse.

West won with the king of spades and returned another diamond to punch out South's last trump. Now South could not set up the queen of clubs, for East saved the king of clubs and a diamond to defeat the contract.

South made his mistake when he started the spades after drawing trumps. The correct play is to tackle the clubs first.

KING NEEDED

South must find one black king in East's hand to make the contract. If East has the king of spades, the spade finesse will work whether South takes it early or late.

If South leads a low club from dummy immediately after drawing trumps, East takes the king of clubs and leads a diamond to punch out South's last trump.

SOUTH HOME

West wins with the king of spades but cannot lead a diamond. Now South is home.

If East has the king of spades, it is not an entry.

If East has the king of clubs, it is an entry.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 21, the 141st day of 1963 with 224 to follow.

The moon is approaching new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1832, what is considered to be the first Democratic National convention got under way at Baltimore.

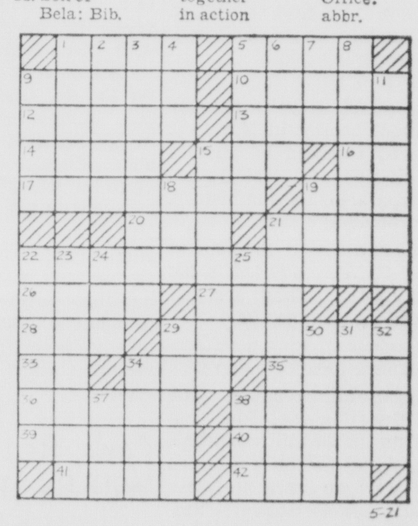
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

No one likes to have an unattractive blemish on the skin, especially on the face. When a lesion is not amenable to treatment or removal, the alternatives are to forget it or conceal it with cosmetics. The application of a covering preparation usually lessens embarrassment and enables the man or woman to carry on.

Most creams of this type are made by cosmeticians who are experts in formulating suitable mixtures for use in camouflaging blemishes. This is not easy because it takes a preparation that covers and spreads well, to create a natural appearance. It must be durable and compatible, especially for women.

A BRITISH dermatologist used a new English product (Keromask) on 50 men and women with skin disorders that could not be corrected. One of his patients was a 16-year-old girl with a large pigmented birthmark involving the right side of her face and neck. There is little doubt, from her pictures in the British Medical Journal, that the covering of cream improved her appearance.

The dermatologist found that a number of shades are needed to do the job right Four pigments are essential: a white and a brown masking cream to hide the blemish and a red and honey-colored toning product to cover and color the layer of masking cream so it blends with the surrounding skin.

BY CAREFUL formulation, the end product contains up to 60 per cent of the pigment. It leaves no grease when rubbed into the skin, has a natural look for men, and can be covered with a layer of powder by woman.

The user must apply the creams separately. The brown base is spread on first when the skin is pale or pink, whereas the white base is employed for yellow or tanned skin. Then the toning cream is rubbed in to acquire the flesh tint. Some women go a step further and utilize eye make-up to draw attention away from the camouflaged area.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CERVICAL ARTHRITIS

J. H. writes: About a year ago I began getting pain in the spine in the neck region. The doctor says it's arthritis. I take aspirin and hot baths but pain remains. Have you any other suggestions?

REPLY

Exercise may be helpful. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on sore neck, which gives specific maneuvers for this type of arthritis.

DRUG WITHDRAWAL

F. D. writes: What are the symptoms after sleeping tablets are stopped?

REPLY

Withdrawal symptoms occur only in those who have consumed large doses of barbiturates over a long period. Insomnia, weakness, tremor, mental disturbances, or convulsions may ensue when the drug is withdrawn suddenly.

HEART BLOCK

F. C. writes: Is it safe for a person with heart block to travel by auto?

REPLY

It is just as safe as walking on the sidewalk or sitting in a chair at home. The answer depends upon the degree of heart block and whether the organ is beating so slowly that dizziness or faintness occurs on exertion.

LOST IN DREAMS

R. H. writes: I have nightmares quite often in which I can't find my way home. Does this mean something is wrong?

REPLY

No. You may have a conscious or an unconscious fear of not being able to find your way home.

More Advice Given By Supt. Rafferty

Maxwell Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, has more advice for school board presidents on how to run the schools.

Rafferty, in a letter read at the San Rafael Board of Education meeting, said economics should be taught in high school and "worthwhile reading" be offered to students.

Economics is already taught in high schools throughout the county.

Rafferty began by assuring school board presidents that response to his first letter, also addressed to board chairmen, "was generally good."

The first letter came under heavy attack from a number of school boards in Marin. It proposed teaching of phonics and division of social studies into separate classes in history, geography and civics.

"Remember the ground rules," Rafferty advised in his latest epistle. "These are just suggestions, not orders.

"Here are a few more recommendations from me to you:

"Worthwhile reading. The State Department of Education has lists of the 35 'children's classics' and the 35 'children's poems' if you want to write me and ask for them." Rafferty offered no explanation as to who chose the list or why.

"Almost any library can get these for you," he continued. "They have always been considered part of the literary birthright of every child over the age of 10. Why not get a list, and see for yourself how many of them are being read and enjoyed by the children of your district?"

Rafferty turned to the subject of report cards. "Let's have them. Parent-teacher conferences are fine, but they can't take the place of regular written reports . . . So let's have subject matter cards based on actual achievement, and with A, B, C, D and F grades (or their equivalent). It's all right to grade such intangibles as 'aptitude,' 'promptness,' too, but usually the subject matter grades tell the most important story."

Finally, Rafferty proposed that economics be taught in high school as a final semester in the senior year in place of "senior problems." "My department is working on units and courses of study in this vital subject right now," he said. "We should have them ready by midsummer, along with recommended textbooks.

"A postscript to my first letter to you," Rafferty concluded. "Quite a few of you wrote in to say you were puzzled about Phonics. You couldn't quite tell whether your schools were really teaching it or not. My office now has a brief, simple mailer you can have for the asking, with three short questions anyone can use to find out whether or not Phonics is being emphasized or merely being accorded lip-service."

Park, Rec Program Will Be Discussed

A review of Marin County's parks and recreation program and a "long-range view of the future" will be discussed by the county parks and recreation commission tomorrow at 2 p.m. in room 413 in the Civic Center.

Kelvin J. Nelson, new parks and recreation director, will present a review of the 1943 master plan for parks in the county, subsequent committee reports, the present system, and potentials.

Commissioners will also discuss open area zoning for county land and programs and facilities for senior citizens.

12 Terra Linda Seniors Win Cash Awards

Twelve Terra Linda High School seniors won $100 cash awards for outstanding achievement in the school's various departments yesterday at a special assembly.

Nativity Scene Not Coming Back

Member of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce commitee yesterday decided that the chamber's Nativity scene is not worth recovering and that they would let the Castro Valley Chamber of Commerce keep it.

The scene was taken Wednesday by mistake when the Christmas decorations used on San Rafael streets last Christmas season were picked by the Castro Valley chamber. The chamber had bought the street garlands but not the scene.

Jack Phillips, San Rafael chamber manager, said that the Castro Valley chamber would be asked to send a check for what it thought the scene was worth. Plans were made to buy a new scene for display on the courthouse lawn this Christmas.

Demos To Hear Resources Aide

Hugo Ficher, administrator of the State Resources Agency, will speak at a meeting of Marin County Democrats Monday at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ruth Lederman, 16 Treetop Way, Kent Woodlands.

Fisher will talk about natural resources and the current session of the state legislature.

Marin College Students Voting

Balloting was held yesterday and today from noon to 2 p.m. on the brick steps of Harlan Hall.

A new president, vice president and six other positions will be filled, including that of cheer leading team, for which only one three-student entry is running.

All other candidates are running unopposed except in the race for public relations commissioner, with three candidates.

Trip To Russia To Be Topic At Church Meet

Dr. Russell W. Bernhard and W. O. Weissich, both of San Rafael, will talk about their visit to Russia last summer with other Marin men at a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the parish hall at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

The program, sponsored by the Episcopal Church Women of St. Paul's, is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Italy is slightly larger than Arizona and contains more than 50 million people.

Col. Gronbeck Will Retire With Honors

Col. Christian Gronbeck of 167 Vista Grande, Greenbrae, closing his 20-year Army medical career, will be honored at retirement ceremonies at the Presidio of San Francisco Friday.

During World War II he was awarded the Silver Star for heroism, the Bronze Star Medal and the Purple Heart for wounds. Assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division in the Southwest Pacific, he advanced from battalion surgeon to division surgeon.

For seven months he was loaned to the Australian government to help treat ailing natives in the Manus Los Negros island group. During this time he lived in grass huts and travelled via outrigger canoes.

Colonel Gronbeck, a native of Dexter, Me., plans after retirement to engage in the private practice of internal medicine with the Marin Medical Group in San Rafael.

Resignation Of Teacher On Agenda

The resignation of Roland C. Samet, sixth grade teacher at Deer Park School and Fairfax recreation director, will be acted on by Fairfax School District trustees today at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of Manor School.

Samet said he had advised the city recreation commission of his resignation from his recreation post. The commission did not report the resignation to the city council at the council's last meeting.

Samet said his resignation would be effective from the recreation post at the end of the summer recreation program on Aug. 16. He plans to visit relatives in England and tour Europe.

Also on the school board's agenda is a request for bus service from Fawn Ridge to the Meadow Club, discussion of the district's building program, and formation of a Fairfax Chapter of the California Teachers Assn.

Four other resignations will be considered. They are: Miss Joan Boysen, Manor School second grade teacher; Mrs. Rosemari Zumwalt, fifth grade Manor School teacher; Miss Carol Wlodkoski, eighth grade Central School teacher and Mrs. Rosalie Kelly, Deer Park School secretary.

Eight Students In Poster Finals

Eight Marin County students have been named premilinary award winners in the Redwood Region Conservation Council's "Forest Fire Prevention: Keep Our Forests Green" poster contest.

The final awards will be made from all the winners of the preliminary awards, all of whom received pens.

On Radio Station

Three Marin County residents appeared on radio station KXKX-FM's program "The Adolescent Revolt" at 8 p.m. Sunday. They were Toni Banducci, Redwood High School senior; Miss Celia Walker, caseworker for the Family Service Agency of Marin County, and Dr. Philip S. Hicks, psychiatrist.

The fair will start with an aquafair show Friday at 8:30 p.m. Booths will operate through Saturday, with final aquafair that evening. (Independent-Journal photo)

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Gardening Supplies Selling Good; Marinites Seem To Love Outdoors

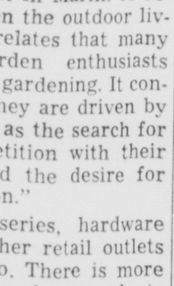
If the following is true, you'd never know it in Marin. A recent report on the outdoor living market relates that many so-called garden enthusiasts really dislike gardening. It contends that "they are driven by such motives as the search for status, competition with their neighbors and the desire for self expression."

Local nurseries, hardware stores and other retail outlets don't think so. There is more sales traffic in plowers, plants and gardening equipment, they claim, than ever before, and Marin must have been omitted from the survey.

Judging from yard activity observed around the county this last weekend, we're inclined to agree. And those doing the work actually seemed to enjoy it.

AUTO GLASS and installation department of Fuller Trimview, San Rafael, is being purchased by Isadore J. Tamres of San Francisco from Texas Aluminum Co., Inc. Tamres will take over its operation by June.

MAIN PRIZE of Dexter's TV new store in Novato was won by Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Slagill of that city. It was a color television set.



Richard Sanford (known in Marin but not a resident) has been made vice president and manager of Sherman Clay's entire Northern California operations.

RUSSELL RALSTON of Corte Madera has been selected by the Western Merchandise Mart of San Francisco to redesign its seventh floor for home furnishings.

INSURANCE MEN. New York Life field underwriters Fay H. Blair, Donald P. Sands Jr., Douglas R. Tangen and Bernard R. Whitehill in San Rafael have been taking advanced courses in underwriting at Berkeley . . . A. A. (Hank) Henrie of the Corte Madera office of Equitable Life was judged leading agent of his company, based on premiums during April.

COMMON STOCK of General Telephone and Electronics Corp. became fully listed on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange today. It was previously admitted to unlisted trading privileges. General's subsidiaries comprise the largest independent telephone system in the U.S.

Among other companies that have transferred from unlisted privileges to full listings on the West Coast exchange are Allied Chemical, Corn Products, Ohio Oil, Parke Davis, Union Carbide and Westinghouse Electric.

STATE AND NATIONAL banks in California may sell their checks (money orders) through non-banking outlets if they are agents of the banks concerned, according to an opinion of Attorney General Stanley Mosk. Neither bank nor authorized agent need be licensed as a check seller and cashier.

CECIL ALLEN of San Rafael Bus has planned to extend his Santa Venetia service to the Civic Center from two trips to four trips a day, with departures from Third Street and Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael at 10:30 and 11:40 a.m. and 1:15 and 3:10 p.m. Fare continues at 25 cents.

'Must Be The Place' Held Over Three Weeks

"This Must Be the Place," the Marin Variety Theater production at Sabella's Restaurant, has been held over for three more Saturday nights.

The comedy review has played to more than 2,000 people in the Coral Room of the restaurant, according to theater president Morrie Batz. A special version of the show has also been announced for the Northgate Theater for the Marin Art and Garden Fair July 4.

Pastor Aide To Talk

Rev. Glen Dale Hofstetter, assistant pastor at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Parents Without Partners Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Adaline E. Kent School, Kentfield.

Two At Dominican Win Poster Honors

Two sixth graders from the Dominican Convent Lower School were among prize winners in the 38th annual international poster contest sponsored by the Latham Foundation for the Promotion of Humane Education.

They are Germaine Cliff and Janie Pedroli. Thirty-seven other students of the school received certificates of merit.

HERO'S WELCOME FOR COOPER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper, beaming with joy and drawling out thanks, received a tumultuous hero's welcome in the nation's capital today. President John F. Kennedy said he proved that "man is still the most extraordinary computer of all."

In a day of great personal triumph for the 36-year-old Oklahoman, who was the youngest and last of the original astronauts to fly, Cooper was honored by the chief executive, congress and the pepole for his spectacular 22.9-orbit trip around earth.

"Thank y'all very much," he drawled to Kennedy after being presented with a space medal in the White House rose garden.

"You can't imagine what an honor it is to be here," he told senators and representatives who jammed like sardines into the House chamber to hear him speak and then gave him a three-minute ovation.

It was a day of glory that he shared with his wife and two daughters, his mother and six of the astronauts who blazed America's path into space. The seventh, John H. Glenn Jr., was in Japan, but President Kennedy said he is "with us in spirit."

Cooper, in his address to Congress, also told something of the faith that helped sustain him during his lonely flight in space.

He said he named his space craft Faith 7 because of his belief in God, his loyalty to his organization and his confidence in the entire space team.

He went on to say that he was "not much of a preacher" but that he took

Belvedere Annex Pros, Cons Aired

Planners Want To Know How Much Plan To Cost

By CORENA GREEN

It was the Belvedere Planning Commission's turn last night to have a go at the proposal to annex part of Tiburon to Belvedere.

By the end of the meeting, after many pro and con speeches and some interesting developments, the commission decided it was without sufficient facts to make a recommendation to the Belvedere City Council.

"Do we know the cost of servicing this area?" asked Chairman E. K. Allison.

"To a certain extent," replied City Mgr. Britton Rey.

"That doesn't mean anything to me," said Commissioner Leslie Graham.

Commissioners Graham and George V. Banning were appointed to meet with council representatives to learn the answers to these questions: What will it cost Belvedere to annex the area? What extra services will be required? What is the revenue expected to accrue to Belvedere?

REPORT DUE

The committee will report at an adjourned commission meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the Belvedere Community Hall.

Allison pressed Fred G. Zelinsky why he had placed the boundary line where it was. Zelinsky said he originally had not included so much but on recommendation of City Atty. William H. MacKay and Rey, the area was expanded.

Allison was unsatisfied with Zelinsky's explanation.

Charles Tijerina, who has a piece of property in the proposed area and is opposing the annexation, said he and Fred Mantegani would offer the rest of their property for annexation at the next meeting. "And the rest of the hill if you wish," added Mantegani.

WILL TAKE THOUGHT

"Will you accept?" Tijerina asked of city council members present.

"That will take thought," Councilman Sally Mathews answered.

"You haven't given much thought to the present plan. There is nothing else we can do but request annexation. The minute you annex this area our fire rate will go up and we can't afford it," Tijerino declared.

"We have put the Tiburon Peninsula in trouble with respect to their incorporation. It is to our advantage for Tiburon to develop properly," said Banning.

EXPECTS BUSINESS

Zelinsky claimed Safeway Stores expect to do one and one-half million dollars business the first year and two and one-half the second. He predicted the full development of the area proposed for annexation, including 30 stores, an apartment and perhaps a motel, would bring in eventually 10 million.

Herbert H. Scheier, spectator, reminded the commission that not a penny would be realized by the city from food sold. He also noted that owners of property to be annexed are not liable for prior indebtedness of a city unless the writ-

Russ Propose U.S. Remove A-Weapons

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Russia has proposed to the United States that nuclear weapons be removed from "the entire Mediterranean Sea," officials disclosed today.

The proposal was contained in a note delivered by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin to Undersecretary of State George W. Ball yesterday.

Officials said it called for a nuclear-free Mediterranean, a proposal Russia apparently has not made in such terms before.

The United States announced earlier this year that it was withdrawing Jupiter missiles from Italy and Turkey and replacing them with three missile firing submarines on Mediterranean duty.

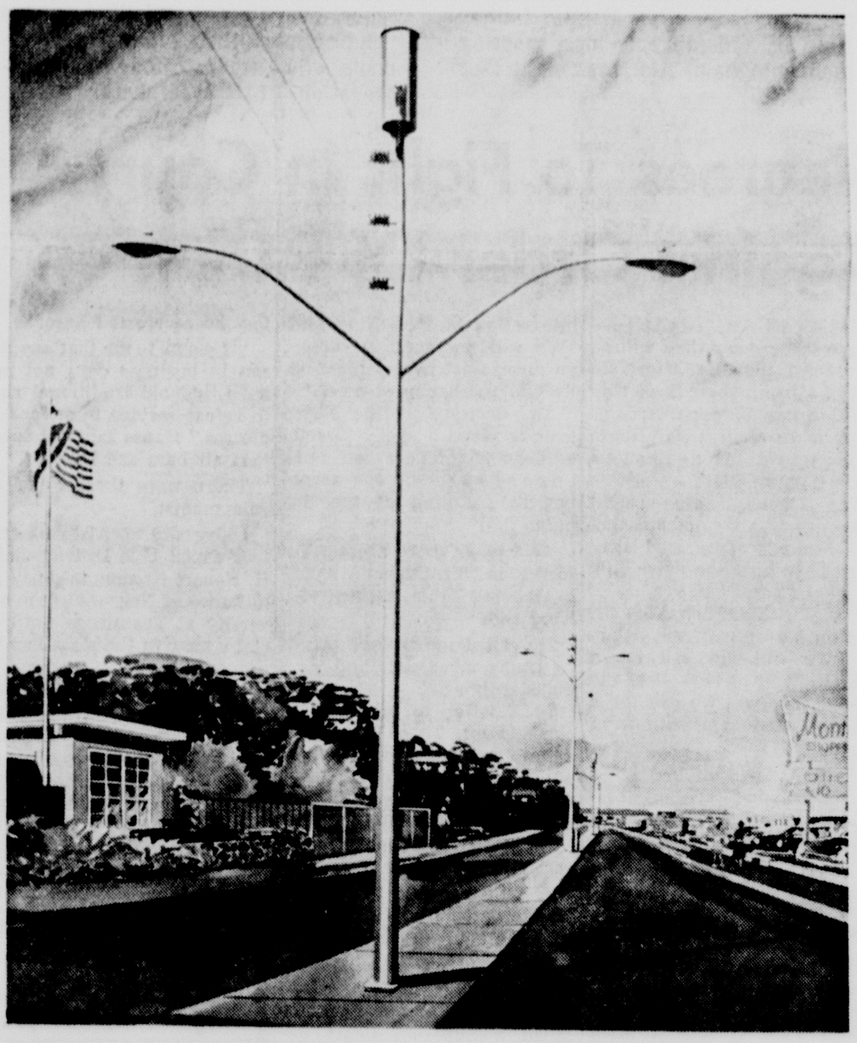
New Third Street Light Poles Proposed



NEW LOOK IN POLE LINES—This is artist's conception of how Third Street in San Rafael from Union Street to Embarcadero would look with new pole design proposed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Something new in pole lines was proposed last night for the portion of San Rafael's Third Street now being widened.

George Henderson, San Rafael manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., proposed that in lieu of placing lines underground, his firm would install steel poles that look like electroliers — and in fact would carry street lights. Three overhead wires would be strung on these poles, which would be in the center island of the street. Service connections would go underground.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. is prepared to put its Third Street cables underground down the divider strip.

Henderson's proposal resulted from two meetings of utility company representatives with city public works department officials. PG&E objected that complete underground installation would cost $80,000 for the two blocks. Two more meetings will be needed to iron out details, he said.

One detail that arose last night was the question of what happens to the city's fire alarm lines, now strung from the utility poles. Henderson said they could not be placed on the steel poles. Donald Stephenson of Pacific Telephone said they might be placed in a telephone duct, but "this possibly would cause us quite a problem."

The council approved the PG&E idea, if details can be worked out satisfactorily. Henderson said the new poles had been designed for new subdivisions, and this would be their first use in a major established street.

"We're ready to go ahead any time," he said.

Two More Quit County Schools —Resignations Now 27 For Year

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Two more persons have quit their jobs with the Marin County Schools office, and a third is threatening to go.

Further charges of "passing the buck," ineptitude and general confusion among the schools office administration were made yesterday by 16 other employees who left their jobs with the office within the past year, bringing the total departures to 27.

The latest resignation came from Harold J. Simpson, a guidance consultant with the pupil personnel services department. Simpson declined comment on the reasons for his resignation, saying he will write them to Supt. Virgil S. Hollis later this week.

Mrs. Bernice Hallenbarther, secretary in the instructional materials center, also has resigned. Her resignation is the third in the four-employee department. Others who left are Charles J. Vento, director, and Margaret Anne Travis, also a secretary.

Mrs. Hallenbarter declined to comment on her resignation. Friends, however, said she had planned to leave for some time and her departure was probably not connected with the mass exit.

Some of those who quit in past months were more willing to talk.

"When I quit, the administrators handed me a letter of resignation all typed out and asked me to sign it," said Royal E. Druba, who worked from 1960 to January, 1962, as supervisor of transportation and maintenance.

"George Emmons (director of business services) told me I'd never get another job in the county if I didn't cooperate. I told them I was a retired Army officer and didn't need their job or their recommendation.

"I refused to sign their let-

Gov. Brown Signs Into Law Package Welfare Measure

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown swiftly signed into law today a welfare package bill which will push California's welfare spending over the one billion-dollar mark.

Given final passage only yesterday, the measure was rushed to the governor for his signature to make the state eligible for an additional $60,000 a day in federal aid.

Brown called it "the most important single piece of welfare legislation which has been adopted durng my administration."

The bill will eventually boost welfare expenditures by some 128 million dollars a year. At the outset, it wll cost the state 28 million dollars—but counties will save 21.3 million dollars.

Highlights of the provisions:

Bring in federal funds, to be matched by the counties, to pay medical expenses of qualified persons over 65 for the first 30 days of their illness. Aid is now delayed until the 31st day.

Extend aid to needy children of unemployed fathers. Brown said studies showed jobless fathers would leave their families as a last resort so the youngsters could qualify for assistance.

Widen the definition of disability in the aid to the totally disabled and provide rehabilitation service for these people.

Allow aid in emergency cases. At present, the governor noted that even hardship cases must wait until all the paperwork has been done.

Sponsors To Push For Motorist Tax Increase

The Senate-approved bill sailed through the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee yesterday after it accepted amendments that could raise another 30 million dollars for rapid transit.

The measure calls for an increase in the gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon, a step-up in vehicle registration fees from $8 to $9 and a 19 per cent jump in truck weight fees.

The revenues are earmarked for improvement of city streets and county roads. But cities and counties can use their share for rapid transit — or counties could increase the motor vehicle in-lieu tax by one-half of 1 per cent for that purpose.

The governor originally opposed the bill, saying he was pledged to no new taxes this year.

The bill goes next to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, then to the House floor. If, as expected, the Assembly passes it, Collier has predicted the Senate will accept the new terms.

Powers May Quit Mercury Team

HOUSTON (UPI)—Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers, reported to be on the way out of the project Mercury team, was expected to arrive here today instead of going to Washington with space hero L. Gordon Cooper.

Powers

Powers would not confirm or deny a story in a Houston newspaper yesterday that said he intends to resign. He said he might make an announcement by Friday.

Powers said from Cape Canaveral yesterday that he did not intend to go to Washington or to take part in any of the festivities arranged for Cooper.

The newspaper story from Cape Canaveral quoted high officials as saying that Powers intends to announce his resignation soon.

U.S.-Russ A-Energy Pact Extended

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union signed a memorandum today extending for two years their agreement to exchange information and specialists on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The agreement was signed by Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, and Andronik Petrosyants, chairman of the Soviet State Committee for Utilization of Atomic Energy.

Jet Airliner Sets More Records

The Air Force Boeing 707 flew the 5,004 miles in 9 hours 53 minutes and 52 seconds.

Revolt In Turkey Is Crushed

Aydemir

Radio Ankara announced the proclamation of martial law in three cities —Ankara, Istanbul and Izmir.

The revolt, headed by ex-Col. Talat Aydemir, lasted less than 12 hours. Among forces backing him were cadets of the war college, Turkey's West Point.

Radio Ankara announced Aydemir and 10 other top insurgents were arrested. They are expected to be tried shortly.

Seven persons were reported killed and 23 wounded during fighting in the capital. Most of them fell when government forces attacked cadets who defied an ultimatum to return to their barracks and surrender.

Everest Climber Had No Oxygen

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—James W. Whittaker, first American to conquer Mount Everest, had to struggle down from the world's highest peak for three and a half hours without oxygen, he disclosed yesterday.

Whittaker

Whittaker, 32, of Redmond, Wash., was accompanied by Nepalese Sherpa guide Nowang Gombu on the successful summit assault May 1.

Details of the climb were made known in Whittaker's first personal radio transmission to Katmandu.

The broadcast also brought word that a five-man team attempting to scale the unexplored west ridge of Mount Everest would be "very, very lucky" to reach the summit but another team was proceeding on schedule by the relatively familiar South Col route.

Africa Nations Strive For Unity

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI)—Hopes revived today that the 31 nations of Africa might lay the groundwork for a single, unifying organization at their summit meeting beginning here tomorrow.

The African countries now are generally divided into two groupings, the "Casablanca powers" and the "Monrovia group." Each has introduced a draft charter for an African organization at preliminary meetings here.

But last night Senegalese foreign minister Doudou Thiam, spokesman for the 31 foreign ministers, said they had agreed to present an Ethiopian draft to the summit as the main basis for discussion.

New Israel President Elected

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Russian-born Zalman Shazar, one of the pioneering early settlers to what now is Israel, today was elected the nation's third president.

The 73-year-old Shazar, a writer, scholar, and former government official, succeeded his lifelong friend, the late Izhak Ben-Zvi, who died last month. Israel's first president was the late Chaim Weizmann.

The knesset or parliament elects Israel's presidents, who have largely ceremonial duties. Political power is exercised by the premier, now David Ben Gurion.

Russ Killed In Cuba

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI)—Cuban refugee sources said last night anti-Castro raiders killed two Russian soldiers and wounded six in a clash near the Nicaro nickel mines in Cuba.

A spokesman for the refugee "Student Revolutionary Directorate" said four Castroite militiamen also were killed and seven wounded by the raiders. Twelve anti-Castroites captured in the clash are believed to have been executed, the spokesman said.

Segregation Problem

The legion's executive committee faced the task of finding a new site for the convention, which had been set for Sept. 6-12.

Gov. Wallace Eying Presidency?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was described today as knowing that in Gov. George Wallace of Alabama he is dealing with a man who hopes to take the South away from him in 1964.

A close associate said the president is aware that Wallace hopes to hold himself out as a martyr to Southern segregationists by a dramatic stand against segregation at the University of Alabama.

This could come either at the university branch in Huntsville in June or on the Tuscaloosa campus next September. In either setting, those who know him well say they expect the governor to carry out his repeated pledge personally to block the doorway against admission of a Negro student.

It apparently would fit the governor's political purpose if he were arrested by U. S. marshals. But the assumption is that news pictures showing U. S. officials jostling him aside would do about as well.

According to one of those present, Kennedy got the governor's personal pledge in a brief helicopter confrontation last Saturday that local and state civilian authorities would maintain law and order in Birmingham.

Saying that nothing could please him more, the president replied that he would not use federal troops dispatched to military reservations in Alabama unless there were fresh and uncontrolled racial disturbances.

But the president made it plain he would use federal force if necessary to maintain the rights of Negroes to peaceably assembly and petition.

Nothing was said about the prospective forthcoming university showdown.

But national Democratic officials are convinced this action will be the forerunner of an effort by the governor to keep Kennedy's name off the 1964 party ballot in Alabama—and as many other Dixie states as will go along with the idea.

In Alabama the Democratic state committee, which the governor controls, could designate a slate of electors pledged to Wallace, as officially uninstructed, to carry the party emblem on the November ballot. Kennedy electors presumably could be put on the ballot too, without the Democratic party designation.

In conference he has held with some Southern senators, Wallace has outlined plans to run for president. He has expressed the belief that he could sweep the South and throw a close election into the House of Representatives.

ANNOUNCES LEGAL FIGHT—Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., tells a Negro mass meeting in Birmingham, Ala., last night that legal means will be used to fight a school board order expelling or suspending more than 1,000 Negro students who demonstrated against segregation. (AP Wirephoto)

Negroes To Fight In Court Against Order Of Expulsion

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Negro leaders say they will go to federal court in efforts to void a Birmingham school board order to expel or suspend more than 1,000 Negro pupils who demonstrated against segregation.

The school board's action yesterday was not unexpected, and Negro leaders said they planned to fight the move only by legal means.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said on his return from Atlanta, "We will not call for a mass walkout or boycott of the schools, nor will we call for a renewal of demonstrations at this point."

After a meeting with other integration leaders, King said, "We will not seek to correct an unwise act by moving hastily into another unwise act."

The decision by the Negro leaders saved a shaky biracial agreement which had been threatened by the school board's handling of the dispute.

"We know there are certain forces in Birmingham trying to sabotage this agreement," King said.

He called the board's action "a tragic move, immoral . . . a dastardly act."

In a letter to school principals, Supt. Theo Wright ordered immediate expulsion of pupil participants over 16 and suspension of those under 16. It affects 1,081 pupils arrested in protest marches over the past several weeks.

A school board spokesman said the action was in keeping with the board's policy on truancy.

On another front, Commissioner-Mayor Arthur Hanes called a Superem Court decision outlawing city and state interference in sit-in demonstrations "an accommodation for those arrested here."

"It seems to me that any person in business does not now have that old traditional right to refuse service to anyone he desires," Hanes said. "It seems that all bars are lowered."

There were these other developments:

University of Alabama trustees asked U.S. District Judge H. Hobart Grooms to delay admittance of Negroes to the university at Tuscaloosa until racial unrest in the state has improved.

A Negro voter registration drive at Selma, Ala., about 100 miles southwest of Birmingham, failed to produce hoped-for masses of Negroes, but a campaign leader said the turnout of about 38 still was encouraging.

Principal Hiring Is Due Novato School Trustees

Hiring of principals for the Novato High School and Hill Junior High School will come before the Novato Unified School District board at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

Robert McKeay, principal of the high school since its beginning, and Robert Patterson, principal of Mill Junior High School, have resigned to take other assignments.

Dr. Edward Anderson of Booz, Allen and Hamilton will report on progress of a study of organization Novato Unified, San Jose and Dixie Elementary, and San Rafael Elementary and High School districts.

The board will open bids on remodeling the high school and discuss salary schedules for administrative and non-teaching personnel.

Officer Promoted

Rexford W. Parfitt of 1280 Denlyn Road, Ignacio, has been promoted to Lieutenant Colonel in the United States Air Force. He is stationed in Viet Nam with U.S. units training and advising the Viet Nam Air Force.

There are at least two populations of monarch butterflies in North America, one in the western states and the other throughout Midwest and East.

U.S., MART REACH ACCORD ON TARIFF

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and the Common Market countries reached a compromise in tariff talks today, pulling the GATT ministerial conference back from the brink of failure.

The Common Market accepted the American principle that tariffs must be cut "across the board," or evenly on all products, informed sources said.

In turn, the Americans agreed that distortion of trade caused by high tariffs which still remain after cuts may be examined.

Final details of the compromise still were being worked out. But a resolution embodying the two views was expected to be voted in a plenary session of the general agreement on tariffs and trade (GATT).

An American spokesman said "we are more optimistic than at any time since the negotiations began."

As the Europeans met for what promised to be their final discussion, spokesman Maurice Brasseur, the Belgian foreign trade minister, said "we have almost reached agreement."

Here's Chance To Dial In Behind The Scenes

Marin County telephone users will see what's behind their dial telephone system and get a preview of communications in the future at a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. open house in San Rafael tomorrow, Thursday and Friday evenings.

J. D. La Noue, PT&T district manager, announced the public is invited to tour the firm's new three-million-dollar central office at 220 Shaver Street, from 4 to 10 p.m. each of the three days.

Visitors will look behind the scenes at the new long distance dialing equipment center that serves all of Marin County. The facility, which went into service last fall, hooked Belvedere, Bolinas-Stinson Beach, Ignacio, Inverness, Nicasio, and Point Reyes into the nationwide "direct distance dialing" network. It also provided dial "1" for long-distance calls.

Highlighting the open house will be a huge scientific trailer, loaded with communications marvels of the past, present and future. Conducting tours through the exhibit on wheels will be two PT&T employees, Valerie Valentino and Peggy Mayer.

The trailer contains a variety of displays tracing the evolution of the telephone, starting with replicas of sets used by Alexander Graham Bell to Telstar, the Bell System's communications satellite.

Other exhibits show push-button telephones, and phonovision, which transmits a picture as well as the sound. There is also a demonstration of the optical maser, an experimental method of carrying all kinds of communications by means of a light beam.

SUE BINFORD

Maritime Day Essay Winners Are Announced

Leslie Celeste Leonardi of Marin Catholic High School and Mark DeSmet of Tamalpais High School have won sea trips as regional first prize winners in the National Maritime Day essay contest.

Miss Leonardi is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Leonardi, 355 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael. DeSmet is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeSmet, 75 Rancho Drive, Mill Valley.

The type of trip they won will be announced tomorrow at a luncheon in San Francisco.

Sue Binford of Novato High School received honorable mention, an achievement certificate and a pen and pencil set.

The contest was sponsored by the Propeller Club of the United States as part of the observance of National Maritime Day tomorrow.

Miss Leonardi and DeSmet, along with eight other regional winners from Northern California, were honored at a luncheon today aboard the S. S. Golden Bear in San Francisco and given a tour of the bay. Tonight they will attend a dinner at the Hunter's Point Officers' Club and the Giants-Phillies baseball game at Candlestick Park.

All students wrote on the subject "American Ships in the Expanded Trade Program."

Dixie Role In Unification Due Discussion

Dixie School District's role in possible unification plans for North Marin school districts will be discussed tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Mary E. Silveira School by Edward Anderson of the consulting firm Booz, Allen and Hamilton.

The firm is studying unification proposals for the Dixie, San Jose, Novato and San Rafael school districts and the Marin County Committee on School District Organization. Anderson will report on the study's progress to date, with specific information on Dixie.

District Supt. Dennie B. Willis said other matters to be considered at the board's meeting include reports on testing and speech programs, appointment of summer school teachers, and a salary schedule for principals.

The median age of the United States population at the time of the 1960 census was 29.5 years.

Point Reyes Man Robbed Of $50; Suspects In Jail

A 42 year-old Point Reyes man was robbed of $50 in cash early today on a lonely stretch of road on Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito, shoved down a hill, and his car stolen.

Two suspects in the robbery of Leonard W. M. Bowman were caught shortly afterwards by sheriff's deputies and placed in county jail by Sausalito police, charged with robbery and car theft.

They are Airman 3c James W. Allison, 20, stationed at Travis Air Force Base, and Navy PO2 Charles D. Swords, 21, stationed aboard the Paul Revere in San Francisco.

Bowman told officer Herbert Smith of Sausalito police that he was en route from San Francisco to Point Reyes station at 4:55 a.m. He picked up the two service men in San Francisco, and asked the airman to drive.

After crossing Golden Gate Bridge, he said, Allison turned the car, a 1962 blue Comet sedan, off the highway and up to the ridge.

The service men immediately demanded Bowman's money, the victim said. "I tried to talk them out of it," he added, but then gave them what he had—between $40 and $50. The pair discussed stealing his ring and watch but decided against this when the Navy man said such items can be traced, Bowman said.

After the robbery, Bowman related, he was "shoved down a small hill into some bushes." The men got in his car and drove off.

Bowman walked down the hill, found his car on the highway near Spencer Avenue with keys in it, and drove southbound. He found the men walking toward San Francisco.

He drove back to Sausalito police station and reported the robbery to Smith, who called for assistance. Sheriff's deputies Ernest Nielsen and Boyd Burnham responded.

Burnham picked up the two men about 50 yards north of Waldo tunnel.

the disappearance of the bonds have learned that two men, whose identities were not disclosed, deposited several treasury certificates of large denomination-including one of more than one million dollars value—in the Swiss bank.

The newspaper said the State Department is seeking to have the Swiss government lift its customary banking secrecy to establish whether the certificates on deposit are part of those missing from the Federal Reserve Bank vault.

Spokesmen for both the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board said in Washington they were unaware of any new developments concerning the disappearance of the certificates.

Each of the 12 missing certificates, as well as the interest coupons, bore a number making it possible to identify each certificate.

The reserve board spokesman said that at this time the disappearance of the certificates involves no financial loss to anyone.

He explained that the California bank which had bought the certificates had received new ones.

Should any of the missing certificates be presented by a bank for payment, he said they would be honored, but added the presentation would trigger an immediate investigation. The certificates matured May 15 and are no longer drawing interest.

It was disclosed in Washington yesterday that a report on the disappearance of the securities is scheduled for consideration this week by the House Banking Committee. Sources said the report is critical of bank procedures.

ten consent of two-thirds of them is obtained.

The question of who initiated the proceedings was discussed. Zelinsky said he had requested Belvedere to annex his property and had been approached by local Belvedere residents to do so.

Mantegani reminded the commission that Belvedere's fire budget was $16,000 and the Tiburon Fire Protection District is $101,000. "If you take the area you will have to give protection. That's a lot of sales tax," he remarked.

STOCKS TODAY

OBITUARIES

Eugenia Whitehead Dies At 75

Mrs. Eugenia Coulter Whitehead, 75, a retired deputy collector for Internal Revenue, was found dead today in her trailer at Palm Lane Trailer Court, Novato.

Assistant Coroner William Bradley said Mrs. Whitehead had a heart murmur and had been under a doctor's care for some time. Death appeared to be from natural causes.

She is survived by a nephew, James A. Coulter Jr. of 10 Washington Street, Novato, and a foster brother, Albert McNamara, of San Rafael, who works for the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Redwood Chapel in Novato.

Mrs. Whitehead was a native of Kentfield. Her late husband, Harry C. Whitehead, worked for Associated Oil Co.

Neighbors saw her alive about 10 p.m. Sunday. Since then, friends had called her and received no answer. This morning, friends went to the trailer and found her lying dead on the floor.

BLANCHE STONE

Mrs. Blanche C. Stone, a resident of Marin County for 22 years, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Stone, a native of Ohio, had lived in San Francisco before moving to Marin. Her husband, the late Floyd B. Stone, died several years ago. She lived most recently at 360 Vista Grande, Greenbrae.

She leaves a sister, Mrs. Olive Mervyn of Greenbrae, and a brother, Milton S. York of Willoughby, Ohio.

Private family services will be held tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. The family prefers memorial gifts to the Marin County Heart Assn.

time over the Indian Ocean during his 17th orbit to tape record a prayer in which he which he thanked God "for letting me be in this position" and "seeing these stars You have created."

He said he also asked God to help Americans work with one another to make his and future space flights a success and "to be with all our families."

Starting just before noon and going on into the afternoon, the Major was honored and feted by the great and the small. Police estimated that 250,000 persons lined Pennsylvania Avenue to watch him parade to capitol hill.

Kennedy, at the White House, paid tribute to Cooper and the original seven astronauts as "a very distinguished group of Americans.

He said that "in this rather settled society, (they) demonstrated that there are great frontiers still to be crossed, and in flying through space have carried with them the wishes, the prayers, the hopes and the pride of 180 million of their fellow countrymen."

Cooper, the recipient of the praise, accepted his honors modestly. But in the 20-minute drive to the capitol his face broke out in an almost continuous grin as he waved to the thousands and reacted to the youngsters dashing out of the lines to touch him.

As a man who has conquered space, he did not seem overawed by the assemblage of military leaders, supreme court justices and congressmen who greeted him with a three-minute ovation at the House.

On his return to Honolulu from the carrier Kearsarge after his landing from space, he told his audience, he flew over the battleship Arizona which was sunk by the Japanese in the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor.

"I thought of the many thousands of American military men who have fought and died, are still fighting and dying, and will in the future fight and die that we may have a free country," he said.

Novato High Seniors To Hamilton Base

Approximately 60 Novato High School seniors toured Hamilton Air Force Base this afternoon.

The tour was sponsored by the military affairs and education committees of the Novato Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Novato High School and Hamilton Air Force Base.

Tam Fire Unit

Tamalpais Fire Protection District commissioners last night discussed the 1963-64 preliminary budget but took no action, Chairman John G. Donhoff said today. They adjourned to May 27 to discuss the budget further.

Pumper Bids Opened

Bids on a new pumper were opened at last night's meeting of the Tiburon Fire Protection District commission. Acceptance of a bid was postponed until the June 3 meeting to permit checking of the specifications.

Two More Aides Quit County School Posts

ter and wrote my own. This was later covered up by Mr. Hollis and Mr. (Edward R.) Credell. I was hoping the school board would have some comments, but I heard nothing." Credell is assistant superintendent.

Druba, now a real estate salesman with Garl-Rosenberg Realty in Novato, said he quit because "we had about 15 disorganized bosses. One would tell you to do something, then the other would. There was a complete lack of cooperation. It was take it or leave it. I left."

Mrs. Jean Moffit, who was assistant secretary in the division of administrative services for about five months, said: "I was handed a blank copy of a merit rating sheet and told to check off my ratings as they read them to me. Then I had to sign.

"The next day I realized what I'd done and went into retract it because it wasn't true, but they said they didn't want me to stay. I did everything to please, and I was never tardy. But they said I was not punctual. No one had said anything to me about my work before they gave me that sheet."

Mrs. Moffitt held for a number of years a job as secretary to the managing editor of the Omaha (Neb.) World Herald.

Mrs. Edward B. Hayden, who was secretary with the administrative staff from August, 1960, to March, 1961, said: "I was told by people on the staff to stop beating my brains out by working so hard. The waste and discouragement of initiative were fantastic. I finally resigned, offering some standard excuse as pressures of home. I don't think the administrators should pass the buck all the way down to the garbage can as they did."

One employee, who refused the use of her name, was described as "too slow" by Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent. She said, however: "There was a backlog of work a year old on the desk of Edwin L. Blackmore, one of my bosses. I was appalled. I just couldn't believe it. I'm very conscientious, but they couldn't have cared less."

Other ex-employees requested anonymity. At least two of the 27 retired; one left because she was pregnant; another is on leave of absence; several left the area. The remainder indicated dissatisfaction with their jobs had caused their resignations. Of the administrators, Kupfer and Vents were the only ones not mentioned in the complaints.

"There no question there has been misunderstanding with the special education teachers," he said. "I'm at a loss to explain some of these things. It's a blow. I've dropped some of my outside duties so I can be closer to this. I'm going to get out and know the staff. That's what I think I'm best at."

Hollis was elected superintendent by a 5,000-vote margin in 1958. He was re-elected last year without opposition.

College Due $225,590 Under Plan

Marin Junior College District would receive $225,590 under a proposal due to be introduced this week in the State Senate to distribute funds for junior college construction approved in last November's election.

The proposal is to be introduced by Sen. Walter Stiern (D-Bakersfield) as an amendment to his SB 1515, which is the administration bill for allocation of the funds.

Under the proposal, College of Marin qualifies for funds in two categories.

It would receive more money, $142,990, under the category of colleges which should continue to grow.

Total allocation oft he 20 million dollars authorized by voters shows $8,867,000 going to the first category and $11,138,909 to the second.

2 Slightly Hurt As Car Hit From Behind

Two women were slightly bruised yesterday when their northbound car was hit from behind as it turned left off Shoreline Highway into Tennessee Valley Road in Tamalpais Valley at 8:25 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Donalee Fey, a teacher, and her passenger, Rochelle Vachrach, both 25 of San Francisco, were to see their doctors. The Fey car was hit by one driven by Rev. Lars F. Williamson, 26, of 370 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, said CHP Officer John Allison.

The first air conditioned private home in the United States was located in Minneapolis, where the system was installed in 1915 by Willis Carrier, inventor of air conditioning.

Bankers Group Elects Officers

'Hot Rodder' Pleads Guilty

Jeffrey Michael Paganini, 18, of San Rafael, who terrorized residents of Canal Street by "hot-rodding" up and down the street last January, pleaded guilty yesterday to a misdemeanor hit-run charge.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court, set June 10 as the time to sentence Paganini.

Michael Lee Kennedy, 19, who was a passenger in Paganini's car at the time, pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace. He was sentenced last month to a weekend in jail and two year's supervised probation.

Meeting Postponed

Last night's scheduled meeting of the Corte Madera Sanitary District board was postponed to 7:30 p.m. tomorrow because of failure to obtain a quorum.

Tiburon Land Eyed By Corte Madera

The proposed City of Tiburon, its downtown threatened by Belvedere annexation moves, may lose some of its area also to Corte Madera.

What Corte Madera is eyeing, however, is mostly under water.

The Corte Madera Town Council last night instructed Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow to prepare plans for annexation of land under the Bay, due east of the preent Corte Madera line, and to request the Tiburon Incorporation Committee to trim down the area proposed for Marin's 11th city.

Brandow said the proposed limits of the City of Tiburon "come almost as far north as San Quentin Prison and as far east as Red Rock."

Petaluma Water Accord On Agenda

An addition to the Petaluma water agreement will be considered by the board of the North Marin County Water District at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in its administration office.

The North Marin District and the City of Petaluma have an agreement on division of water service between the two areas from the North Marin County aqueduct to the Russian River.

Chee Grocery Store Request Due Council

Yee Tock (Willie) Chee, owner of Marin Fruit and Grocery of Sausalito, will ask the city council at tonight's 8 o'clock meeting to approve a variance from offstreet parking and a use permit to convert an apartment at 561 and 563 Bridgeway for retail fruit and grocery sales.

Also to be heard is a request for a use permit and variance for Ardilla Land Co. to build 180 apartment units in the Rodeo Avenue area.

Golf Clubs Stolen

David F. McTaggart of 397 Riviera Drive, San Rafael, reported to San Raafel police today the theft of golf clubs, a wrist watch and a cashmere sweater from his car parked in his driveway sometime Saturday night. He valued the three items at $585.

Boys Leaped At Highway, Girl Testifies

A Mill Valley girl, who was passenger in a car which struck two youths near Marin City on New Year's Eve, testified this morning that the two boys seemed to run out or leap out toward the highway just before the mishap.

Miss Penny Heide, 16, of 58 Catalpa Street, Mill Valley, so testified before a jury in Marin Superior Court before Judge Joseph G. Wilson. At the time of the accident, she was Mrs. Penny Coolidge. She was later divorced, and resumed her maiden name.

Miss Heide was riding with William Arthur Acree, 20, of 209 Cardinal Road, Mill Valley, when the car struck and killed Robert T. McMullen, 19, of Kentfield. McMullen's companion, William R. Costello Jr., 19, of Larkspur survived.

Another defense witness, a bus driver, also testified that she saw two youths pushing each other and engaging in "horseplay" on the highway just before the fatal accident. Mildred Stahl of 36 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera, told the jury she has been a Greyhound bus driver for 19 years. She said she saw two young men pushing each other on the traveled portion and she had to swerve to avoid them.

William O. Weissich is defending Acree.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety contends that the two youths were walking off the paved portion of the highway when struck.

This afternoon, the judge, jury and court attaches were to visit the scene of the accident for a first-hand view.

Council Interested In Parking Lot, Dour About Meters

The San Rafael City Council heard with interest last night a proposal for a leased parking lot for all-day parkers, and had dour second thoughts about the plan to try out a parking meter gadget that allegedly would beat the meter-cheaters.

The parking lot proposal came from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. via City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen and Fred F. Enemark, chamber of commerce president.

They reported willingness of PG&E to lease to the city for three years a portion of its property running from Third to Second streets, where former gas installations have been removed, at approximately the cost of taxes. Andersen estimated that expenditure of $12,000 would turn it into a parking lot with spaces for 175 cars.

Enemark said the chamber's executive board and its property owners and tenants' council had both approved the proposal. Property owners would guarantee the city against loss on the lease, he said. He suggested the portion facing Third Street be metered for four-hour parking, that facing Second Street be for all-day parking with rentals by day or month.

Mayor John F. McInnis pointed out the city must meter any parking lots within the downtown parking district. Andersen said the border of the district runs through the PG&E property about midway.

The council authorized the city manager to negotiate for the lot.

Two merchants, Francis E. Fogarty of J. C. Penney Co. and William Costello of Macy's, objected to the plan to put 15 "anti-cheaters" meters along Fourth Street in front of their stores. They said they are willing the meters should be tried, but asked they be scattered.

Councilmen agreed to this, and, in so doing, disclosed that the enthusiasm for the "anti-cheater" devices developed two weeks ago by Paul Michelsen and Patrick Cavanaugh of Traffic Control, Inc., had largely evaporated.

Mayor John F. McInnis, who was absent from the May 6 meeting at which the council voted for a 30-day trial of the 15 meters, said he had never favored the devices, which would lock against further coins after the meter pointer reached the one-hour (or two-hour) mark.

"The gadget isn't going to tag a single car," declared McInnis. "If our meter maids aren't policing, we ought to criticize the police department."

Councilmen L. H. Bud Baar and Charles W. Aby, who were lukewarm about the gadgets earlier, both agreed. Even Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ready May 6 to try 700 meters for six months, expressed doubts.

Asst. Police Chief Joseph Brusatori took issue with the Traffic Control, Inc., claim that checks of license plates showed from 19 to 27 per cent "sleeper" cars in downtown parking spaces. Brusatori said he and Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa made their own check of license plates last Friday, and found only seven "sleepers" on Fourth Street between E Street and Tamalpais Avenue, of which two had been ticketed.

McInnis said he had checked with Hayward, which tried the "anti-cheater" meters two years ago, and found reaction there had been "very unfortunate" and the devices had been abandoned after a short trial.

The council heard that some progress is being made toward purchase of the remaining properties for a new city hall site, and made a little progress toward selling the present one.

On recommendation of City Manager Andersen, the council turned down an offer by Mrs. Marie Robinson to sell one parcel at a price Andersen said was $20,000 above the city's appraisal, but left the way open for further negotiation. Andersen said he might be nearer agreement with the attorney for Dr. Leo L. Stanley, owner of the other parcel wanted for the new city hall.

Roy A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal, received permission to have attorney A. E. Bagshaw work in his behalf with the city attorney "when details are worked out" for sale of the present city hall site. Brown seeks the property for expansion of the Independent-Journal plant, and has proposed that the portion fronting A Street be leased back to the city for 10 years for a parking lot. Another proposal has been to sell the entire property to the downtown parking district. (Bagshaw was city attorney until succeeded last month by David Menary Jr.)

The council instructed the city manager to set up a meeting as soon as possible of the council with Edward Welsh of Ebasco Services and the group of architects engaged to design the new city hall, to iron out details of the architects' contract.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Granted Ghilotti Brothers one-month extensions on the Chula Vista Assessment District street work and Third Street widening project.

2. Appointed Gordon H. Dohemann as city representative on a three-man arbitration board to determine the amount to be paid by Gasoline Marketeers, Inc., on renewal of its five-year lease on city-owned Francisco Boulevard property. The company now pays $125 per month. City Manager Andersen said he thought the rent should be $400.

3. Authorized Andersen to offer Standard Oil Co. month-to-month rent at $400 of land it leases from the city on Francisco Boulevard. The lease expires Aug. 1 and does not contain an automatic renewal clause. The firm now pays $300 per month.

4. Canceled the contract with Data Processing, Inc. of Los Angeles for servicing Marin Bay and East San Rafael assessment district bonds. City Treasurer Angelina J. Soldavini said the company's handling of the bonds has increased rather than decreased the work load in her office.

5. Authorized Public Works Director Norris Rawles to proceed with plans for widening Third Street beyond Embarcadero, holding in abeyance the portion between Union and Mary streets to await action by the State Division of Highways on a connection between Second and Third streets through the Montecito Shopping Center.

6. Passed to print an amendment to the building code requiring safety glass or a divider strip in exterior sliding glass doors.

7. Approved the final map of Oak Woodlands Unit 1-B with a proviso that use permits and excavation permits be sought for any excavating work.

8. Approved the final map of Glenwood Unit 6.

9. Held over to June 3 resolutions setting in motion the Northgate Industrial Park Assessment District. Councilmen objected that the engineer's report had not been presented for study before the meeting.

10. Approved City Manager Andersen's idea for planned community rezoning of the city corporation yard and surrounding properties along the San Rafael Canal, to create a marina.

11. Agreed to consider purchase of a site for a fourth firehouse near Bellam Boulevard in the 1963-64 budget. Councilman Baar estimated cost at $19,000.

12. Instructed the city manager to inform College of Marin that the city's election date is fixed by charter. The college board had written urging that it be changed to conform with school elections, which fall eight days later.

13. Approved expenditure of $671 as the city's share of fencing a portion of ditch along the Davidson School grounds, although Councilmen Baar and Jensen said Public Works Director Rawles had acted without council authorization.

14. Ordered a call for bids on remodeling the No. 2 firehouse be prepared for the June 3 meeting.

15. Endorsed a suggestion by Councilman Harry S. Barbier that police and fire vehicles turn on headlights when answering daytime calls, as a safety measure.

16. Approved a claim by Gilbert B. Schmitt for $98 for damage to his car, hit by a police car backing out near the main firehouse on Fifth Avenue.

Birth Control Called Part Of County's Job

Birth control service should be a part of local public health departments, Dr. Alan Guttmacher, president of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, told a group of public health doctors and nurses meeting at the Civic Center yesterday.

"You don't have separate clinics for polio or other immunization," he said. "Why should people have to go to a separate clinic for family planning service."

Other speakers during the program included Mrs. Miriam Garwood, field consultant for the western region of the parenthood federation. She said her new assignment to the West will result in expansion of birth control services offered locally.

2 Men Walk Out On Dinner Bill

Two men ran up a $21 bill in dinner and drinks at Marin Joe's restaurant near Corte madera, walked out without paying cashier Sybie Gearhart reported to the sheriff at 1:55 a.m. today.

She said the men showed her several credit cards, then asked if they could sign for the dinner. When she refused, the men became belligerent and walked out. Both appeared intoxicated, Mrs. Gearhart said.

They drove away toward Corte Madera in a 1963 Cadillac. The cashier said the car appeared to have no license plates.

NEW 'DISH' AT STANFORD

The New Stanford dish, a 150-foot radio telescope which can be pointed to any sector of the sky, is to begin operation in a matter of weeks as part of the Stanford Center for Radar Astronomy. It has been three years in building and is situated on a Stanford University hilltop. The "dish" provides nearly a half-acre of aluminum mesh surface for probing the solar system and interplanetary gases. (AP Wirephoto)

More Speed Patrols Asked Along Canal

More speed patrols are needed on the San Rafael Canal if the city is not to have a tragedy there, L. E. Weisenburg Jr. told the San Rafael City Council last night.

That's not enough, said Weisenburg.

He declared, "The past two weeks of boating activity convinced me that we are in a sorry state as far as policing and future of the canal."

A protest meeting is developing among property owners along the canal, he asserted.

Besides the dangers from speeding boats, the canal is rapidly silting up, Weisenburg contended. It was dredged last year by the Army Engineers.

Councilman L. H. Bud Baar said it was a police matter, and at his suggestion, it was referred to the police department.

Unemployed Beautician Found Dead

William Bradley, assistant county coroner, said Cleo Davis Light had been suffering from delerium tremens. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Mrs. Light was found by San Anselmo postman Adelbert Harry Richards lying in bed when he returned to the room at 5 p.m. yesterday.

She was separated from her husband, Andrew James Light of Vallejo, Bradley said. Mrs. Light was a native of Knoxville, Tenn.

Church 'Outsider' Is Called Puzzling

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The man who shuns religion was analyzed by some church experts today—and classified as a puzzling character of varied motives and traits.

He may be openly hostile to faith, or indifferent; he may be a "troubled idealist," a self-styled "rugged individualist" or even a regular member of the church who doesn't really believe its message, the report said.

Prepared by an evangelism commission and presented to the United Presbyterian General Assembly, it urged the church to break out of its "smug isolation" and pay more attention to the world of "the outsider."

Yet "it is not easy to understand the identity of the outsider," the report conceded.

The commission, headed by the Rev. Dr. Robert Beach Cunningham, of New York, recommended steps for expanding the church's ministry beyond the parish to focus it increasingly on "the outsider."

On another matter yesterday, the representatives of three and one-quarter million Presbyterians set up a special task force, backed by a $500,000 budget to translate the church's pronouncements on racial justice into action.

"The time is here to demonstrate the obedience we profess," the denomination declared.

Its new Commission on Religion and Race was authorized to act on various fronts, in cooperation with interfaith and inter-church groups, to combat racial discrimination.

3 Future Engineers In Exhibit

Three Marin County students have been invited to exhibit their experimental projects in the Future Engineer Show at the San Francisco Cow Palace Aug. 20-23.

Those invited are:

Lonnie Masouredis, son of Dr. and Mrs. Serafeim P. Masouredis of 9 De Anza Way, Los Ranchitos, an eighth grader at Santa Venetia School, whose exhibit displays the effect of pressure on gas discharge.

Brian H. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Nelson of 2323 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, an eighth grader at Reed School, who will exhibit his digital computer.

Bill Blankenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Blankenburg, 131 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, a seventh grader at Fairfax Central School, who will exhibit his proximity detector.

The show will be at the Western Electronic Show and Convention, sponsored by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and the Western Electronic Manufacturers Assn.

The students will be competing for scholarships ranging up to $1,000.

Police Science Class Planned At College

A proposed two-year police science program to start at College of Marin in September was announced today by Frank T. Jacobs, head of the State Division of Applied and Technical Education.

The course, awaiting final trustee approval and naming of a teacher, would qualify students in two years for jobs with law enforcement agencie or for advance study at a four-year state college.

Attendant Found Dead In Cage, Lion Is Shot

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — The body of an attendant, mangled by two lions, was found today in a cage at Ross Park Zoo. Police had to shoot one lion.

Police said the lions apparently had killed the attendant, Guy E. Carey, 43, although there was a possibility he suffered a fatal stroke. Carey had been cleaning the cage.

A relief attendant, Ralph Landis, found the lions standing over the body when he arrived at 5:30 a.m.

Police said all the doors in the four-part cage were closed, which seemed unusual. Normally, both lions would have been put in one section and barred in, while the attendant cleaned the rest of the cage. He was found in the section with both lions.

The hose he had been using was still running in another section.

Police turned the hose on the lions to try to force them away from the body. The female lion went into another section, but the male, Timba, resisted and the police shot him in the head 12 times.

Timba had been a troublemaker. He had escaped from the cage a couple of times and once wrecked an office on the grounds. Each time he was caught on the grounds.

Carey, married and a father, worked at the zoo only one day a week. He arrived for work at 10 p.m. last night and was last seen at 11 p.m.

Kol Shofar Plans Confirmation Service

Congregation Kol Shofar will hold its first confirmation service during Sabbath eve services at 8 p.m. Friday at the Marin Jewish Community Center, San Rafael. Rabbi David B. Coren's sermon will be on "Our Responsibility to God," and the theme of the confirmation will be "Ethics of the Fathers."

On May 30, the second day of Shavuot, the congregation will hold Yizkor memorial services.

Airman Driving Baby To Hospital In Accident, Wife, Daughter Hurt

An Air Force medic started to take his baby to the hospital but left his wife and 3-year-old daughter there instead—victims of an auto accident.

Theodore A. LaCosta, 30, of Petaluma, a medic with the 78th Hospital Unit at Hamilton Air Force Base, headed for the base hospital Sunday night to have a pebble removed from the nose of his infant daughter. His wife, Betty, 24, and daughter, Carrie, 3, went along.

About one mile south of Lamont Avenue, Novato, on Highway 101, LaCoste's car hit the rear of an auto driven by Louis Castelli, 66, San Francisco insurance man.

Mrs. LaCoste was held overnight at the base hospital for treatment of shock and other injuries. Carrie got first aid. Mrs. Annie Castelli, 48, was to see her own doctor for minor hurts. The baby and Castelli emerged uninjured, as did LaCoste—but he drew a California Highway Patrol citation for reckless driving.

A three-car crash on Highway 101 north of Novato Creek Bridge brought minor injury to two women, also Sunday night.

Involved were southbound cars of Adolph Bagnesi, 69, Eve Hargood, 36, and Ernest C. Hallacher, 47, all of San Francisco. Miss Hargood and Hallacher were stopped for a traffic light when Bagneshi drove into the Harwood car, knocking it against Hallacher's, the highway patrol said. Miss Hargood was treated at Novato Hospital for cuts on lip and both knees, and a passenger with her, Marion Zimmer, 28, of San Fancisco, for right eye and left leg injuries.

A motorcycle and a Volkswagen panel truck tangled on Doherty Drive in Larkspur yesterday, injuring Victor Gengler, 15, high school student of 28 Marinero Circle, Belvedere, the cyclist. Betsy Horr, 39, of San Francisco, the motorist, was unhurt.

Gengler was treated at Marin General Hospital for face and leg cuts.

Another motorcyclist was also on the injury list—Kenneth R. Broadhead, 20, of 1445 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. He was riding south on Highway 101 near Diablo Avenue, Novato, Sunday night when the front fork of his cycle came undone the highway patrol reported. The bike threw him and he wound up getting first aid at Novato Hospital.

Three persons suffered minor injuries when a southbound car driven by Wincent Damazya, 50, of San Francisco, hit the rear of a station wagon driven by Lawrence N. Weaver, 65, of Stockton, at the Entrada Drive signal on Highway 101 in Ignacio, reported the highway patrol.

Injured in the crash at 8:05 p.m. Sunday were Weaver; Mrs. Marie Damazya, 49, and her son, Siegmund, 9. They were to see their own doctors. The highway patrol cited Damazya for speeding.

Alsace L. Herman, 35, a passenger with Frank R. Kaufman, 46, of San Francisco, was slightly injured when Kaufman's car was sideswiped Sunday on the Richardson Bay Bridge by one driven by Gordon N. Marks, 67, of San Francisco, the highway patrol reported. She was to see her own doctor.

Ring Stolen

Cmdr. Robert William Dart, of San Francisco told the San Rafael police yesterday that someone reached into his room through the open window at the Bermuda Palms, 737 Francisco Boulevard, and took a $250 man's wedding ring and two bottles of whisky from a table while he and his wife were asleep Saturday night.

RESUSCITATOR CALLS BANNED

Resuscitator calls outside town limits by the Corte Madera volunteer fire department were banned by the town council last night—but it will seek state assurance that might give it latitude in the matter.

The council voted to limit firemen to answering calls within town limits after Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson reported state workmen's compensation officials will not pay for injury or death of an employee working beyond his jurisdiction.

The council instructed Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow to seek an immediate conference with fund officials to learn whether provision can be made for what Nelson termed "an honest mistake" by a fireman going outside his territory.

Brandow had told firemen he believed previous council decisions permitted resuscitator calls in county territory.

Four Nuisances Being Removed Or Abated

Four town nuisances have been removed or are being abated, the Corte Madera Town Council learned happily last night.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow reported Karp Development Co. had begun to remove debris left behind near the Madera Village Motel after the town had prepared to have it cleaned up at Karp's expense. The matter was continued to May 20 for another progress report.

Brandow reported Mrs. E. G. Barnett had cleaned up a portion of Chapman and Tamalpais drives and Ralph E. Tobener had removed debris and lumber from Lakeside and Cheyenne Way. He said William P. Murray had hired a firm to remove the old Circle Drive-In and a defunct automatic laundry from Casa Buena Drive.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Introduced an ordinance forbidding more than one living-sleeping unit for each 1,500 square feet of lot in any future hotel or motel.
2. Introduced an ordinance providing board of design review for all future pole or stilt houses standing 18 feet above ground.
3. Introduced an ordinance providing that on application for a permitted use, the planning commission, after a public hearing, may recommende the use subject to a public hearing and decision by the council.
4. Authorized Brandow to write property owners at 62, 66 and 100 Walnut Avenue, in an "unincorporated island," requesting them to seek annexation to the town.
5. Budgeted $2,010 more for the police, including $1,000 for putting Police Clerk Ann Donovan on full time, $400 for training of a patrolman, and $300 for investigations; and $7,000 more for the park and recreation commission for unexpected expense for park turfing.
6. After one hour of discussion with Vernon Number, part owner of 85 acres of marshland east of Highway 101, made further changes in a proposed grading-drainage ordinance and continued it.
7. Reappointed Merritt J. Wieder to the park and recreation commission and postponed naming a successor to Planning Commissioner Felix Pioli, who said he could not serve again following expiration of his term May 1.
8. Approved a request by T. E. Kuhlmann to realign four lots on upper Summit Drive into two one-half-acre lots.
9. Heard Brandow report he will include plans for an office for the Corte Madera Sanitary District in the renovation of town hall and forward plans to the district board.

Councilman Albert E. Kogler was absent.

Burglar Steals, Sets Home Afire

A burglar stole a freshly baked cake and about $30 in coins, then started a small fire in the bedroom of a Santa Venetia home yesterday.

Joseph Reynes of 127 Birch Way told Deputy Sheriff William Johansen he got home about 6 o'clock last night and found the screen had been removed from the children's bedroom and the window cranked open.

Bedspread and pillow in the master bedroom had been scorched.

Reynes said someone has been prowling through his house every day since last Wednesday. However, he did not call the sheriff earlier because nothing of value was missing.

Cohen Back On Job

Still shaky after a more than two-week bout with the mumps, Supt. Milton S. Cohen returned to work at Larkspur School District headquarters yesterday. He had been confined since May 1.

Marin City To Get More 'Pole Houses'

Thirty-six more "pole houses" will be built in Marin City, construction to begin in about 90 days. They will have design changes including larger balconies, more window area, and hip roofs and will average $2,000 higher than the first pole houses.

The 36 will be the last of 95 relocation houses. The first caused a furor last September when many Marin City residents voiced disapproval of the houses built on telephone poles.

Barrett Construction Co. of San Francisco, builders, explained prices and design yesterday to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency commission and about 30 Marin City residents. The commission took the matter under consideration until June 3 pending a survey of all relocation families and their ability to buy houses.

"The time has come for us to quit payment on the construction loans" (on present pole houses), John H. Tolan, Barrett representative, told the commission. He said he is getting offers from people outside Marin City to buy the homes. He recommended that the cost of each house be raised about $1,000.

The commission voted 5-0 that if the present pole houses are not saleable to eligible Marin City people, Barrett may sell them to the outside market at a price to be arranged later. The agency is required to first offer the single family houses to relocatees within Marin City.

Prices of the new houses will be: Three-bedroom, one bath houses, $19,300; two-story, three bedroom houses, $19,500; four-bedroom houses, $21,000; three bedroom "luxury" houses, with two baths and large bedrooms, $21,000.

3 Terra Linda High Girls Are Honored

Three Terra Linda High School girls have received special honorary certificates for "outstanding service" to the school during this school year.

Awarded certificates by the Associated Girl Students at a meeting and swim party at the school Sunday were Judy Roberts, senior, for outstanding general service; Betsy Sargent, senior, for sports activity, and Linda Stirling, junior, for social activity.

Ross School Unit Expects Tax Cut

Ross School District trustees expect an 8-cent tax cut in the 1963-64 budget, but don't know exactly what the budget will total.

Trustees last night considered a tentative budget not including the 1963-64 salary schedules.

"We won't know the exact budget until those are included," said Supt. Donald Leister.

The current tax rate is $2.37 per $100 valuation. Estimate is that the upcoming tax rate would be about $2.29, Leister said.

Trustees discussed the teacher salary schedule, ranging from $5,000 to $9,130, but took no action.

The board also postponed granting of a permit to the Marin Art and Garden Fair for use of the school grounds for parking.

"They are considering leasing because the parking has been tearing up the turf, and the leasing funds could be used for repairs," Leister reported.

Mrs. Linda Kazasian, fifth grade teacher who resigned and then changed her plans, was reinstated.

Leister announced that kindergarten registration will be conducted tomorrow from 1 to 3:30 p.m. in Room 12. Children must have been born on or before Dec. 2, 1958, to qualify. Parents must present birth certificates.

Novato Rec Unit To Look Over Possible Park Site

That was the decision of the commission last night after Mrs. Lawrason Driscoll, president of the Novato Garden Club, presented the club's proposal for the purchase. The club has a 60-day option to buy the property for $150,000. Mrs. Driscoll last week invited the city council to inspect the site. She was referred to the parks and recreation commission.

"Originally recreation was aimed at sports to prevent boys from committing crimes. Recreation is now aimed at including cultural activities," she said.

Edmund Mahany, city recreation director, reported he had received 82 applications for 16 summer jobs.

Sanitary Board Will Open Bids

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors last night adjourned to June 11 to open bids for sale of $212,000 in bonds for the Hawthorne Terrace Assessment District.

The board agreed to proceed with annexation to the district of about 12 acres of filled land along the shoreline of Harbor Point, now the site of the Harbor Point Clubhouse. Request was from Milland Co., Mill Valley.

It took under consideration an annexation request from Alcan-Marin Ltd. for a 288-unit apartment development to be built at the southern top of Enchanted Knolls, secretary Samuel A. Fletcher said.

Probe Asked On Zoning Violations

Need for a special investigator to check up on zoning violations in Marin was suggested yesterday to the Marin County Planning Commission.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told the commission he was considering hiring an extra planning staff member to work full time on enforcement of county planning ordinances.

"We are way behind in our enforcement and follow-up of regulations," said Dobbs. "Even with help from the district attorney's office, it is necessary for a planner to do the groundwork on inspections to see if conditions set by the planning commission are being respected."

"Enforcement is really important," agreed Chairman William F. Upton. "If you're going to have rules, you have to abide by them."

Dobbs said there are many examples throughout the county where zoning, use permits and special conditions set by the commission are not being followed.

Corte Madera To Share Costs

The Corte Madera Town Council, after a confused argument with developer Jack Estes, reversed itself last night and agreed to share costs of improving Sausalito Street near a proposed 28-residence subdivision.

It instructed Estes to prepare a petition to form an assessment district for the tract in Madera Park on the hill south of Tamalpais Drive.

In agreeing to share costs with Estes and developer George Roemer, the council rescinded a decision of April 1. It then had rejected a proposal by Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow that the town pay 25 per cent of the costs.

Hub Tract Approved, Three Others Held Up

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night approved one request for apartment zoning and held up decision on three others.

Approved was the request of William H. Pollard to rezone from duplex to apartments property at 200 Redhill Avenue.

Denied were requests of Wilfred A. DeCook and James Stragnola to build separate apartments on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard opposite Madrona Avenue. Both applicants were asked to resubmit requests for a planned development which could be controlled by the planning commission.

The request of Alfred F. Colombo for apartments on Sycamore Avenue in the Bella Vista Tract was to be readvertised for rezoning from single family to apartments.

The San Anselmo Planners Also:

1. Approved four out of five requests for variances for H. H. Huyssoon for a large commercial building to be built at 630 and 634 San Anselmo Avenue but denied his request to subdivide a lot in the Bush Tract because it did not conform to the slope policy.
2. Closer conformity to the slope policy was also asked of William R. Davis, whose application to subdivide two lots in the Rosenthal Tract was denied.
3. Advised Watkin and Sibbald that request for a use permit to construct a professional building at 6 Bridge Avenue was not necessary.
4. Put over until the applicant, Erna M. Falk, is present, a request for subdivision of property at 17 Arroyo Avenue.
5. Approved the request by A. R. Forristal to subdivide portions of Lots 108 and 109 on the Short Ranch.
6. Approved an application by David M. Lewis to subdivide property on Southview Terrace adjacent to Hilldale Park Units 1 and 2.
7. Put over to May 27 an application to form Indian Rock Subdivision out of Short Ranch Subdivision No. 2.
8. Advised Jack Sweeney to revise plans for subdivision of a parcel in Hawthorne Hills and present new plans at the June 17 meeting.

Corte Madera Meet Set On Town Plan

The Corte Madera Planning Commission will hold an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in town hall to discuss latest changes in the revised town plan, Chairman C. W. Thomas said today.

The commission will discuss decisions made last Thursday by the town council on the plan as drawn by Livingston and Blayney and on commission recommendations. The commission approved the plan with changes last month. The council is to adopt the final version June 3.

Children's Shop Clerk Faces Petty Theft Charges Only

A trusted clerk of a San Rafael children's shop, suspected by her employer of tapping the till for about $10,000 in the past two and one-half years, faces a petty theft charge and nothing more.

"It was a matter of proof," said Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, explaining why a grand theft charge was not lodged against Mrs. Margaret McKay, 62, employed at Henrietta's Children's Shop on Fourth Street. "Because of the bookkeeping methods used at the store, it is not possible to prove more than petty theft."

Mrs. McKay, a widow who lives at 108 Treanor Street, San Rafael, appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court yesterday. With her was attorney D. K. MacDonald Jr., who said he knows Mrs. McKay.

"I know she is without funds to retain counsel," said MacDonald. "I would be happy to be appointed her counsel."

Judge Haley appointed MacDonald to defend Mrs. McKay and continued the case until next Monday, when Mrs. McKay will plead to the petty theft charge.

Mrs. McKay is free on her own recognizance. She has lived in San Raafel for about 35 years and worked at the children's shop for seven years.

San Rafael Police Officer Richard Camper said Mrs. McKay took the money by ringing up "no sale" on the cash register for sales she made to customers.

Tape Recorder Stolen

McCarthy Supports Fair Housing

A delegation representing 12 Marin County organizations visited State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) in Sacramento yesterday urging him to support fair housing legislation.

Senator McCarthy said he would support fair housing legislation which would achieve the objectives sought by the delegation, reported Maxweel Hull, chairman of the Marin Committee for Fair Play in Housing and leader of the delegation.

The senator also said he would not tolerate discrimination on the part of realty brokers or salesmen handling homes in the McCarthy-developed Loch Lomand subdivision in San Rafael, Hull reported.

The senator also told the group he felt the legislation will produce an effective fair housing bill.

Big Tax Bite

NEW YORK (UPI)—State and local taxes reached almost 39 billion dollars during 1961 or an average of about $211 per person, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. The national average jumped 57 per cent between 1953 and 1961.

Planners Ask Probe Of Sign Ordinances

Investigation of violations of Marin County sign ordinances and a comparison of county law with proposed state laws was requested yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The commission approved three new signs, all located near highways, but decided it is time to check up on past violations, as requested last month by the board of supervisors.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs asked the commission whether it would want to endorse pending state legislation for stricter control of highway billboard advertising.

"I think we should see first if any conflict in the state legislation and our own existing law," said Chairman William F. Upton.

The California Roadside Council had asked endorsement of Senate Bill 1123, which would limit signs on the rights of way of all state roads.

Principal Planner Sidney Shaw recommended denial of a 32-square-foot sign for the proposed San Geronimo Country Club at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and San Geronimo-Nicasio Road. He called it a form of "free-standing, roadside advertising."

The commission, however, unanimously approved the sign for one year.

A 105-square-foot sign on top of the Bekins Van and Storage Co. at 25 Bellam Boulevard in South San Rafael and a "Flying A" service station sign at Fourth and A streets in Point Reyes Station were also approved.

But the commission agreed that regulations for all signs in the county should be studied in relation to any possible new state laws.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Granted architectural supervision for minor additions to a dog kennel, operated by John H. Schluter at 230 Shoreline Highway, in Tamalpais Valley.
2. Continued until June 3 a request by W. R. DeCurtoni to divide two parcels in seven building sites, each having 6,400 square feet instead of 7,500 square feet required. The property is located on Calle Del Arroyo in Stinson Beach.
3. Approved grading plans for San Ramon Unit 4, to include planting for erosion control.
4. Continued until June 6 approval of San Marin Unit 6, a 36-acre subdivision by the Greenborough Corporation, west of Novato.
5. Approved an eight-acre subdivision, Gallinas Village 8A, on Vendola Drive and North San Pedro Road, on condition that developer International Investment Co. widen North San Pedro Road in the area.
6. Approved tentative map for a nine-lot subdivision, Portola Estates Unit 2 on four acres on Carmel Court.

Thieves Siphon Gas From School Buses

Thieves have been siphoning gasoline from school buses parked at the Marin Civic Center parking lot in Santa Venetia for the past several weeks, transportation superintendent Glenn Glass reported yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff George Reuss said the vehicles are station wagons used as buses by the county superintendent of schools. The sloppy thieves usually leave the gas caps off, and spill considerable amounts of gasoline on the ground.

Living costs represent 80 per cent of the present budget at public colleges and about 65 per cent in private ones.

Offered FREE to Marin families as a public service by the Independent-Journal

How can children "play safe" in dealing with strangers? How can you, as a parent, protect them from the often unseen offenses of child molestation?

This booklet, "Safety Is With Friends... Not With Strangers," tells children in a simple, authoritative way... what to do when accosted by "strangers." Endorsed by Law Enforcement Agencies, it gives each child simple rules to follow. Illustrated situations make it easy for children to understand and to remember.

Designed and printed by the Independent-Journal, the booklet is a practical aid to parents in guiding children away from danger... and freeing parents, too, of anxiety and concern. If you would like a copy, kindly call in person at any I-J office.

Read what Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos says:

I wholeheartedly endorse this booklet which is designed to help protect our children. It is authoritative, clear, concise. It is simply written, that children may understand it...and carries a message about a subject which all too little is publicized. This is a constructive effort in the public interest. Above all, this booklet can help children "play safe" with strangers...and stay safe, with friends.

Hub School Board To Discuss Bond Issue Tonight

What might be called "pre-preliminary" discussion of a bond issue will be part of a San Anselmo School District board meeting at 8 p.m. today in the faculty room of Isabel Cook School.

Supt. Stephen Parodi will report on classroom requirements through 1968 which will show the need of "two or three' additional classrooms in the district per year.

Parodi said the board "has talked about bonds" to finance construction on the Sunny Hills site.

Also on the agenda is discussion of classroom organization for the next school year which might require double sessions at Wade Thomas School, according to Parodi. A report will be given by Mrs. Vaughn Hill, chairman, and Nelson King, member of the parents foreign language study group.

Bret Harte Drainage Plan Gets Breath Of Life

A proposal from Northwestern Pacific Railroad breathed a little new life last night into the dying Bret Harte Drainage Assessment District.

The San Rafael City Council again continued its public hearing on the district, this time to June 17.

It is to cure a bottleneck behind the Geister Brothers property on DuBois Street by replacing an existing culvert with a trestle of greater capacity. NWP is willing to pay half the cost, estimated at a total of $10,000, if the money could be recaptured in the form of assessment reduction if and when the assessment district is formed.

Mayor John F. McInnis commented the proposed improvement "dovetails precisely" with engineer Daniel P. Coleman's proposal for assessment district work. He also read a leter from attorney Edwin Ness saying the recapture from assessments would be legal.

Melvin Geister, however, contended the $10,000 outlay might make the million-dollar assessment district unecessary.

Left unanswered was the question of who pays the other $5,000 of the cost.

Schools Session

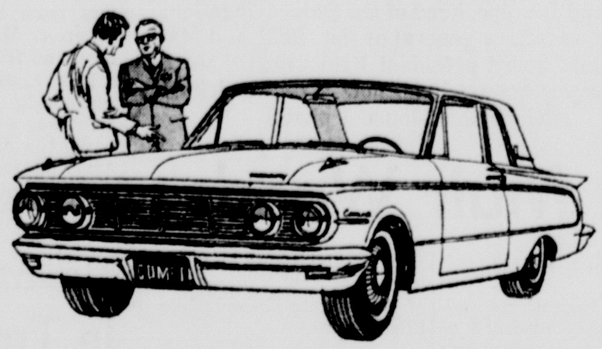
The agumented Marin County Committee on School Districts Organization will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo, to discuss proposed unification of school districts within Tamalpais Union High School District.

Comet S-22 Sportster

This new excitement from Comet is an economical way to beat the sportscars at their own game. Ask for V-8 version, complete with four-on-the-floor, bigger wheels and larger brakes. This "fastback" will do you proud... in any crowd!

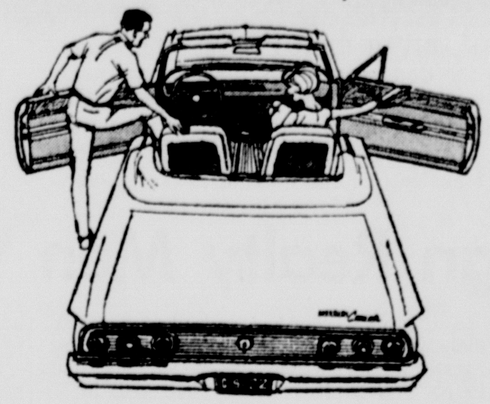
Comet 2-Door

Who said you can't buy a really low-priced car these days? This is it. Nothing fancy. Yet there's plenty of style... and the usual number of hubcaps, visors, ashtrays and cylinders. Plus heater-defroster. A second car, anyone?



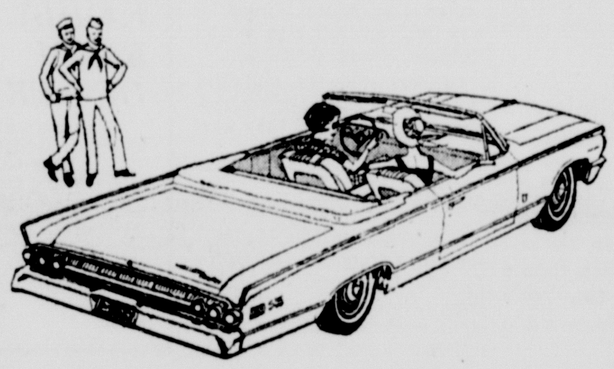
Comet Convertible

Here's the convertible for people who never thought they could afford such a "luxury". And, you get the added value of Comet's resale record: It's like money in the bank!



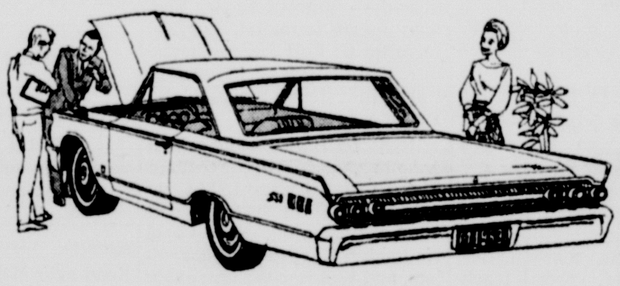
Mercury S-55 Convertible

Here is something to see. And drive. If you don't mind being the center of attention, that is. The S-55's sports-bred interior is very swish (in a masculine, leather-y sort of way). With the top down, every mile is like a vacation.



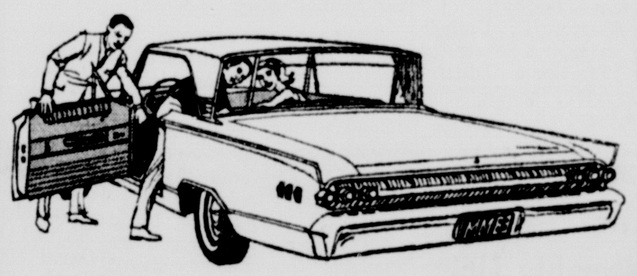
Mercury Marauder

If you're looking for real excitement, come in and sample this latest and last word for 1963. Up to 425 horses. Eight barrels. Couple all that with four-on-the-floor and you'll flash from 0 to 60 in 7 seconds flat! It's up to you.



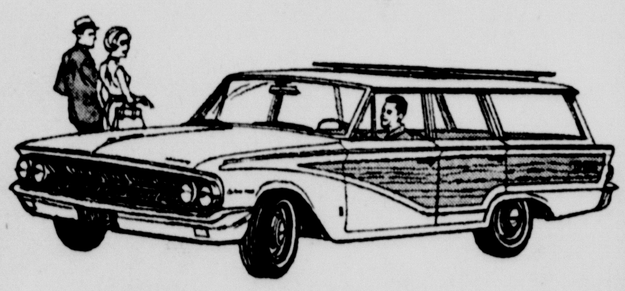
Mercury Monterey

This stylish and sensible "Breezeway" roofline shades the rear seat and provides more headroom, too. There's even an automatic rear window to help you see better, breathe better and hear better. Let us demonstrate how all this works. To your advantage.



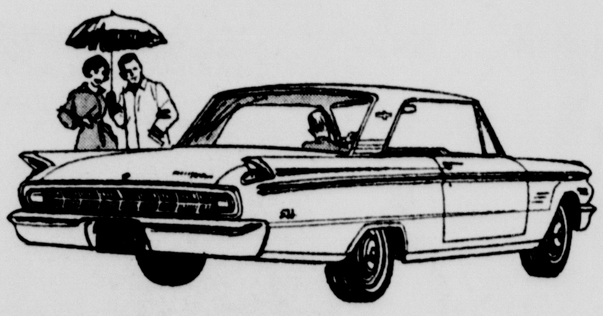
Mercury Colony Park

Form and function got together here and produced 1963's best-dressed wagon. Inside it's rugged. But rich. And vast! The big 390 V-8 will pull a full house... in a breeze. A particularly good buy for summer. Easy to buy, too.



Meteor Hardtop

You can improve your standard of driving without turning pockets inside-out. Meteor's 116.5 wheelbase is conveniently in-between the compacts and full-size jobs. But you'd never know it sitting behind the wheel. A lot of car. Meteor.



Comet Wagons

We've got five to show you. But when you come in, bring a tape measure. Else you might not believe how much wagon you can buy for so little. You should also take the measure of that new Cyclone V-8. It's available on all our Comets.

FASCINATING BIT OF REAL ESTATE—European delegates to the Congress of the International Real Estate Federation visited Muir Woods yesterday and were intrigued by the statuesque sequoias. Chief Ranger Lawson H. Brainerd had an interested audience in Maurice G. Read (left) of Berkeley who arranged the tour, Paul Vielhomme, president of the IREF, and J. Volpe, head of the Swiss delegation. Jean Bailly, secretary general of the IREF, and Marin real estate board president Paul Crowley were told by Ranger Arthur Volz, how a redwood burl is formed. (Independent-Journal photo)

Foreign Realty Men Visit Muir Woods

Five busloads of foreign realty men and their wives arrived in Marin yesterday in what appeared to be a giant multiple listing tour, but their purpose was purely a sightseeing visit to the redwood trees in Muir Woods.

The group, numbering about 160, was composed of real estate delegates from France Germany, Austria, Switzerland and other European countries who had arrived at San Francisco International Airport Sunday evening via polar flight from Paris. Their visit in Marin was limited to two hours of gazing skyward at the sequioas, taking pictures, and lunch at Muir Woods Inn.

Although many of them spoke a little English, they were accompanied by two United Nations interpreters to help them bridge language difficulties.

After their tour of the redwood groves they returned to San Francisco for another two days visiting various parts of the Bay Area. Their ultimate goal is the 14th Congress of the International Real Estate Federation in Chicago May 28-June 1, with stops en route at Los Angeles, Las Vegas, and afterward at Washington, D. C. They will be hosted by member boards of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards while in this country.

The congress will be held in the United States this year for the first time. More than 300 delegates are expected to attend, with another 500 American realty brokers planning to be present at the business meetings.

Summer Teachers Given $1 Per Hour Raises

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees last night granted $1 per hour raises to summer school, workshop and evening school teachers.

Supt. Chester D. Carlisle said the raises, recommended by the Tamalpais District Teachers Assn., would total $10,101 a year.

He pointed out that the 18.2 per cent increase was comparable to the 20 per cent increases granted to teachers on the regular salary schedule.

The board also approved hiring of summer teachers after Trustee James M. Stubblebine questioned Carlisle as to whether the summer rapid reading course might be overcrowded.

Carlisle answered that because of the number of fellowships and scholarships being offered, fewer teachers were available for summer school and "this doesn't always mean that we have the right teacher for the job."

The board accepted a book given by Whitman College to the Sir Francis Drake High School library after Carlisle said the librarian and principal had looked it over and found it to be acceptable. The book is "Democracy's Manifesto" by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Trustees after the meeting participated in a reception for 18 teachers who had been granted tenure.

They are:

Sir Francis Drake High School — Vincent Boyle, English; James Lindland, English; Luverne G. Lull Jr., mathematics and business; Theodore Nagel, industrial arts, and John Tassone, English.

Redwood High School—Jane Adams, science; Freeman Blake, social studies; Lyle Fisher, mathematics; Suzanne Matsen, homemaking; Mrs. Carol Neumeier, English and journalism, and Webster Wright, counseling.

State Employee Benefits Passed By Assembly Unit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — About 14 million dollars in fringe benefits for state employees were approved by an Assembly committee yesterday, but the big item—the 35-hour week—was turned down.

The Assembly Civil Service and State Personnel Committee approved these measures by Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers (D-San Francisco):

1. Time-and-a-half for overtime, worth an estimated 3.9 million-dollars a year.

2. Pegging salaries of state employees in construction, repair and maintenance trades to prevailing wages in private industry, worth about six million dollars a year.

3. Night differential for certain state employees, estimated at four million dollars a year.

First Novato Budget Public Hearing Set

The first public hearing on the Novato city budget for 1963-64 will be held at 8 p.m. today at the community house.

J. Julien Baget, city administrator, submitted the budget to the city council last Tuesday. It calls for spending $561,445 against income estimated at $538,225. Baget called it "balanced" because in the past three years, the city has had an income larger than estimated, and has spent less than budgeted.

Drugged Driving Charge Reduced

A young Mill Valley Army doctor, accused of driving while under the influence of drugs, got the charge reduced to reckless driving yesterday on grounds that he had drugged himself in the interest of science.

Dr. William Brady Speak, 26, who lives at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry and interns at Letterman General Hospital, contended he was conducting an experiment on the effects of potentially dangerous drugs on the subconscious. Dr. Speak is a lieutenant in the Army.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua Thomas confirmed that the doctor had been authorized by his superiors to conduct the experiment, but only "under controlled conditions," which meant not at home or on the highways.

The district attorney has letters from Speak's immediate superior, Maj. Rudolph Leaphart, and from Maj. Gen. J. W. Schwartz, commanding officer, confirming that the experiment was a valid project cleared by the Army. However, the Army has reprimanded the doctor for continuing the experiment before the project had been more fully evaluated and approved.

The district attorney said the young doctor injected himself with phenobarbital and secobarbital on March 31, then drove his car in a daze on East Blithedale. He ran a stop sign, narrowly missed parked cars, ran over a sidewalk at Elm Avenue, and hit a mailbox.

"We feel he was guilty of a technical violation although it was not intentional," said Deputy Attorney Thomas. He said he does not believe Dr. Speak even knew he was driving after he took the drugs.

Dr. Speak pleaded guilty to reckless driving before Judge Harold J. Haley. The district attorney then asked for and got dismissal of the charge of driving under the influence of drugs, and hit-run property damage charge arising out of the doctor's somnambulant motoring.

The judge fined the doctor $193, restricting his driving for three months, and ordered him to pay whatever damages are demanded for damage to the mailbox. The doctor will be on probation for six months.

He is single, and may be transferred to Korea in July, he told the judge.

Novatan Is Found Guilty In Trailer Court Beating

Paul Albert Mattox, 53, of San Rafael, who allegedly beat his wife at a Novato trailer court last month, was found not guilty of the charge yesterday in Marin Municipal Court because she refused to testify against him.

Mattox and his wife, Rebecca, have reconciled since the April 9 ruckus.

However, Judge Harold J. Haley found Mattox guilty of assault and battery against Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie O. Howe, neighbors of Mrs. Mattox. Mattox will be sentenced at 3 p.m. on June 11.

Mrs. Mattox, 20, and her two sons, 2 and 3, were in the Howe trailer when Mattox forced his way into the trailer to see his children, Novato police said.

Officers said Mr. and Mrs. Howe tried to stop Mattox from beating his wife and they were injured in the tussle.

Pastry Shop Re-Opens

Musso's French Pastry Shop has reopened at 10 Main Street in Tiburon after being closed 18 months. Owner John Musso, who lives upstairs over his shop, closed the business while his old bakery was torn down and a new one built.

Lumber Is Stolen

Theft of redwood lumber was reported yesterday to San Rafael police by Sam L. Little, superintendent for contractor L. E. Weisenburg Jr. He said the lumber was stolen from a storage place on San Pedro Road near Marina Boulevard in the past few days.

M. P. Training

U.S. Army private, Lyle E. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Jensen, 4 Meadow Way, Fairfax, has completed eight weeks of military police training at Fort Gordon, Ga.

NEWSMAN BARRED FROM HEARING BOWLES TALK

Chester Bowles, newly appointed U.S. ambassador to India, spoke to about 120 Democrats at a Ross reception yesterday. But what he had to say was designed only for the ears of those who paid $25 per couple to be present.

An Independent-Journal reporter, who had been invited to attend the reception, was stopped at the door by Roger Kent, Northern California chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee.

The meeting was closed at Bowles' request, Kent said, and the reporter was not welcome to report the new ambassador's remarks.

Foundation For Gifts To Novato Is Proposed

A non-profit foundation for receiving and dispensing gifts to the City of Novato was prosed yesterday by Mrs. Helen Scott, city hostess, at a special meeting at the community house.

This proposed foundation would be composed of one or two representatives from each organization in the city, according to Mrs. Scott. Main contributor to the funds would be community stamp organization. The stamps would be to raise funds for such community projects as parks, an ambulance and play grounds. Mrs. Scott said she expected the stamps to bring in $50,000 to $100,000 a year to the foundation.

"The stamps would work the same as trading stamps," Mrs. Scott explained. "After the housewife has saved a book of them, she can turn it in to the merchant and either receive $3 in merchandise or turn that sum into the foundation.

"This stamp company would be owned by local people and all funds would go to improving Novato."

"Are there any other communities where such a plan has worked?" asked Mrs. Lawrason Driscoll, president of the Novato Garden Club.

"This would be the pilot community," said Mrs. Scott.

Nineteen persons, representing several women's organizations, attended the meeting. No men's organization was represented.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere

If you need your windshield cleaned (but you don't need any gas), why not stop in and have your windshield cleaned?

We take a dim view of dirty windshields. They're not safe. They're annoying. So we're always glad to clean 'em.

Of course, we hope that when you do need gas, you'll try one of the three Chevron gasolines. Why three? So you can choose a gasoline made to fit the requirements of your car—without paying for extra power you can't use.

All three gasolines have Methyl* power—a research breakthrough in antiknock compounds that stands up under the extreme temperatures of high compression engines. Unlike others, Methyl spreads evenly to all cylinders, giving uniform antiknock performance. And it combines with all the other ingredients required for the best performance a car can deliver.

For the very highest-powered cars, use Custom, highest-powered gasoline in the West. For all other high-compression cars, fill up with Supreme. For cars designed to run on regular, choose Chevron. You'll get on-the-road proof that we take better care of your car.

RECIPES OF THE WEEK

Barbecued Lamb Chops*

8 large lamb chops
1 cup strong coffee (don't let us scare you on this one)
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup pineapple juice
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup lemon juice
Few drops Tabasco

Combine ingredients and marinate chops in this mixture several hours or overnight. Turn occasionally. Drain chops saving marinade. Grill over charcoal about 8 minutes on each side depending on desired degree of doneness. Remember that lamb should not be well done. It should be removed from the fire when just done, otherwise meat will not be succulently tender! Brush frequently with marinade while grilling.

Onions Butternut

Wash and peel 1½ pounds small white onions. Cook in ½ inch boiling salted water 15 to 20 minutes or until tender. Drain. Add 3 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts. Heat until butter melts.

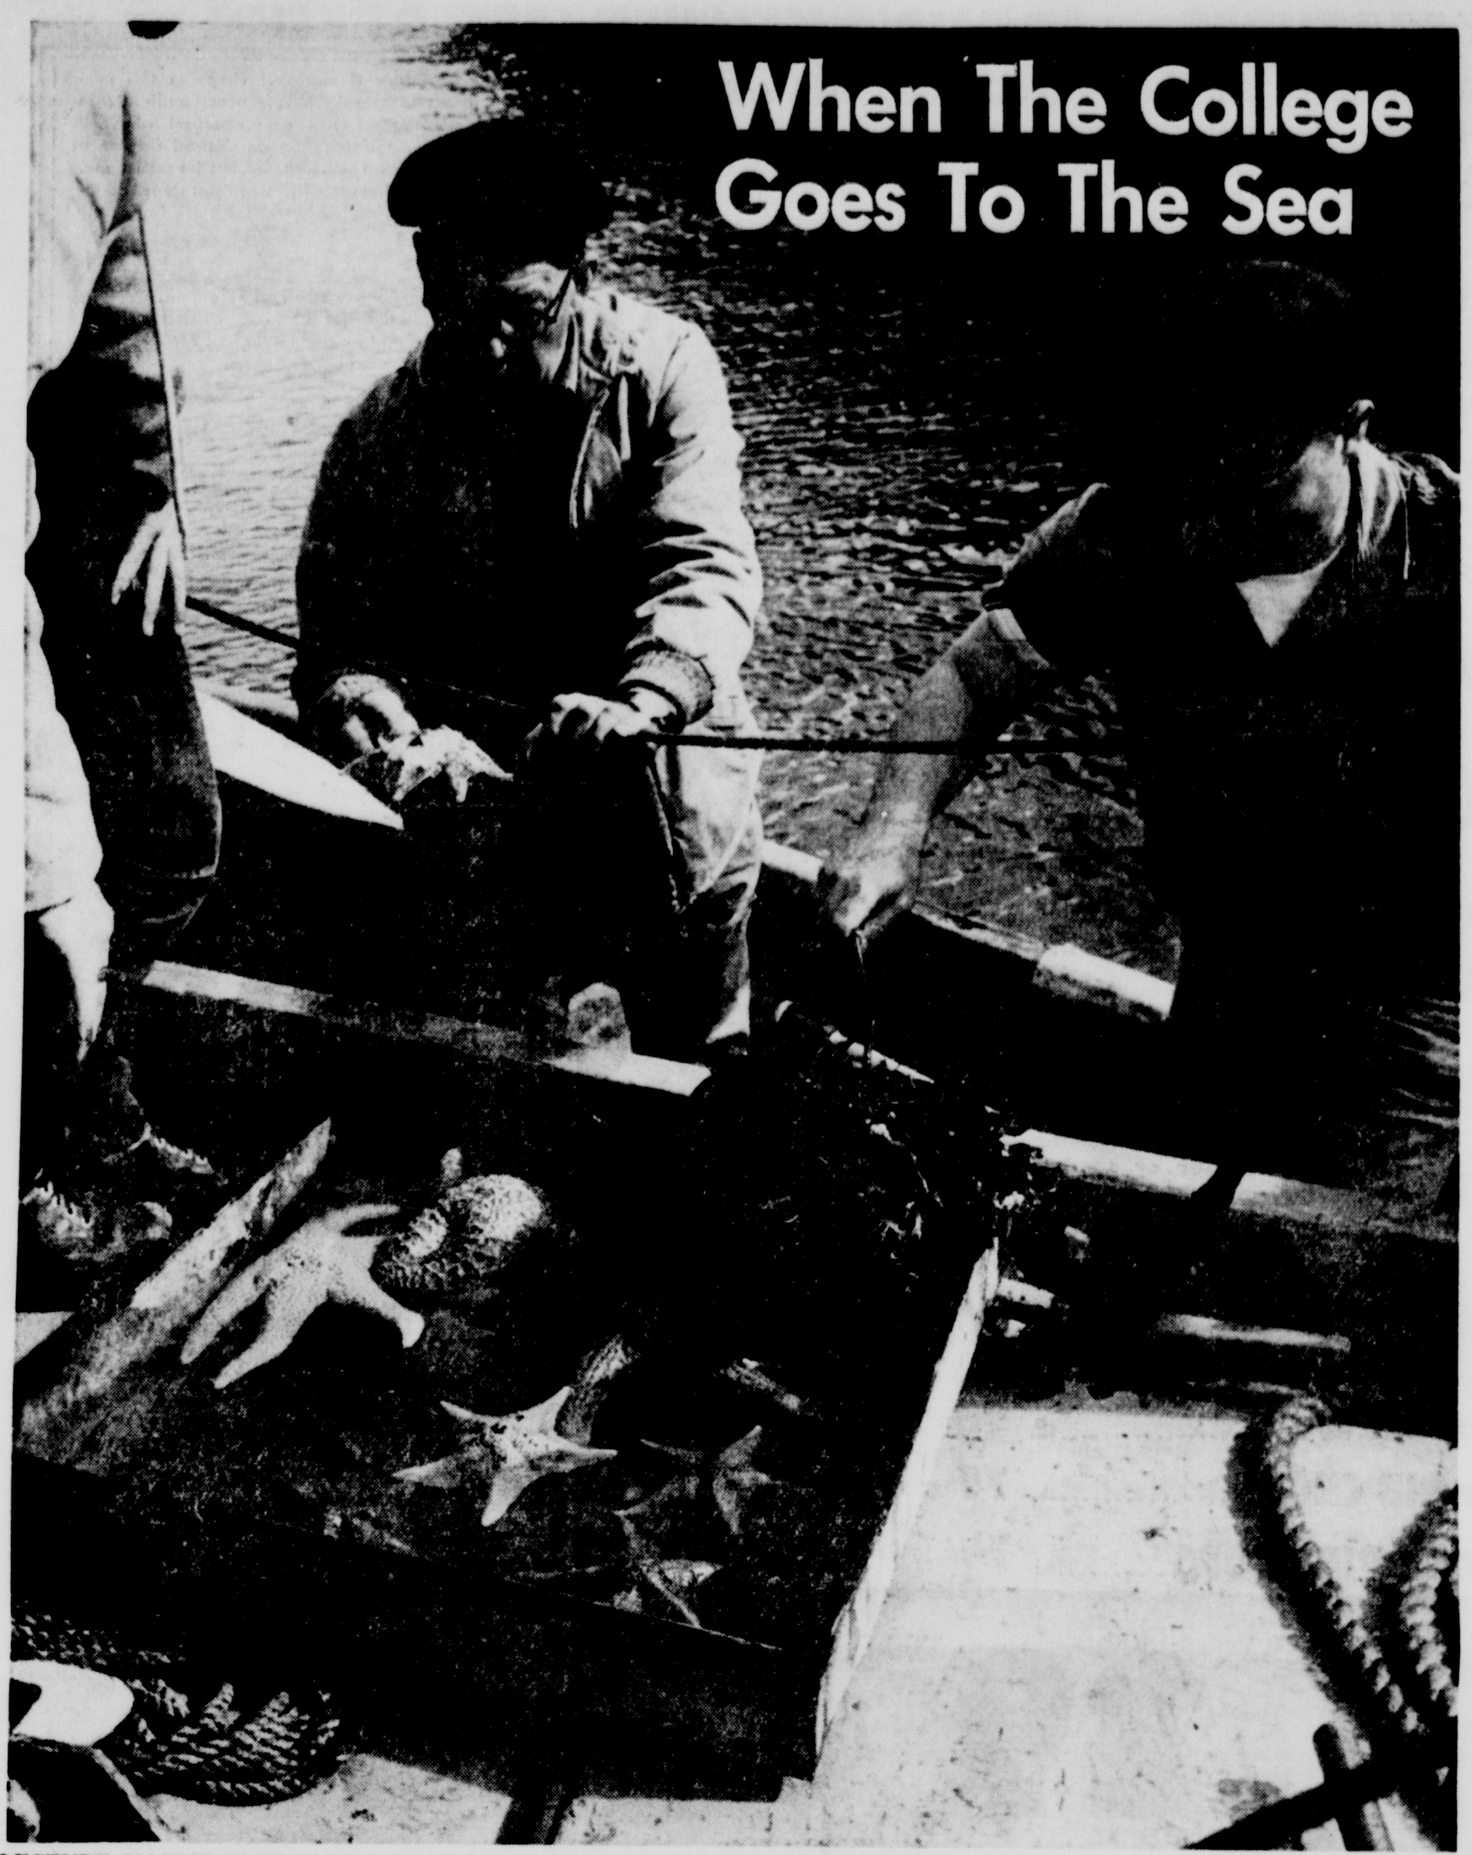
When The College Goes To The Sea



LECTURE ON THE SPOT—Biology classes of Sonoma State College in Cotati met for a "Week of Marine Biology" during Easter week in the rustic buildings of the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach, and went out in boats with Prof. John Arnold, chairman of the college's division of natural sciences, and Prof. Galen Clothier. Arnold (left) and Clothier are shown as they remove specimens from their skiff to stern of marine biology boat, lecturing the while. "We returned all sea animals to their habitats," Dr. Arnold emphasized. "We did very little collecting."

BIRD WATCHING ON THE BAY—Sonoma State College and University of the Pacific students scan the skies above Tomales Bay for birds. "We saw ducks, loons, osprey, shore birds, cormorants, terns and many others," reports ornithologist Arnold. Students are aboard the Bios Pacific, University of the Pacific research boat.

'WHAT DID WE SET'—Professor Arnold summarizes the day's discoveries for biology class in one of the Pacific Marine Station buildings—an out-of-the-ordinary classroom. Station is maintained by University of the Pacific. Dr. Joel Hedgpeth is director.

EXAMINING THE CATCH—Sonoma State College student Stuart Oxford and Professors Clothier and Arnold go over specimens of marine life—vegetable and animal—taken off Dillon Beach for study by the college class. It was workaday education, "down to the sea in ships."

City To Stay At E Street School

San Rafael's engineering, planning and building departments will remain in the basement of E Street School until the building is demolished.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen informed the city council last night that the San Rafael Elementary School District has canceled its "cancellation of lease" on the city-used portion of the building.

The school district withdrew its ouster order after a conference of City Atty. David Menary Jr. and Asst. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, said Public Works Director Norris Rawles.

Menary today said Maloney had agreed at the conference that the city has an equitable right if not yet legal ownership to the portion of the building it is using. The city is acquiring that part of the E Street School in a property exchange, for westerly extension of Third Street. The schools, in exchange, receive a piece of property on the opposite side of the street right-of-way and will, through court action, get clear title to the remainder of the lot. Title now is clouded by the fact the city acquired rights through abandonment of a proposed cemetery in bygone years.

The three city departments will remain in the basement while school classes are held upstairs from opening of school next September until completion of the Glenwood School the following March. The school district had proposed to put special service offices, now in E Street classrooms, in the basement. City manager Andersen said school officials had agreed these could be located in the unused gymnasium.

Miss Presley Wins Fight For Aide

County Welfare Director Betty Presley today won a battle before the Marin County board of supervisors for the right to hire a training officer at $760 a month.

The board turned down the request, 3 to 2, with only Supervisors Peter Behr and William D. Fusselman supporting it. But then Miss Presley arrived to say the woman she was "stealing" from the State Welfare Department, Virginia Sachs, would be taking a salary cut of about $700 per year to come to Marin County.

Miss Sachs, she said, would be a key person in a major expansion of activities of the welfare department, which will see some 31 new positions filled by July 31.

"Several counties are trying to recruit her," Miss Presley added.

Supervisor George H. Ludy said he was worried basically about setting a precedent which might be followed by other departments in hiring at the third step of the salary scale. But County Administrator Alan Bruce noted he had recently hired his own two assistants at the third step. The ordinance on personnel requires hiring at the bottom or second step except in cases where the person has outstanding qualifications and there has been difficulty recruiting.

Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisor Ludy and Peter Behr then switched their votes to unanimously approve the appointment of Miss Sachs.

Bank Elects 7 Directors In Tiburon

Temporary officers elected were Tijerina, chairman, and William O. Weissich, attorney for the bank, secretary.

Tijerina, said 350 persons, representing 8,000 shares of stock, attended the meeting. Eighty-two per cent of the stockholders are from the Belvedere-Tiburon area, he said.

The bank, to be located on Tiburon's Main Street, will open with seven employees. Plans for remodeling will be placed for bid on Friday with the opening date probably in July, Tijerina said.

Mantegani and Fred G. Zelinsky joined to move that Tijerina be honored and designated as founder of the bank.

The new board met today for the first time.

Bodie in Mono County, now a ghost town, received the first long-distance transmission of electricity in the West when power was transmitted from a hydroelectric power plant at Green Creek in 1893.

COMMANDS CORPS — Maj. Gen. Andrew R. Lolli will assume command of the 15th Army Corps at the Presidio of San Francisco Aug. 1. The 15th Corps directs Army Reserve and ROTC activities in California, Nevada and Arizona. General Lolli formerly commanded the 40th Artillery Brigade at Fort Baker and the San Francisco-Travis Army Air Defense complex.

Sunday Auto Sale Ban Bill Killed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Transportation Committee today killed a proposed law that would have prohibited auto sales in 35 counties, including Marin.

The measure, by Assemblyman Tom Carrell (D-San Fernando) was defeated by a voice vote. It had squeaked through the Assembly 42-27 after opponents challenged it on religious and business grounds.

The committee referred the bill to a between-session study.

The measure was the second major Sunday closing bill of the session to go down to defeat. A much wider bill that covered sales of all "non-essential" items died in a Senate committee last month when its author withdrew it for lack of support.

The bill drew support from both the Northern and Southern California Motor Car Dealers Assn., the Independent Auto Dealers Council of California and the Teamsters Union.

It was opposed by the California Religious Liberty Assn.

Carrell originally tailored the measure for only 23 counties in the hope of overcoming opposition in the rural-minded Senate. It was amended to include 35 counties, excluding the 23 with populations less than 40,000.

Carrell said the law would eliminate shoddy business practices on Sunday and permit auto dealers a day of rest.

San Anselmo Woman Injured In Crash

Winnifred S. Eatsvedt, 59, of 6 Tamal Vista Drive, San Rafael, manager of a San Anselmo printing firm, was bruised when her car was hit by another about 5:40 p.m. Sunday as she entered the Point Reyes Station-Petaluma Road northward from Nicasio Road.

She was cited by the California Highway Patrol for failing to yield the right of way to Benard B. Bonnicksen, Oakland locomotive engineer, driving east on the intersecting road.

Health Plan Is Approved For County

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today gave very tentative approval to a new plan for county employees which would probably give every employee coverage.

Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez was told to take the plan to the employees to get their views. Potential cost to the county was estimated at $38,000.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell recommended the county contribution to employees' health benefits be raised from $5 to $7.50.

Fontez said the plan itself would be changed and split into two parts. The basic plan, covering just the employee, would cost $7.50. But he would have to pay extra for coverage for dependents.

An augmented plan covering major medical coverage would be stacked on top of the basic plan for those who wish it.

One major change would be to eliminate maternity benefits.

The county has 748 employees, but many of these, especially the younger ones, do not participate in the health plan. A study by consultant Harry C. Duncan of Belvedere showed that the county government is lagging behind many smaller jurisdictions in Marin County in this employee benefit.

Mitchell explained that the effect of having only older employees belong to the present health plan has been last year that the administrator, California Physicians Service, has had to pay out 142 per cent of what was taken in in premiums.

The rates are sure to go up, he said.

Hearing Tomorrow On Flood Control

A public hearing on flood control projects for streams flowing into Richardson Bay will be held beginning at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Room 322 of the Marin County Civic Center by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Proponents of opening the bay for sports boating, tied in with plans for small boat harbor development in Mill Valley, hope the Army Engineers will participate in flood control to make the project possible.

The creeks involved are Coyote and Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio. The area includes Sausalito, Marin City, Tamalpais Valley, Mill Valley, Alto, Strawberry Point, Belvedere and South Tiburon Peninsula.

Syria was under French mandate between the two world wars. It won full independence in 1944 although French troops did not leave until 1946.

NEW OFFICER—Dr. Warren L. Bostick of San Rafael has been installed as assistant secretary of the board of the California Physicians' Service. He is a past president of the California Medical Assn.

Car Bounces Into House

A car bounced into a house in Tamalpais Valley about 8:20 a.m. today and roused the sleeping occupant of the home with a jar that felt to her "like an earthquake."

Mrs. Orphia Stefani of 302 Cardinal Court said she got up to see her husband off to work, then went back to sleep. "All of a sudden, I felt the whole house shake. It felt like the roof was coming in, and I thought it was an earthquake."

She looked out and found a car wedged against the corner of the house.

Driver of the car, Edward Yurek, 47, of 519 Pineo Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was taken to Marin General Hospital by Marin Ambulance. He was treated for a chin bruise and released.

The California Highway Patrol said Yurek lost control of his car in the parking lot of the Shoreline Market. It smashed two fences and ran over a bed of flowers in the Stefani back yard.

Hub Man Is Hurt; Sleeps At Wheel

John P. Bourke, 42, of 177 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, was in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital after suffering broken ribs and scalp cuts when his car hit a tree in front of 22 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 2 a.m. today.

Bourke told San Anselmo police that he must have fallen asleep while driving north on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Meadow Park School Has Pipe Problems

Progress sometimes brings unexpected problems, the San Jose Elementary School District board found last night when the State Division of Highways informed it of a plan to connect a 42-inch drainage pipe into a 24-inch pipe at the Meadow Park School site.

The division of highways is building an interchange on Highway 101 at the entrance to Hamilton Air Force Base. Its plans call for a 42-inch drainage pipe. The drain at the school is 24-inch. It runs 500 feet through the school property, and may have to be replaced with a 42-inch pipe, said Supt. Ralph Giovanniello.

Word was received from the State Public Works Commission that it had approved the additions to the Loma Verde Elementary and San Jose Intermediate schools.

Resignation of Patricia Bowen, second grade teacher at Lynwood School was accepted by the board. A leave of absence for the next school year was granted to Mrs. Tobi Rosenstein, first-second grade teacher at Meadow Park School. Homer Milford was hired as part-time custodian.

An agreement with Sonoma State College for student teachers was accepted by the board.

Hospital Fire Protection Meet Asked

Marin Hospital District has requested a meeting with representatives of the Kentfield Fire District to work out the "misunderstanding" over fire protection.

The hospital's contract for fire protection with the Kentfield Fire District was canceled last May, but the district has covered fires at the hospital without the contract.

Harold F. Riede, attorney for the hospital board, yesterday wrote Joseph L. Smith Jr., chairman of the fire district board, requesting a meeting with Kentfield Fire Chief John McLaren and representatives of the fire board.

The meeting would be "for the purpose of working out what appears to be a misunderstanding between the two districts with reference to the status of fire protection," Riede wrote.

WHEN OLD FRIENDS(?) MEET

The air was supposed to be more congenial than this yesterday when 49er coach Red Hickey visited his home town of Clarksville, Ark., and bumped into a former school mate, Police Chief Joe Bock. The "ticket" Chief Bock is writing actually is a "welcome home" message for Hickey, who is visiting his 82-year-old father. (AP Wirephoto)

What's Keeping The Giants Up?

What's holding the San Francisco Giants up on that first rung in the National League pennant race?

Don't ask Manager Alvin Dark. He doesn't know. Neither does Vice President Chub Feeney or any of the other magicians connected with the Giants organization.

That's obvious. But the Giants still cling to first place.

They hold a one-game margin over the arch-rival Los Angeles Dodgers going into tonight's battle with the Philadelphia Phillies at Candlestick Park. Billy O'Dell (5-0) of the Giants is scheduled to oppose Ray Culp (4-2). The two teams had a break in their four-game series yesterday.

As a team, the Giants are batting at only a .249 rate. And they are fielding at a weak .972 clip. They have made 39 errors, nearly a third of what they made all last season. They have made only 21 double plays—low in the league. The pitching has been spotty and only Jack Sanford looks reliable on the hill.

For a club noted as a slugging unit, this team is looking more like the hitless wonders. Only they aren't so wonderful, at that.

Some of the individual batting averages aren't so bad, but some of these averages have been fattened with the bases empty hits. Clutch hitting just hasn't been a trademark so far this esason—except, possibly, for catcher Ed Bailey.

Willie Mays is batting .269 against .304 last season. Catcher Tom Haller is .250 against .261; Jim Davenport .240 against .297. Jose Pagan is only .215 against .259, and the 1962 league's leading fielding shortstop already has made more errors than he usually does in a half season.

Chuck Hiller, before he was sidelined with a cracked bone in his hand, was hitting only .127 against .276 in 1962. Harvey Kuenn, used only sparingly, is hitting .192 against .304; Matty Alou .111 against .292 and Joey Amalfitano .188 against .237.

Dark and the rest of the Giants brass are firm in their belief that the boys will snap out of it. They waited out a 100-point slump by elipe Alou and it paid off with that ninth inning homer that gave San Francisco a victory in the second game of a twin bill with the Phils on Sunday.

New Strike Zone Or Cool Weather Reason For Improved Pitching?

CONNOLLY

No one seems to agree and, like the weather, no one can do anything about it. I mean improved pitching and the falling off of the long ball. I blame it on the new strike zone but few will accept that as an excuse. They think the cool weather, since the season began, has been a big lift to pitchers and go on to say that when the weather "warms up" the pitchers will wilt and the hit parade and free swinging power boys will come into their own.

"Cold weather," Casey Stengel was saying the other day, "helps the pitchers and hurts the batter. With those light whip-lash bats hitters sting their fingers and hurt their hands. That is why I say cold weather helps the pitchers—not the new strike zone. In my estimation, the new strike zone has converted cautious hitters into swingers.

"When the pitching balances, it's the club with the defense that rolls along and wins," Stengel explained.

DANNY MURTAUGH, Pirate manager, while here earlier last week, professes to believe that every club in the loop has better pitching than it had last season.

"If the clubs with good pitching had anything to back 'em up, this 1963 race would be an eight club chase," Danny-boy says. "Good pitching is swell if you can support it with hits, runs and defense. But good pitching alone never has won a pennant."

There is a very definite change in the plans and the outlook of Casey Stengel this year, as compared to 1962. Instead of him yaking about doing a favor for George Weiss, general manager of the Mets, Casey right now says he's looking forward to a new ball park in N.Y. and a developing era that he hopes will make his Mets a real contender before he hangs up the spikes.

In contrasting one National League club against the other, Ol' Casey plays cute. He doesn't want to appear as favoring the Giants but in the next breath he'll say the club that beats the Giants will win the 1963 flag.

"They've got the most power and with any sort of steady pitching can't help but be rough and tough to whip," the met skipper declares.

Brilliant Mile Duel Shapes Up For Cal Relays Saturday

MODESTO (AP) — The long-awaited mile race between world record holder Peter Snell of New Zealand and America's best distance runner, Jim Beatty, shapes up for Saturday night in the California Relays.

Tom Moore, the meet director, said both milers have agreed to the meeting.

Snell established the world record of 3 minutes 54.4 seconds last year. Beatty holds the American mark of 3:56.3 plus every other American record from 1,500 meters to 5,000 meters. His two-mile time of 8:29.8 stands as the official world record.

Snell won the mile in the Coliseum last Friday night timed in 4:00.3, his first of three California appearances.

Beatty skipped the mile in Los Angeles and concentrated on running 5,000 meters where he beat Snell's countryman, Murray Halberg, in 13:57.4.

Four other milers challenge the two record holders in the feature race scheduled at 7:48 p.m. It will be televised nationally.

Beatty holds the California Relays record at 3:58 established in 1960 when it stood as the American citizen's record. Beatty also won in 1961 with a 3:58.8 but did not compete last year.

Keither Forman of Oregon, the defending champion, won't compete since an injury forced curtailment of his training. Weisiger was second to Forman last year in 3:59.3 with Seaman third at 4:00.4.

Boccabella's Four Homers Lead League

Although his batting average nose-dived, Santa Clara first baseman John Bocabella of San Anselmo won the home run championship of the California Intercollegiate Baseball Assn. for 1963, final statistics showed today.

Boccabella clouted four homers for the Broncos, twice as many as any other batter. He also was among the leaders in total bases (24) and runs batted in (9).

However, the big first sacker, who led the Broncos in just about all hitting departments last year, rated far down the CIBA batting list this season with a .208 average with only 11 hits at-bats. Three other Broncos outhit Boccabella this season as his average droped more than 100 points from his 1962 performance when Santa Clara was runner-up in the NCAA World Series.

Brewer's 851 Mark Leads Nave Lanes

Al Brewer of the 540 Summer Trio League topped the keglers at Nave Lanes for the week with an 851 four-game series which included games of 228, 213, 223 and 187 (a 213 average).

Dick Treadway of the same league had the week's high game of 258 on his way to an 833 series. Bob Codner was close behind with a fine 252 line. Hamer Black of the Wy-No's Mixed League twirled the high three-game set, 619.

Dottie Keaton topped the women for the week with a high series of 566 and high individual game, 234, in the Early Mixer League. Fran Thurman rolled a 560 in the Brunswick Traveling League.

Gene Helbing again led the juniors as he posted a 735 four-game series in the Junior Masters. Curt Rutter followed with a 719 set.

In the Gold Coast Classic, Rol Walberg fired a 637 to lead the upper division qualifiers and Larry Muir topped the lower division qualifiers with a 659 series.

MARIN PROS

Blum Still Averaging Above .300

Ron Blum of Larkspur, shortstop for St. Cloud, Minn. of the Northern League, collected only two hits in 15 at bats during the latest week reported by Player Periscope of Novato, but his batting average remained above the .300 mark at 305.

For the young season, Blum has 11 hits in 36 at bats which includes a home run and two runs batted in. He has scored seven runs.

Doug Wilson of Larkspur, outfielder for the Fresno Giants of the California League, leads the league in triples with three, but is batting .180 with 11 hits in 61 trips to the plate, at last report. He also has two doubles with seven runs knocked in.

Neil Austinson of San Anselmo, outfielder for Decatur, Ill., of the Midwest League raised his average from .200 to .237 with six hits in 23 trips to the plate in the week. Three of those hits were doubles to give him nine hits in 38 at bats for the season.

EARLY REPORT

In an early report, Vincent Pallavicini, a San Anselmo product, is batting .400 for Thomasville, Ga., of the Georgia-Florida league where he played last year. The young outfielder has two hits, including a double and an RBI, in five trips to the dish.

In the pitching ranks, Ron Cole of Mill Valley now has an even 2-2 record with Modesto of the California League. He won one and lost one during the last week reported. He has allowed 23 hits, walked 13 and struck out 14 in his 22 innings of work. His earned-run average is 5.73.

Nino Geminiani of San Anselmo, flinger for Jamestown, N.Y., of the New York-Pennsylvania League, has pitched in only two innings at last report. In those first two innings of the season, he struck out three and hasn't allowed a hit, run or walk.

Harvey Klyce Wins North Coast Title

Harvey Klyce, San Rafael High School tennis star, won the North Coast Section singles title Saturday to wind up his prep season in fine style.

Klyce won his final two matches Saturday at Sequoia High School in Redwood City. He defeated Jeff Kerber of Palo Alto 6-4, 9-7, and then downed Gene Phillips of Capuchino High School of San Bruno 6-3, 6-4 in the finals.

His twin wins, in two sets each, provided Klyce with a remarkable performance over the 1963 season which never saw him go the full route of three sets in winning every one of his matches.

"I'll miss Harvey very much," said Fred Hines, San Rafael tennis coach. Klyce, a senior, will be graduating this year. For winning the section, the last match of the prep season, Harvey received a gold medal. The school received a plaque.

Pop Warner Football Plans Set For 1963

The 1963 edition of Pop Warner Football Conference in Marin will start Sept. 7 with the 10th annual Football Festival at College of Marin stadium, it was announced after the recent first meeting of the year by the directors of the sponsoring Marin Boys' Clubs.

The festival will be followed by five weeks of league games and an All-Star grid battle. No decision was reached concerning Marin hosting a bowl game between the Marin champion team and a squad from out of state.

Sign-up dates were set for June 1 and June 8 from 10 a.m. to noon. Sign-up locations will be:

The age range for the youngsters competing in Pop Warner football is 11 through 13, with some exceptions for boys 14 who played last season. Weight limit is 123 pounds.

Sign-ups also were slated for special applicants in August and registration may also be made by letter to the Marin Boys' Clubs, Box 741, Ross.

Rams Sign Bass To Two-Year Pact

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Halfback Dick Bass, one of the few bright spots for the Los Angeles Rams in 1962, today signed a two-year contract with the National Football League club.

Bass, just under 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighing 200 pounds, was presumed to have received a pay raise over 1962 when he became the first rusher in Ram history to surpass 1,000 yards in a single season.

Pony League To Open '63 Season

The North Marin Pony League will start its 1963 season tomorrow with a game between T and B baseballers and the Engineers at O'Connor Park in Santa Venetia at 6 p.m.

Redwood Track

This meet was a qualifying meet for the Marin County Elementary meet which will be held on the Novato High School track next Saturday.

First place winners Saturday: Shot put — Christensen (NC), 38-9; football throw — Janda (Kent), 128-10; broad jump—Iverson (Reed), 15-10; high jump — Johnson (NC), 5-0; 50-yard dash —Johnson (NC), 6.5; 100—Christensen (NC), 12.0; 660—Goddard (Reed), 1:43.8; 300-yard relay — Neil Cummins, 35.5.

Marin Teeners Win Coast Weightlifting Tournament

Twelve young strongmen from Marin led the San Rafael MarVel Athletic Club to a team victory in the first Pacific Coast AAU Teen-Age weightlifting championships last Saturday in Sacramento.

Dave Holmes of San Rafael High won the 123-pound class with a total o f430 pounds. Teammates Jack Gearhart of Drake and Bryant Hamilton of San Rafael finished second and third in the class with 335 pounds and 320 pounds.

Leon Center of San Rafael High, competing unattached, won the 132-pound division with a total of 485 pounds. Fran Gearhart of Drake and Jeff Chan of S. R. High came in second and third with 425 and 385 pounds, respectively.

Frank Holton, 13, of San Anselmo, snared second place in the 148-pound division. Frank pressed 190 pounds and made a total of 550 pounds to edge teammates Gerry Denman of Marin Catholic, third, and Dave Cooley of San Rafael High, fourth.

In the 165-pound class, Ed Ghiringhelli of Marin Catholic placed third with a total of 575 pounds. Glenn Holton of Drake lifted 580 total to place third in the 181-pound class.

The meet is planned to be an annual event which is open to boys 19 and under. Since the oldest lifter on the Marin team is 18, they'll have a strong chance to repeat as team champoin in 1964.

In the same weekend the MarVel team, minus the teenagers, competed in an open meet in San Francisco but went down to defeat at the hands of the San Diego lifters.

Lone Marin victor in that meet was Carrol Varner of San Rafael who won over Kurt Freeman of the San Diego team in the 198-pound class, avenging an earlier defeat at the hands of Freeman.

At 'Indy' It's Jones Vs. Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —It will be the field against Parnelli Jones in the 47th running of the $450,000 500-mile auto race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Jones won the pole position for the second straight year with a record 10-mile qualifying run at 151-153 miles per hour Saturday and it stood up through the second session of trials Sunday.

The Torrence, Calif., driver used the same Offenhauser-powered Agajanian Special he piloted last year—with $11,000 worth of improvements.

Only 18 cars were qualified over a weekend of gusty winds that made the speedsters difficult to handle on the turns. Fifteen positions will be open for the last two trials sessions next Saturday and Sunday.

In spite of the wind, drivers cracked all of the qualifying records excepting those for straight eights, front drives and diesels — none of which have been raced at the Speedway for years.

Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N. Y., set a record of 150.250 for supercharged V-8s in a new version of the powerful Novi. Scot Jim Clark set another of 149.750 both for unblown V8s and for rear-engine cars, in a Lotus-Ford.

Drivers Gene Hartley of Indianapolis, who had started 10 Memorial Day races, and Jack Turner of Seattle, veteran of six, announced yesterday they were retiring after Turner crashed on the main stretch for the third straight year.

STEVENS

Fishing, like morals, seems to be a matter of geography. The piscatorial populace that chose Saturday and Sunday to tow anchovies or lures behind a boat on the briny, and did so north by northeast of the Farallones, made the grade in a big way. Tony Caruso of Sausalito told me that on Saturday 15 boats left his place and 12 of them docked with full limits while three unloaded near limits. Nice going, eh? said Tony, "All nice fish to 26 pounds. Weather and water were ideal. After many weeks of bad conditions, at last we had a happy bunch of fishermen."

Unfortunately, the striper strivers didn't fare so well. From one harbor I learned that eight bass were taken on Saturday by a fleet of 18 rowboats. One happy angler, however, out of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, proudly displayed a nice sturgeon he caught. Not a monster, but very welcome to Joe Arisa.

BAIT FISHING throughout the upper San Pablo was very slow over the weekend. Trolling, which was initiated out of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor on Saturday, yielded very few bass.

Many of the hopefuls who chose to try their luck in the back country were blown out, and came home early.

IT'S A FAR different story of the lads and lassies who tried the waters of Clear Lake. Good weather, good water and plenty of fish. Pluggers after black bass did themselves a lot of good—better, according to Don Smith of Don's Bait House at the Highlands, than the live minnow anglers, but both did very well. Asked about catfish, crappies and blue-gills, Don waxed quite eloquent. "Honestly, Ralph," he enthused, "just about anyone with the strength to hang onto one end of a fishing rod could fill a sack with blue gills or crappies. They took 'em from the shore, from piers and from boats. Some nice blue cats in the four-to-five-pound class came in and plenty of fine mud cats."

I learned from Don and others that the lake was worked by more avid anglers and vacationists this past week than for many moons. Weather perfect; water clear and inviting.

PLUGGING FROM shore at Dillon's Point has been definitely slow. But when I talked with Mrs. LaGrone I was told the fellows who bait fished from shore and the fishing pier did rather well. Quite a few fish to 12 pounds were taken along with a few flounders.

FROM INDONESIA VIA HOLLAND —For Femke Schoellkopf, born of Dutch parents in Indonesia, the way to the United States (and Corte Madera) was a roundabout one, via Holland, Spain and Morocco. But she now is proud possessor of a certificate of U.S. citizenship. (Independent-Journal photo)

NOW U.S. CITIZEN

She Knew The Life Of Colonist, And That Of A Prison Camp

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Femke Schoellkopf, who in her childhood knew the plush life of a Dutch colonist and the harsh existence of a Japanese prison camp, is one of Marin County's newest U. S. citizens.

Mrs. Schoellkopf set her heart on living in America when she visited Connecticut as a Fullbright student for a year of college, but was stymied until marriage to another naturalized American, Jacob Schoellkopf.

When Indonesia became an independent nation, the Dutch were forced to leave, she explained. Her family moved to the Netherlands in 1946, when she was 11.

When she decided she wanted to come to the United States, however, she found she was officially an Indonesian for immigration purposes, and the Indonesian quote was minute.

She met her future husband in Spain, and he told her he was sailing a yacht across the Atlantic and asked her to come along. They were married in Morocco and left soon after, selling the boat in Delaware and heading for the San Francisco Bay area. They settled in Corte Madera four years ago.

Mrs. Schoellkopf now has two small children, and says she is delighted with California, especially because the weather is so similar to her native East Indies.

But she also looks forward to accompanying her husband on two-year overseas missions. Schoellkopf is a specialist in the Middle East for the international office of the Bank of America.

Plans also call for building a house on a hillside site near their present home at 122 Buena Vista Avenue, Corte Madera.

With two small sons, Jacob Frederick III, 3, and Alexander Paul, 2, Mrs. Schoellkopf is kept busy at home. But she paints abstracts as a hobby in a class at Mill Valley, and attends San Francisco Symphony Orchestra matinees on Fridays. And one of her favorite activities is the International Hospitality Center in San Francisco, whose members serve as hosts and guides to foreign visitors.

Camera, Binoculars Reported Stolen

A movie camera, transistor radio and binoculars, valued at $381, were stolen from a residence at 135 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael, between 4:35 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Friday, William Edward Coleman reported to San Rafael police Saturday.

Coleman said the items were stolen from him and his roommate, Clinton Robert Cline. Entry was gained by forcing the front door open, police said.

Intoxicated Driver Pays Fine Of $166

Michael Peter Hanson, 35, of 9 Garden Court, Novato, paid $166 fine Wednesday for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 at Loma Verde last May 7.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court also put Hanson on six months probation.

Math Prize

Charles B. Cauldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cauldwell of Ross, was awarded the prize for achievement in freshman mathematics at Occidental College in Los Angeles last week. A graduate of Redwood High School, he plans to enter physics research after graduation from Occidental.

Muir Beach Proposal Protests

Seacape, a proposed 63-lot subdivision at Muir Beach, brought a pile of letters and official objections yesterday, but no action from the Marin County Planning Commission.

Developer Leslie Smith asked for a delay until June 3 while he tries to gain approval for the project from the County Health Department. The sanitation division has objected to septic tanks on the hillside development.

Smith said a new source of water will be found for the subdivision, since the Muir Beach Community Services District cannot serve the homes. "We know their water isn't fit for human consumption," he added.

The developer suggested formation of an assessment district for sewer service for the entire area. He said the sewage might be treated nearby, pumped over a hill and dumped in the ocean.

He said talks are set with water pollution officials on the possibility, claiming there is deep water and a tidal sweep in the area.

The planning staff recommended that streets be narrower than standard, and that some curbs and gutters be left out, because of the large lots involved. But nearby homeowners and the State Division of Highways wrote objections to drainage plans.

Commission Approves Bel Marin Keys Plan

Jack West, developer of the 25-million-dollar Bel Marin Keys project near Hamilton Air Force Base, yesterday won Marin County Planning Commission approval for rezoning for a 12-acre shopping center and almost four acres of townhouses.

The planning staff asked a delay because the plans call for the townhouses to block view of the shopping area from the main street.

Project plans call for a 900-home development, with lots lying next to a lagoon. Included will be an 18-hole golf course, a country club, a riding club, a rod and gun club, and a yacht club.

"These circumstances won't be encountered in other areas," commented commissioner Henry B. Hankins. "I move approval."

West said construction of the houses, delayed by winter rains would start almost immediately.

The commission also approved substandard front yards for 17 lots after hearing that only one building plan would fit the lot legally. The variances would allow a variety of house plans.

Cars At Beach, Lake Broken Into

Dennis Hinkle, a psychologist from Castro Valley, said he lost about $300 in camera equipment from his 1956 sedan parked at McClure's Beach Saturday. He said the rear door may have been left unlocked.

At Phoenix Lake, about $17 were stolen from two wallets left inside the car, Greta Connor of 35 St. Francis Lane, San Rafael, said it was locked.

Expert Will Speak To Pupils On Space

Astronaut Gordon Cooper's orbits around the planet have so excited first grade pupils at Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera, that a talk by a space expert has been arranged for them, Principal Catherine Burch reported today.

At 9:15 a.m. May 27 Lt. Col. Frank Wagner, USMC (retired), an engineer for Lockheed Aviation So.'s missiles and space program, will explain latest developments in rockets, missiles and space ships to Mrs. Helen Wagner's first grade class. He will demonstrate a rocket launching and other developments.

Children's Books Drive 'Success'

The drive to collect children's books for the Marin County Library was "very successful," Mrs. Virginia Keating, librarian, reported today.

Students from approximately 50 schools throughout the county donated books Friday in a "Bring a Book to School" project sponsored by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs and parent-teacher associations.

Mrs. Keating said she did not know how many books were collected but "many are useful," including a number of children's classics.

Boy Runs Into Car, Receives Bruises

Six-year-old Scott Hall of San Anselmo was treated for bruises on his nose and left leg at Marin General Hospital Saturday after he reportedly ran into a moving car at 588 Bridgeway in Sausalito.

The boy is a son of Mrs. E. K. Hall of 129 Madrone Avenue. Police said he apparently ran into a car driven by Julius Bedynek of 201 Valley Street, Sausalito, at 3:25 p.m.

Sheriff's Patrol Car Involved In Two-Auto Wreck

A sheriff's patrol car was involved in a two-car accident at Homestead Boulevard near Tamalpais High School Saturday evening.

The patrol car, driven by Deputy Sheriff Joseph G. Kelly, crashed into a vehicle operated by Ralph Gino Gurie, 27, a San Francisco actor. Gurie was cited for not having a driver's license's. Deputy Kelly said Gurie had been driving off and on for the past 10 years with only a learner's permit.

Kelly said his patrol car had been having transmission trouble. When he shifted into low, the car rolled back slightly.

Ex-Giant Pitcher's Son Is Injured

Robert Allen Joyce, 21, of San Francisco, son of former San Francisco Seal and New York Giant pitcher Bob Joyce, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after surgery for a ruptured spleen.

Home Parlor For Beauty Is Denied

Objecting to what it called "spot zoning by variance," the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday denied a request to establish a beauty parlor in a home in Los Ranchitos.

Mary B. Brookover applied for a variance to operate a beauty parlor in a residence at 7 Van Buren Street, next to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks and North San Pedo Road. A petition from the Los Ranchitos Improvement Assn. asked for approval, saying there was no objection from homeowners in the area.

Commissioners, however, agreed unanimously with commissioner Felix M. Warburg, that the request should be denied because it "would rezone the residential area for a commercial use by means of a variance."

Woman Breaks Arm In Wreck

Mrs. May Bell, 50, operator of the Maiden Lane Dog Kennels near Fairfax, received a broken right arm at 3:45 a.m. Sunday when her westbound car went off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near White's Hill.

She told California Highway Patrol officers that she was hit by an on-coming car, and the impact forced her off the road. Officers, however, could find no evidence that the car had been struck before it skidded 135 feet along the south shoulder of the road.

Mrs. Bell was in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today.

Group Therapy Is Planned For High School Stutterers

Group therapy for high school students who stutter will be offered during a summer speech training program at the Easter Seal Speech Center, 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

The six-week session starting June 17 also will offer individual and group speech training for children of all ages and adults, reported Mrs. Helen C. Daggett, director of the center.

Dr. Arden Monson, staff member of the Speech Clinic of the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, will direct the therapy for stutterers.

Due In U. S.

Lt. (j.g.) Donald K. Benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Benedict, 53 Bolinas Avenue, San Anselmo, will return within a few days to Newport, R.I., on board the J. K. Taussig, a destroyer escort which has toured Africa, the Middle East and the Mediterranean.

Air Impact Wrench Taken From Station

George Steven Crotts, co-owner of Bueschel's Richfield Service Station at 910 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, reported to San Rafael police at 10:09 p.m. Friday the theft of an air impact wrench from the lubrication room.

Crotts said the wrench was stolen about 15 minutes earlier when a group of youths was milling around the station. Value of the wrench was placed at $150.

Sausalito Club Marks Golden Year

A FAMILIAR and admired ornament in the beautiful garden of the Sausalito Woman's Clubhouse is this bronze Chinese bell in the foreground. Shown are four past presidents who have headed important committees this year. From left are Mesdames Carl W. Spring, nominating committee; Van Allen Treat, legislative committee; Howard Sievers, dance committee, and Emmet L. Rixford, director annual Hi Jinks Show.

Reception To Climax Jubilee

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sunday, May 26, will be a prideful occasion for women of the Sausalito Woman's Club when they culminate their Golden Jubilee year with a grand reception at the clubhouse.

For 50 years they have been leaving an indelible imprint on the character of their picturesque little Bayside town, which is widely associated with many aspects of art.

ORGANIZED on March 11, 1913, the club was founded to "preserve the beauty of Sausalito, to aid through organized effort such worthy causes as may enlist its sympathies and to create a center of thought and action among the people for the promotion of whatever tends for the best interests of this town."

Club activities have been carried on under four sections —civic, outdoor art, music and literary.

The club's first temporary meeting place was the Sausalito Land and Ferry Building, which has been torn down. The second was the San Francisco Yacht Club building, which is now the Ondine Restaurant, and the third was Christ Episcopal Guild Hall.

THE RUSTIC clubhouse, built during World War I, was designed by the architect, Miss Julia Morgan, who was the architect for Hearst's San Simeon estate.

One of the club's first civic enterprises was its staging of "presentation exercises" on June 16, 1916, at the City Park, when the city received

TWO PAST presidents were photographed at the Trident Restaurant in Sausalito as they recalled some of the colorful history of the Sausalito Woman's Club. The restaurant and Ondine's now occupy the former San Francisco Yacht Clubhouse, which was one of the three places the club met before its clubhouse was built. The past presidents are, left, Mrs. Leonard G. James, whose husband is a post Commodore of the San Francisco Yacht Club, and Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, general chairman of the Grand Reception on Sunday which will mark the end of festivities celebrating the club's Golden Jubilee Year.

ONE OF THE historically significant spots on the grounds of the Sausalito Woman's Club is the founding tree, so named because in saving it the women of Sausalito realized the need to band together for the preservation of beauty and promotion of civic interest. As a result the club was founded on March 11, 1913. Shown with the tree are two past presidents who will have important duties at the Sunday Grand Reception culminating the Golden Jubilee Year. Mrs. Coyne Being Honored At Bon Voyage Luncheons

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Five sisters have busy weeks ahead and for one of them, Mrs. Walter Coyne (Sheila Doyle) of San Rafael, who leaves in June for an eight weeks journey to Europe and Africa, there are also bon voyage parties. One of these, a luncheon, will be given tomorrow by Mrs. Richard Burke of Greenbrae.

Among the luncheon guests will be Walter's sister-in-law, Mrs. Edmund Coyne, and Mesdames John Gallagher, James Reilly, William Weissich, James Bowler and Dan Dolan. Walter's two sisters, Mrs. James Kane and Mrs. John Robertson, will be hostesses for a luncheon for Sheila in San Francisco not long before she leaves June 15 with her two sons, Jamie, 10, and Colum, 4 for Europe.

On June 2 Sheila and two of her sisters, Mrs. Michael Gordon (Brenda Doyle) and Mrs. Richard McKannay and their husbands are entertaining at a no host cocktail party at the Gordans' home in San Francisco's Seacliff. The party is a benefit for a medical missionary hospital in Ghana Africa where another sister, Mrs. William P. Mahoney Jr. (Alice Doyle) lives. Her husband is the United States ambassador there and Alice has become greatly interested in bringing more doctors and nurses to Ghana.

Sheila and her sons will fly first to Rome where she'll visit another sister, Mrs. James O'Neill (Rosaleen Doyle). Her husband is with the Catholic News Service in Rome. From there Sheila and the boys will fly to Africa to visit the Mahoneys. They'll go in mid-July to Ireland where Walter, who has relatives there, will meet them. Grand finale of the trip will be attendance at the famous Dublin horse show.

DR. AND MRS. EDMUND Mahon of Mill Valley entertained about 65 friends at a brunch Sunday. This took place of the Easter party which the Mahons give each year and had to be postponed.

Barnaby Conrad Jr. and Mrs. Mary Slater (both lived in Belvedere a long time) were married Saturday at the Pasadena home of her mother, Mrs. C. M. Nelson, and Mr. Nelson. Rev. John Burton officated at the late afternoon ceremony in the garden beneath oak trees. Mr. Nelson gave the bride in marriage and her sister, Mrs. Peter Dunn of Pasadena, was matron of honor. Hunt Conrad was his brother's best man.

Among the wedding guests were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Barnaby Conrad of Santa Barbara and San Francisco, and Mary's other sister, Mrs. Sherwood Smith of Charlottesville, Va. and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Nobles of Pasadena. Barnaby and Mary who are honeymooning in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, will reside in Belvedere until their home on Octavia Street in San Francisco is ready for occupancy. Mary has two sons, Billy and Michael by her marriage to William A. Slater III, which ended in divorce. By Barnaby's marriage to Dale Cowgill Conrad, he has three children, Barnaby III, Tani and Winston, who now live with their mother in Woodside.

MR. AND MRS. MILTON STANNARD Jr. of Redlands leave Thursday for an extensive tour of England, France, Switzerland, Holland, Italy, Germany, Litchenstein, Monaco and San Marino. The Stannards' two sons, Craig and Bruce, are staying at home.

MR. AND MRS. BORAH HANSEN have returned to their Tiburon home after a month of travel. They were more than a week in London and Sussex, England. They bought a car there and had it flown to France. In it they toured Normandy and the chateaux country, visited the ancient walled city of Cacassone near the Pyrenees, spent several days on the French Riviera, and then proceeded north through the French Alps to Paris for a week, before flying home.

Old Mill P-TA Family Festival Planned Saturday

Mill Valley's Old Mill Parent-Teacher Assn., will sponsor a family festival from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday on the school grounds.

A brief formal program in the school auditorium will include presentation of life memberships, installation of new officers by Mrs. John Thomson, new Mill Valley school P-TA council president. William Castelli, program chairman and special teacher, will present the third through sixth grades in songs directed by Mrs. David Reed.

Following this program there will be folk dancing in the school yard by first and second graders taught by Mrs. Richard Goldsmith; games of children directed by John Thomson and a volley ball game between parents and teachers organized by Mrs. Donald Du Pertuis and Mrs. Neil Smith.

In charge of food sales beginning at 12:30 p.m. and continuing through the afternoon will be Mesdames F. H. Thiede, hot dogs; James Mason, cup cakes; Wendell Spangler, snow cones; Richard Nelson and John Miller, coffee and milk.

Mrs. C. H. Mielenz and Mrs. George Hebert will present "Art in Action"; and the Girl Scout Troop 79 led by Mrs. Hugh James will present a puppet show. A soft ball game between the sixth graders and parents will be organized by Castelli.

URGENT CALL FOR SEWING

An urgent call for women with sewing ability to help make garments for destitute Algerians has been issued by Mrs. Louise MacLeod, production chairman for Marin Red Cross.

The material has been provided by U.S. State Department, which has reqested Red Cross to make these garments.

IN COLORFUL STYLE

Highlights of the decades from the '20's through the '40's included the club's leadership in persuading town trustees to build the stone steps from Water Street up Excelsior Lane as a memorial to soldiers; working with a town committee to abate a rat problem and keeping out the fish packing industries, which tried to put in an odor offending plant at what is now Marinship.

MORE RECENTLY, in cooperation with the city, some 300 trees have been dedicated on city property and marked with plaques. The club helps maintain them under its dedicated tree program. Damage to them is punishable by fine under a town ordinance.

Enhancement Associates, a section of the club concerned with beautification of downtown areas and entrances, has completed the planting in several areas of shrubs and plants chosen and furnished by the club. One of the original areas rapidly becoming a showplace is across the street from the Trade Fair, and the latest such landscaping is at the intersection of Bridgeway, Napa and Caledonia Streets.

Club members have served on the School Board, City Council, Planning Commission, Recreation Commission and Library Board and provided chairmen of the People-to-People Program and many other civic committees.

IT ALSO has a representative attend all City Council meetings and many other commissions' meetings and report to the general membership each month at business meetings.

In the last two years through its recognition fund, the club has awarded four art scholarships and one high school and one college science scholarship.

Among its many other activities are sponsoring of annual art shows and two series of dances for the young people of the town.

Officers' Wives Club Gives Award To Charles Zaloudek

Charles Zaloudek, 17, son of Col. Charles J. Zaloudek of Hamilton Air Force Base, has been awarded the $250 scholastic award by the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club.

Charles, who will graduate from San Rafael High School in June, plans to attend Cornell University or the University of California.

The scholarship program was started in February by the Officers Wives' Club to assist the children of their members in attaining their academic goals from high school. The Welfare Committee, with Mrs. John W. Greaves as chairman, was in charge of the program.

Sons and daughters of members of the Officers' Wives Club, as well as those whose mothers were deceased and whose fathers were members of the officers' club were eligible to participate.

Corduroy Comeback

Remember corduroy? It's making a comeback — as a multi-purpose home decorating fabric ranging from drapes and curtains to bedspreads and couch covers. Now, a 100 per cent cotton corded material is available in a shrink-proof, 45-inch wide fabric.

Novato Auxiliary To Sell Poppies

Poppies will be sold again this year in Novato by the Donald W. Westlund Auxiliary 7816, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Money received from the sale will be used for the relief of local veterans and their families. Dates for the sale will be Friday and Saturday.

As a dual project, members of the post will clean all the veteran's graves in the Novato cemeteries and auxiliary members will decorate the graves with flowers for Memorial Day.

Dress Parade To Highlight Chapter Party

Mill Valley's Omicron Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will have its annual "Revelation Party" May 28, at the home of Mrs. Robert Moore in Mill Valley.

The purpose of the party is to reveal the identity of secret sisters, present each with a gift and choose new names for the coming year.

This will be the last social for retiring president Mrs. Norman Arends and the first one for the new president, Mrs. Earl Curry, who will announce her new chairmen for the year. Transferees from Phi Gamma Nu Chapter will also be honored.

The party will start at 7 p.m. with a pot luck dinner. Afterward entertainment will consist of a "Droopy Dress" parade with each member required to wear whatever she finds in one of the paper bags that have been filled by members with a motley assortment of clothes. The clothes will then be given to the Good Will.

Orovich-Liversage Vows Are Exchanged

Married in a high nuptial mass at St. Anselms Saturday were Glee Adele Liversage and Thomas J. Orovich Jr., both of San Anselmo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nyle H. Liversage of San Anselmo. Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Ethel Liversage of Fargo, N.D., and her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buechler of Lodi.

Wearing a floor length gown of white satin brocade with a short train and a finger tip veil, she was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Cuneo of San Rafael and Mrs. Richard Steinhart, also of San Rafael, was the other bridal attendant. Both wore rose pink street length sheath dresses.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Orovich of San Anselmo and the grandson of Mrs. Domina Orovich also of San Anselmo.

Best man to the bridegroom was George Schwarz of Daly City, and ushers were Keith Fraser of San Anselmo and Arthur Donati of Corte Madera.

The new Mrs. Orovich graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended both the College of Marin and the University of Oregon. She was a dental assistant at the time of her marriage.

Her husband graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and also from the College of Marin and the University of California. He is now working for the City of San Rafael in the Engineering Department.

Picnic Postponed

Buzzin' Boots Party

The Buzzin' Boots Square Dance Club will hold a "Trail-In" party at 8:30 p.m., on Friday in Star Hall, San Anselmo. Jack Olds will be caller.

Katherine McCorkle Wed At St. Paul's

Katherine Ann McCorkle of San Rafael was wed to James P. Doyle of Sherman Oaks in a recent 2 p.m. ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

The bridesmaids, who wore dresses similar to those of the matron of honor, were the sisters of the bride, Patricia A. McCorkle and Mary A. McCorkle of San Rafael.

Best man was Dean Byres of Medford, Ore., and ushers were Gary Mysel and Ronald Lebourdias, both of Naval Air Station Lemoore near Hanford.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Doyle of Sherman Oaks. He was also graduated from high school in Medford, Ore., and is now serving in the Navy as an electronics technician at Naval Station Lemoore.

His grandmother is Mrs. J. P. Doyle of Portland, Ore.

The couple left by car for a three week trip to Washington and Los Angeles following a reception at the church parish hall. They will live in Hanford.

Lawyers' Wives To Install At Lunch In Tweedt Home

Arthur Lebow, president of the Marin County Bar Assn., will install new officers of Lawyers' Wives of Marin tomorrow when the group meets for lunch at the home of Mrs. Lloyd M. Tweedt in Belvedere.

Officers to be installed include Mesdames Francis Walsh, president; Joseph Wilson, vice president; Paul Lamphere, treasurer; Salvatore Bossio, recording secretary; Herbert Chamberlain, corresponding secretary, and Mesdames Hugh Allen, Robert Andresen, John Gunther, Thomas Keating and P. Roy Vallarino, board of directors.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. and will be preceded by a friendship hour.

Architect To Speak At League Picnic

The home of Mrs. John F. Salz at 110 Laurel Grove Ave., Ross, will be the setting for the annual picnic of the League of Women Voters of Central Marin tomorrow.

The picnic will begin at 10:30 a.m. with an hour of swimming, announced Mrs. Edwin Minneman of San Rafael, chairman of the event.

Architect Felix M. Warburg, president of the Marin Planning Council, and a Marin County planning commissioner, will speak on the overlapping jurisdiction between cities and the county in planning matters.

Reports on the League's state convention will be given by Mrs. William C. Anderson of San Anselmo, Mrs. Robert Gicker of Corte Madera, Mrs. Harry Aroyan of San Rafael, Mrs. John Barrows of San Anselmo and Mrs. Minneman.

Catholic Women Set Installation

Mrs. Ralph Tobener of Corte Madera will be installed Thursday evening for her second term as president of the Marin Chapter of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women.

The formal ceremony will take place in St. Raphael's Mission Chapel at 8 p.m. and will be followed by a business meeting and reception in the social hall.

Other new officers to be installed include Mesdames William Ball of San Rafael, first vice president; Rudy Mullins of Corte Madera, second vice president; Aloysius Nathe of San Rafael, third vice president; Lou Schwab of Greenbrae, secretary; Frances Casey of Larkspur, treasurer; Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera, auditor; L. Joseph Keller of Tiburon, historian, and David Vattuone of San Rafael, parliamentarian.

Marin Women

San Rafael Juniors Feted At Tea In McNear Home

Especially honored were the group's new members, Marsha Wilson, Judy Fenton, Robi Blue, Suzi Colombo, Sue Russell, Barbara Carter, Cathy Baker, Jan Prowell and Kathleen Colla. These girls have just finished their orientation and soon will be training in the hospital.

Mrs. Leiton Elder, director of the volunteers, presented service awards to Jane Terry and Judy Lee Elder for 150 hours and 100 hour awards to Sue Zeit and Cindy Wirt.

In addition to the members and their mothers, Mrs. McNear also entertained Mrs. Illeno Bellak, Supervisor of Nursing, Mrs. Georgianna Rogers, registered nurse, and Mrs. W. E. Ball, assistant director of Junior Volunteers.

The occasion also served as a farewell to Judy Herrman who is moving to Portland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Herrman in July.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Once baby passes the mid-year mark, each day sees new skills acquired. While ball-of-fire babies are apt to do things a bit faster than take-it-easy babies, most babies do these things at about these ages:

• 6 to 7 months. Eyes and hands co-ordinate. Hands hold securely, explore eagerly—eyes examine intently. Sitting up starts, rolling over is easy now.

• 8 to 9 months. Creeping comes into its own. Cup feeding usually handled reasonably well. Can switch objects from hand to hand.

Toothsome tale. Teething really starts in earnest after the 6-months mark. Gerber Teething Biscuits are extra-hard and waffle-surfaced to give baby the biting satisfaction he wants and needs. Scalloped edges make them easy to grasp and hold.

Toothsome treat with built-in nutrition and fun. Gerber Animal-Shaped Cookies for toddlers have twice as much protein as most other cookies, plus B-vitamins in the icing. Crunchy to munch, fun to look at and figure out animal names. (With your help, of course.)

Helping hand division. The baby who is encouraged to try things within his capabilities will reward you with a good progress report. The baby who is urged beyond his limits may lose his desire to try.

Vegetable review. Many different vegetables help build good food habits at an age when food acceptances are most easily established. Gerber offers wonderful vegetable variety with 9 strained and 6 junior choices. All are famous for garden-true colors and flavors. All are specially processed to preserve the utmost in precious food values. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Governor Signs Highway Numbering Law—Whoopie!

We hope you'll forgive us if we give a little—no, a big loud cheer, a whoopie, and indulge in a little back slapping.

The reason? Governor Brown has just signed SB 64 (Collier D, Yreka) and it will become law in September.

SB 64 is the highway numbering law. For years we have been complaining about the numerous numbers assigned to each of our highways. There were federal numbers, state sign route numbers, state highway numbers, county numbers, and a couple of miscellaneous numbers. One highway could have three or four numbers applied to it.

Now some of the confusion will be eliminated.

Did you know that Highway 101 isn't really Highway 101 but Highway 1? And that Highway 1 (the Shoreline Highway) isn't really Highway 1 at all, but Highway 56?

And where they come together at Manzanita the highway with the sign saying 1 isn't?

But it will be. Come September.

Under the new law, Highway 101 is Highway 101 and nothing else; the Shoreline Highway is Highway 1 and nothing else. Good old Highway 40 to Sacramento won't be Highway 40 any more, however. It will be Highway 80. But we'll get used to the new numbers before too long. No more stack of roadside numbers to worry about.

We'll bet the Division of Higways is tickled to death by the passage of this new law. Not only will it simplify their records—they had to keep all the duplicating numbers from duplicating the road projects—but now they'll have us off their backs, on this at least. We've been there for years, yelling and screaming that something should be done.

Something has! Whoopie!!!

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Women Give Better Speeches Than Men Because They Don't Wander

After nearly 10 years of reporting, I have finally figured out why women give better public speeches than men.

Certainly there are some men who will disagree with my thesis. They will argue at a drop of a gavel that women speak no better than men. These arguments will be full of round, fullsome phrases and hot air.

I have covered coroner's inquests, school boards, city councils, planning commissions, political conventions, murder trials, farm bureaus and revival meetings. At any one of them, when a woman gets up to speak, she makes the men look like oafs with straw in their mouths.

EVEN WITH AN overwhelming handicap like a silly pink hat hung with blue flowers, the women will walk away with the honors.

Practitioners of the arcane art of public speaking make much ado about acoustics, digestion, hardness of seats and ventilation as factors in keeping the attention of their audience.

Women do not give a hang about such things. They just give speeches that are more interesting.

This is not through any superior intellect. In fact, the secret that I have finally divined might be described as a lack of ability. Or perhaps it is a lack of concern. At any rate, it is a blessed lack.

WOMEN ARE SIMPLY unable to wander far from specific things. Abstract thoughts and phrases are as foreign to them as the plumbing under the sink or the engine under the hood.

Men, on the other hand, take pompous pride in such vacuous phrases as "spheres of operation," "contemporary phenomenon," and "innate ability."

A woman will take such phrases and dunk them in the dishwater. If the phrases dissolve, as most of them do, she is content to let them gurgle down the drain with the rest of the suds. No vague phrases for her.

A "sphere of operation" to a woman quickly becomes a place with walls and windows or an area with signs saying city limits at its borders. "Contemporary phenomenon" fast turn into hard facts, and something as vague as "innate capacity" is reduced at once to the score written in red pencil across her son's most recent test paper in mathematics.

Men like to generalize, to concoct phrases intended to embrace many things. To a man, the ability to make such meaningless phrases is one of life's comforts.

WOMEN ARE comfortable only with specific things. If it won't iron, wash, shake or sweep, women suspect it. And their suspicion in this era of vague English falls like a cold shower.

This is why they give better speeches. They do not spew out high sounding, drifting phrases that even the most alert cannot grasp. They talk about things that can be seen, smelled, touched and heard. The result is that listeners keep their eyes, noses and ears open.

A woman's speech is full of anecdotes. She does not leave her listeners with concepts and theories. She leaves them with experiences.

OF COURSE, because women like details and examples, they always talk longer than men. They have more to say.

A man, told to talk 20 minutes, talks 20 minutes and sits down. Women, however, always ignore the intimidation of time. After 20 minutes they are hardly started. They will not finish for 40 more minutes. Who can stop them?

Who wants to stop them? Not I.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HAT WAS WORN ONCE TOO OFTEN

One burglar was so fond of his new hat that he wouldn't take it off even during his illegal escapades.

This attachment proved to be his undoing. When he was in the midst of one of his "jobs," crouching behind the counter in a super-market, a passer-by noticed that a hat seemed to be suspended in mid-air. Since the store was officially closed, he became suspicious and called police. "The man with the hat" was arrested on a burglary charge.

Lawbreakers don't usually provide authorities with such obvious clues to their identities and whereabouts.

But even if a criminal succeeds in getting away with almost every misdeed, the day of reckonin will come upon him. It may not be in this life, but he will never elude the accounting each of us will be asked to give in the next.

Instead of cheating yourself and others by an unhealthy attachment to things on earth, use your God-given talent to serve others in a constructive manner.

(1 Corinthians 1:31)

Turn even my shortcomings to good account, O Lord, and let my every action be in tune with Your Holy Will.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On May 15, the Independent-Journal reports that I stated before the Greater Novato Chamber of Commerce board meeting on Monday in reference to the proposed relocation of Highway 1 in southern Marin, "A straight, wide highway would serve the public much better and not detract from the scenery of the area."

This is not true.

What I did say was, "What the Redwood Empire Association has asked of the Highway Commission, and all that we have ever asked, is to provide us with a safe highway." What the engineers call it, where it is built or how it is built is not in our province.

What your paper did not state, is that it was properly moved, seconded and so ordered that a committee be appointed to discuss this matter further with me at a future date.

F. P. MYER,
Chairman, Shoreline Highway Assn.
Point Reyes Station.

Discrimination Still Practiced

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

With the celebration of National Realtor Week congratulations are in order for the real estate community of Marin. I learned from the Real Estate Board that property valued at $47,801,835 was sold through multiple listing alone in 1962. The magnitude of this figure testifies to both the realtors' accomplishments and their responsibilities.

Yet, in the midst of this flourishing and essential commerce there remains an ugly problem: Discrimination against members of minority groups in the purchase and rental of property in Marin.

There are some who are quick to blame Marin realtors almost entirely for this situation. Such an indictment is patently unfair in my opinion; certainly we must all share the responsibility.

It is apparent, however, that the Marin real estate community is vulnerable to the charge that it has provided little leadership in seeking solutions to the problem.

In lieu of informing the community of the extent of the evil, the Marin County Real Estate Board adopts pious reaffirmations of the status quo (such as appeared in the I-J awhile back). As a substitute for proposing voluntary action, the Board consistently opposes any proposed legislation. While extolling the praises of multiple listing, it appears oblivious to the sins of multiple discrimination.

For any citizen of Marin to either deny or ignore the housing reality for minorites in this county is, to say the least, to be badly uninformed. For the realtors to do so is a tragic irresponsibility.

It is neither my right nor my purpose to castigate the realtors for the ills of society. This letter is simply a plea from one concerned resident that they begin to exert the leadership responsibility which is theirs.

If they do, they will have the immediate support of countless organizations and individuals in Marin; and some day they will deserve the respect and gratitude of us all.

Never Can Repay Doctors, Nurses

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently I was at Ross General Hospital for the fourth time (the fifth at the hospitals of Marin). I was well treated, well served and well fed at both Marin General and Ross General. I paid my bills and gave a box of candy, each time, to the nurses—God bless them. But I feel that one can never pay those devoted doctors and nurses, etc. . . .

No Applause After Invocation

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to see this complaint in print as I think it very important.

My Christian education has always taught that an audience does not applaud after the invocation as they did at the Little League ceremony last Sunday in Fairfax.

Another thing I would like help in is, my son found a wedding ring while digging in the yard. It is engraved B.A.L. to C.M. 8/4/07.

I have no need for the ring and thought perhaps the person or family would like it back. I have no idea how long the ring has been here or how to get it back to the owner.

Thanks for any help you may give on these two things.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

What's McCarthy Doing Running Off To Washington Right Now?

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Marin Senator Jack McCarthy is off for Washington today with Richard M. Nixon for major policy discussions with Republican state and national leaders. It seems a fair question to ask, "What's he doing back in Washington when everything's starting to boil in Sacramento?"

The fact is this legislative session has been a most unusual one for Senator McCarthy. First, he is the Senate minority leader, a position he is taking very seriously. Second, he has in the lower house a young co-worker (Assemblyman Bill Bagley) on whom he can rely and in whom he has confidence. Thus almost without exception all legislation dealing directly with Marin County problems has been introduced by Bagley rather than McCarthy — by agreement.

At the start of the session McCarthy predicted such activity on his part. "I'm not going to have bills, I'm going to be sort of a watch-dog," he said last Janauary. He's been that, nipping at the heels of the governor and his budget, sometimes sinking his teeth pretty deep.

He has introduced fewer bills by far than in any other legislative session. In short, he's been deeply involved in party leadership problems.

Now he's off to Washington after declaring the "basic ingredients" of a Republican victory in 1964 are "strong organization and vigorous leadership, which we must begin to build now."

McCARTHY WANTS to furnish that leadership. Not only that, but when he speaks of 1964, he's also thinking about 1966.

McCarthy is going to be in the middle of the presidential campaign next year, there is no doubt about that, even though he will have his own campaign for re-election. But he's also looking ahead two years to the time when state offices will again come before the voters.

McCarthy has hired young, able Sandy Quinn, who's been through the rigors of a statewide gubernatorial campaign with Nixon. Quinn is working from McCarthy's Sacramento office. This isn't a state job. Quinn's not a "legislative aide" or any of those euphonious, ambiguous state titles. It's hard to determine what Quinn's title is.

QUINN IS BEING paid entirely out of McCarthy's own pocket. About the closest you can come to a title for him would be "campaign manager."

But then, what is McCarthy running for? Quinn's job certainly has nothing to do with the senator's re-election campaign. He does arrange talks and interviews for the senator. On one recent day the senator did five TV appearances, half a dozen radio bits, and interviews with nearly that many newspapers and their editors.

Where was all this? In Los Angeles.

McCarthy's office is grinding out press releases regularly. But most of them are time for metropolitan papers. Quinn hasn't contacted the I-J once since he's been on the job.

SO YOU ASK McCarthy what he's running for. He grins, and he says:

"I learned last time (when he ran for lieutenant governor) that it's no use running for anything but the top."

End of speculation.

10 YEARS AGO

Five San Anselmo city councilmen denied allegations that official stupidity had created an "obnoxious" traffic situation, telling Supreme Court Justice Jesse Carter of Sleepy Hollow that some stop signs have been ordered down on Butterfield Road and that a Miracle Mile speed limit was set by the state according to the number of buildings on the street.

20 YEARS AGO

Parallel parking was recommended by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce as a means of relieving traffic congestion on A Street between Third and Fourth streets and D Street between Third Street and Fifth Avenue, considered prime bottlenecks.

Marin County yachtsmen were told they couldn't go on pleasure cruises without Coast Guard cards, regarded as a form of passport and requiring photo, fingerprints and birth certificate.

Play producer Josh Logan's mother Susan, who comes from the deep South and reveres its every tradition, was taken aback a bit when, early in World War II, the son of a fine old family she knew was drafted. She rallied, however, when she heard that he was receiving his basic training in Fort Bragg, North Carolina. "How nice for him to be in that part of North Carolina," she nodded, "at rhododendron time!"

John Straley tells of a perpetually hungry couple on a cross-country motor trip who stopped at an inviting inn, stuffed themselves to the gills, and then drove over for a look at the Grand Canyon. "That certainly was a marvelous gorge," said the husband as they back away from the rim. "That's right," agreed his wife, "but between you and me, I wish I'd had room for one more portion of that delicious pie a la mode."

Charles Chaplin, in an unusually mellow mood in Switzerland, told an interviewer, "A comedian must never let his audience feel that he himself, thinks he's being amusing. The audience is PEEKING at him. He's got to play his part seriously and honestly—or he'll soon be forgotten."

Not Only Is Rockefeller Running But He's Stepping Up The Campaign

WASHINGTON — Republican politicians, who have been wishfully hoping that Nelson Rockefeller would sidetrack himself because of his remarriage, are in for a surprise.

Governor Rockefeller is not in the least thinking about stepping aside. What is more, there is good reason to report that he will shortly step up the timetable of his drive for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller is quite aware that his divorce and remarriage have raised some doubts about his ability to get the nomination and to win, if nominated.

But he does not accept the view that these doubts will be of long duration. He is known to feel that they are now being exploited by those who are against his nomination anyway, and he believes they will be substantially dissolved before long.

MANY OF HIS closest advisers are convinced that it is important for the governor to declare his candidacy openly sooner than he otherwise intended in order that apparent uncertainty on his part cannot be used against him.

This suggests an acceleration of the Rockefeller campaign timetable and an earlier willingness on his part to let his backers in different parts of the country begin active and overt efforts to line up delegates.

Rockefeller does not accept the view that any substantial segment of public opinion will long be disposed to punish him politically because of his remarriage.

PART OF THE basis for this conviction is that his headquarters in New York is receiving an unabated number of requests from party leaders throughout the nation to speak and to appear at important fund-raising dinners.

Neither George Hinman, Republican national committeeman from New York, nor other Rockefeller intimates are yet authorizing his volunteer supporters to start organizing on a nationwide basis. But they are continuing to receive numerous such requests. They are not only being welcomed, but in each instance quiet low-key activity is being encouraged.

My information is that after the governor returns from his wedding trip in Venezuela, things will begin to move. There will be a new intensity to the campaign and it will rest on these premises:

THAT ROCKEFELLER is going all out for the nomination.

That he is not going to be deterred by those—Republicans or Democrats—who want to use his remarriage against him.

That on the basis of his experience in the federal government and on his record of governor of New York State, he can make the most effective campaign and the strongest case against the Kennedy administration.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Try Using Notrump Principles When Your Trumps Run Short

It's normal to watch your stoppers carefully at a notrump contract since the opponent's long suit is a very familiar danger.

You must follow the same principles at a trump contract when your trumps look as though they may not last.

Declarer took the ace of diamonds, knocked out the ace of hearts, ruffed the diamond return, and drew the rest of the trumps ending in dummy.

LED QUEEN

Then he led the queen of spades for a finesse.

West won with the king of spades and returned another diamond to punch out South's last trump. Now South could not set up the queen of clubs, for East saved the king of clubs and a diamond to defeat the contract.

South made his mistake when he started the spades after drawing trumps. The correct play is to tackle the clubs first.

KING NEEDED

South must find one black king in East's hand to make the contract. If East has the king of spades, the spade finesse will work whether South takes it early or late.

If South leads a low club from dummy immediately after drawing trumps, East takes the king of clubs and leads a diamond to punch out South's last trump.

SOUTH HOME

West wins with the king of spades but cannot lead a diamond. Now South is home.

If East has the king of spades, it is not an entry.

If East has the king of clubs, it is an entry.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 21, the 141st day of 1963 with 224 to follow.

The moon is approaching new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1832, what is considered to be the first Democratic National convention got under way at Baltimore.

In 1941, a German submarine sank the U.S. merchant ship Robin Moor in Mid-Atlantic.

A thought for the day — English poet Chaucer said: "Boasters by nature are from truth aloof."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

No one likes to have an unattractive blemish on the skin, especially on the face. When a lesion is not amenable to treatment or removal, the alternatives are to forget it or conceal it with cosmetics. The application of a covering preparation usually lessens embarrassment and enables the man or woman to carry on.

Most creams of this type are made by cosmeticians who are experts in formulating suitable mixtures for use in camouflaging blemishes. This is not easy because it takes a preparation that covers and spreads well, to create a natural appearance. It must be durable and compatible, especially for women.

A BRITISH dermatologist used a new English product (Keromask) on 50 men and women with skin disorders that could not be corrected. One of his patients was a 16-year-old girl with a large pigmented birthmark involving the right side of her face and neck. There is little doubt, from her pictures in the British Medical Journal, that the covering of cream improved her appearance.

The dermatologist found that a number of shades are needed to do the job right Four pigments are essential: a white and a brown masking cream to hide the blemish and a red and honey-colored toning product to cover and color the layer of masking cream so it blends with the surrounding skin.

BY CAREFUL formulation, the end product contains up to 60 per cent of the pigment. It leaves no grease when rubbed into the skin, has a natural look for men, and can be covered with a layer of powder by woman.

The user must apply the creams separately. The brown base is spread on first when the skin is pale or pink, whereas the white base is employed for yellow or tanned skin. Then the toning cream is rubbed in to acquire the flesh tint. Some women go a step further and utilize eye make-up to draw attention away from the camouflaged area.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CERVICAL ARTHRITIS

J. H. writes: About a year ago I began getting pain in the spine in the neck region. The doctor says it's arthritis. I take aspirin and hot baths but pain remains. Have you any other suggestions?

REPLY

Exercise may be helpful. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on sore neck, which gives specific maneuvers for this type of arthritis.

DRUG WITHDRAWAL

F. D. writes: What are the symptoms after sleeping tablets are stopped?

REPLY

Withdrawal symptoms occur only in those who have consumed large doses of barbiturates over a long period. Insomnia, weakness, tremor, mental disturbances, or convulsions may ensue when the drug is withdrawn suddenly.

HEART BLOCK

F. C. writes: Is it safe for a person with heart block to travel by auto?

REPLY

It is just as safe as walking on the sidewalk or sitting in a chair at home. The answer depends upon the degree of heart block and whether the organ is beating so slowly that dizziness or faintness occurs on exertion.

LOST IN DREAMS

R. H. writes: I have nightmares quite often in which I can't find my way home. Does this mean something is wrong?

REPLY

No. You may have a conscious or an unconscious fear of not being able to find your way home.

More Advice Given By Supt. Rafferty

Maxwell Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, has more advice for school board presidents on how to run the schools.

Rafferty, in a letter read at the San Rafael Board of Education meeting, said economics should be taught in high school and "worthwhile reading" be offered to students.

Economics is already taught in high schools throughout the county.

Rafferty began by assuring school board presidents that response to his first letter, also addressed to board chairmen, "was generally good."

The first letter came under heavy attack from a number of school boards in Marin. It proposed teaching of phonics and division of social studies into separate classes in history, geography and civics.

"Remember the ground rules," Rafferty advised in his latest epistle. "These are just suggestions, not orders.

"Here are a few more recommendations from me to you:

"Worthwhile reading. The State Department of Education has lists of the 35 'children's classics' and the 35 'children's poems' if you want to write me and ask for them." Rafferty offered no explanation as to who chose the list or why.

"Almost any library can get these for you," he continued. "They have always been considered part of the literary birthright of every child over the age of 10. Why not get a list, and see for yourself how many of them are being read and enjoyed by the children of your district?"

Rafferty turned to the subject of report cards. "Let's have them. Parent-teacher conferences are fine, but they can't take the place of regular written reports . . . So let's have subject matter cards based on actual achievement, and with A, B, C, D and F grades (or their equivalent). It's all right to grade such intangibles as 'aptitude,' 'promptness,' too, but usually the subject matter grades tell the most important story."

Finally, Rafferty proposed that economics be taught in high school as a final semester in the senior year in place of "senior problems." "My department is working on units and courses of study in this vital subject right now," he said. "We should have them ready by midsummer, along with recommended textbooks.

"A postscript to my first letter to you," Rafferty concluded. "Quite a few of you wrote in to say you were puzzled about Phonics. You couldn't quite tell whether your schools were really teaching it or not. My office now has a brief, simple mailer you can have for the asking, with three short questions anyone can use to find out whether or not Phonics is being emphasized or merely being accorded lip-service."

Park, Rec Program Will Be Discussed

A review of Marin County's parks and recreation program and a "long-range view of the future" will be discussed by the county parks and recreation commission tomorrow at 2 p.m. in room 413 in the Civic Center.

Kelvin J. Nelson, new parks and recreation director, will present a review of the 1943 master plan for parks in the county, subsequent committee reports, the present system, and potentials.

Commissioners will also discuss open area zoning for county land and programs and facilities for senior citizens.

12 Terra Linda Seniors Win Cash Awards

Twelve Terra Linda High School seniors won $100 cash awards for outstanding achievement in the school's various departments yesterday at a special assembly.

Nativity Scene Not Coming Back

Member of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce commitee yesterday decided that the chamber's Nativity scene is not worth recovering and that they would let the Castro Valley Chamber of Commerce keep it.

The scene was taken Wednesday by mistake when the Christmas decorations used on San Rafael streets last Christmas season were picked by the Castro Valley chamber. The chamber had bought the street garlands but not the scene.

Jack Phillips, San Rafael chamber manager, said that the Castro Valley chamber would be asked to send a check for what it thought the scene was worth. Plans were made to buy a new scene for display on the courthouse lawn this Christmas.

Demos To Hear Resources Aide

Hugo Ficher, administrator of the State Resources Agency, will speak at a meeting of Marin County Democrats Monday at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ruth Lederman, 16 Treetop Way, Kent Woodlands.

Fisher will talk about natural resources and the current session of the state legislature.

Marin College Students Voting

Balloting was held yesterday and today from noon to 2 p.m. on the brick steps of Harlan Hall.

A new president, vice president and six other positions will be filled, including that of cheer leading team, for which only one three-student entry is running.

All other candidates are running unopposed except in the race for public relations commissioner, with three candidates.

Trip To Russia To Be Topic At Church Meet

Dr. Russell W. Bernhard and W. O. Weissich, both of San Rafael, will talk about their visit to Russia last summer with other Marin men at a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the parish hall at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

The program, sponsored by the Episcopal Church Women of St. Paul's, is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Italy is slightly larger than Arizona and contains more than 50 million people.

Nothing to buy, even built-in electric refrigerator and freezer included. Three bedrooms, two baths, family room with ½ bath. Complete GE kitchen unit. Drapes and wall to wall carpeting. Home only 6 years old, in FINE condition, situated in area of newer homes. Can move in on close of escrow. Ask for Mr. Butler, eves. and Sunday, GL 3-5518.

Exclusive $24,500

Try $1,500 Down

Imagine, an apartment that is already rented for $125 a month with two-car garage, PLUS office space that should rent for $80 to $85 per month. This is commercially zoned on Fourth Street.

Exclusive—$25,000

Try 10% Down

Owner in South America, must sacrifice his almost new four bedroom, two bath home with full electric, large family room, sliding glass doors from living room onto sunny patio. Basic landscaping done. Fine family area close to schools. Near large shopping area. Home vacant, can give occupancy at once.

Exclusive—$35,000

Country Villa

This distinctive 4 bedroom, 3 bath Florentine villa style offers everything for a growing family. Master bedroom unit has own bath with private dressing room. The living room and dining room are both generous sized. A complete electric kitchen with fine custom cabinets adjoins the large breakfast room. There is a separate maid's room with half bath and a huge recreation room. The outside area is dominated by three delightful patios.

Price—$69,500

Exceptional

True elegance in this beautiful executive's residence. Situated in a prestige area on almost a one-acre site that provides one of Marin's most commanding views. The luxury of the interior appointments is evident as you step through the door. There are 4 large bedrooms and 2 baths on one level. The very expensive deep pile wall to wall carpeting and custom drapes are by W. J. Sloan. The modern electric kitchen with expensive appliances and built-ins will meet even the most exacting demands. Shown by previous appointment.

Col. Gronbeck Will Retire With Honors

Col. Christian Gronbeck of 167 Vista Grande, Greenbrae, closing his 20-year Army medical career, will be honored at retirement ceremonies at the Presidio of San Francisco Friday.

During World War II he was awarded the Silver Star for heroism, the Bronze Star Medal and the Purple Heart for wounds. Assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division in the Southwest Pacific, he advanced from battalion surgeon to division surgeon.

For seven months he was loaned to the Australian government to help treat ailing natives in the Manus Los Negros island group. During this time he lived in grass huts and travelled via outrigger canoes.

Colonel Gronbeck, a native of Dexter, Me., plans after retirement to engage in the private practice of internal medicine with the Marin Medical Group in San Rafael.

Resignation Of Teacher On Agenda

The resignation of Roland C. Samet, sixth grade teacher at Deer Park School and Fairfax recreation director, will be acted on by Fairfax School District trustees today at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of Manor School.

Samet said he had advised the city recreation commission of his resignation from his recreation post. The commission did not report the resignation to the city council at the council's last meeting.

Samet said his resignation would be effective from the recreation post at the end of the summer recreation program on Aug. 16. He plans to visit relatives in England and tour Europe.

Also on the school board's agenda is a request for bus service from Fawn Ridge to the Meadow Club, discussion of the district's building program, and formation of a Fairfax Chapter of the California Teachers Assn.

Four other resignations will be considered. They are: Miss Joan Boysen, Manor School second grade teacher; Mrs. Rosemari Zumwalt, fifth grade Manor School teacher; Miss Carol Wlodkoski, eighth grade Central School teacher and Mrs. Rosalie Kelly, Deer Park School secretary.

Eight Students In Poster Finals

Eight Marin County students have been named premilinary award winners in the Redwood Region Conservation Council's "Forest Fire Prevention: Keep Our Forests Green" poster contest.

The final awards will be made from all the winners of the preliminary awards, all of whom received pens.

On Radio Station

Three Marin County residents appeared on radio station KXKX-FM's program "The Adolescent Revolt" at 8 p.m. Sunday. They were Toni Banducci, Redwood High School senior; Miss Celia Walker, caseworker for the Family Service Agency of Marin County, and Dr. Philip S. Hicks, psychiatrist.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Gardening Supplies Selling Good; Marinites Seem To Love Outdoors

If the following is true, you'd never know it in Marin. A recent report on the outdoor living market relates that many so-called garden enthusiasts really dislike gardening. It contends that "they are driven by such motives as the search for status, competition with their neighbors and the desire for self expression."

Local nurseries, hardware stores and other retail outlets don't think so. There is more sales traffic in plowers, plants and gardening equipment, they claim, than ever before, and Marin must have been omitted from the survey.

Judging from yard activity observed around the county this last weekend, we're inclined to agree. And those doing the work actually seemed to enjoy it.

AUTO GLASS and installation department of Fuller Trimview, San Rafael, is being purchased by Isadore J. Tamres of San Francisco from Texas Aluminum Co., Inc. Tamres will take over its operation by June.

MAIN PRIZE of Dexter's TV new store in Novato was won by Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Slagill of that city. It was a color television set.

Sanford

Richard Sanford (known in Marin but not a resident) has been made vice president and manager of Sherman Clay's entire Northern California operations.

RUSSELL RALSTON of Corte Madera has been selected by the Western Merchandise Mart of San Francisco to redesign its seventh floor for home furnishings.

INSURANCE MEN. New York Life field underwriters Fay H. Blair, Donald P. Sands Jr., Douglas R. Tangen and Bernard R. Whitehill in San Rafael have been taking advanced courses in underwriting at Berkeley . . . A. A. (Hank) Henrie of the Corte Madera office of Equitable Life was judged leading agent of his company, based on premiums during April.

COMMON STOCK of General Telephone and Electronics Corp. became fully listed on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange today. It was previously admitted to unlisted trading privileges. General's subsidiaries comprise the largest independent telephone system in the U.S.

Among other companies that have transferred from unlisted privileges to full listings on the West Coast exchange are Allied Chemical, Corn Products, Ohio Oil, Parke Davis, Union Carbide and Westinghouse Electric.

STATE AND NATIONAL banks in California may sell their checks (money orders) through non-banking outlets if they are agents of the banks concerned, according to an opinion of Attorney General Stanley Mosk. Neither bank nor authorized agent need be licensed as a check seller and cashier.

CECIL ALLEN of San Rafael Bus has planned to extend his Santa Venetia service to the Civic Center from two trips to four trips a day, with departures from Third Street and Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael at 10:30 and 11:40 a.m. and 1:15 and 3:10 p.m. Fare continues at 25 cents.

'Must Be The Place' Held Over Three Weeks

"This Must Be the Place," the Marin Variety Theater production at Sabella's Restaurant, has been held over for three more Saturday nights.

The comedy review has played to more than 2,000 people in the Coral Room of the restaurant, according to theater president Morrie Batz. A special version of the show has also been announced for the Northgate Theater for the Marin Art and Garden Fair July 4.

Pastor Aide To Talk

Rev. Glen Dale Hofstetter, assistant pastor at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Parents Without Partners Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Adaline E. Kent School, Kentfield.

Two At Dominican Win Poster Honors

Two sixth graders from the Dominican Convent Lower School were among prize winners in the 38th annual international poster contest sponsored by the Latham Foundation for the Promotion of Humane Education.

They are Germaine Cliff and Janie Pedroli. Thirty-seven other students of the school received certificates of merit.
